SAY HELLO . . . WAVE GOODBYE"

OPENING 1

Something Old, Something

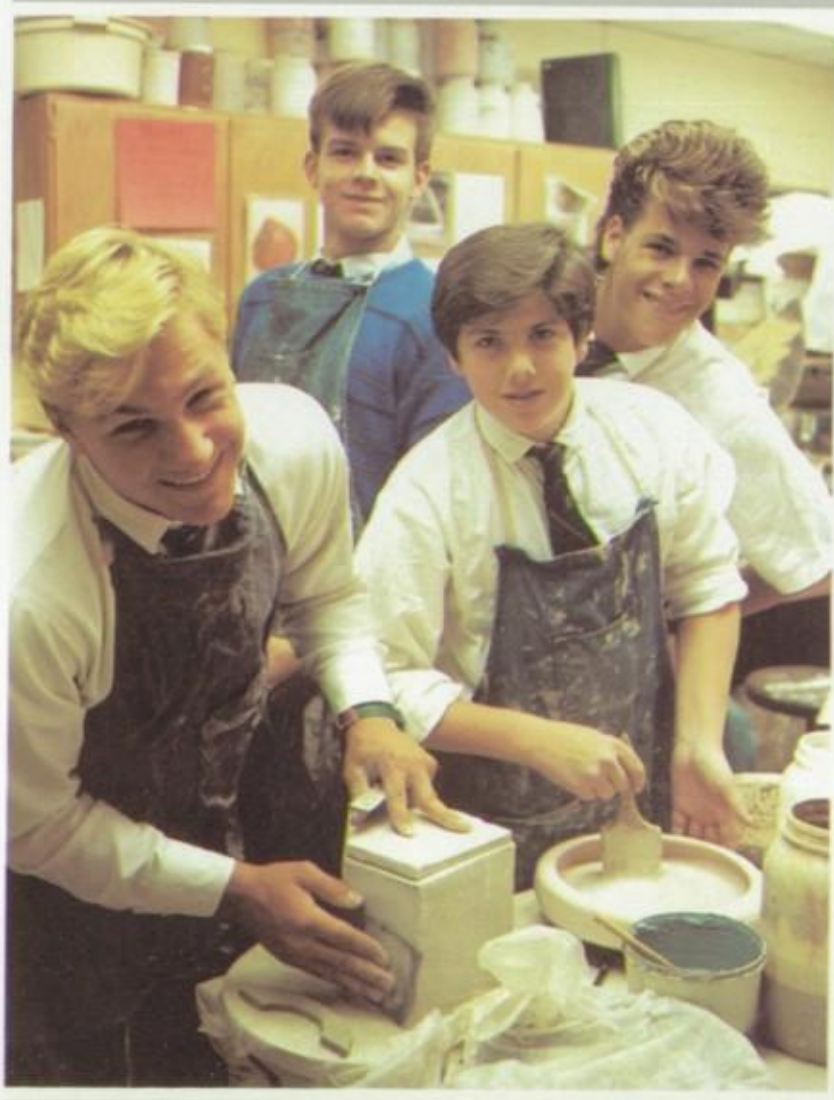

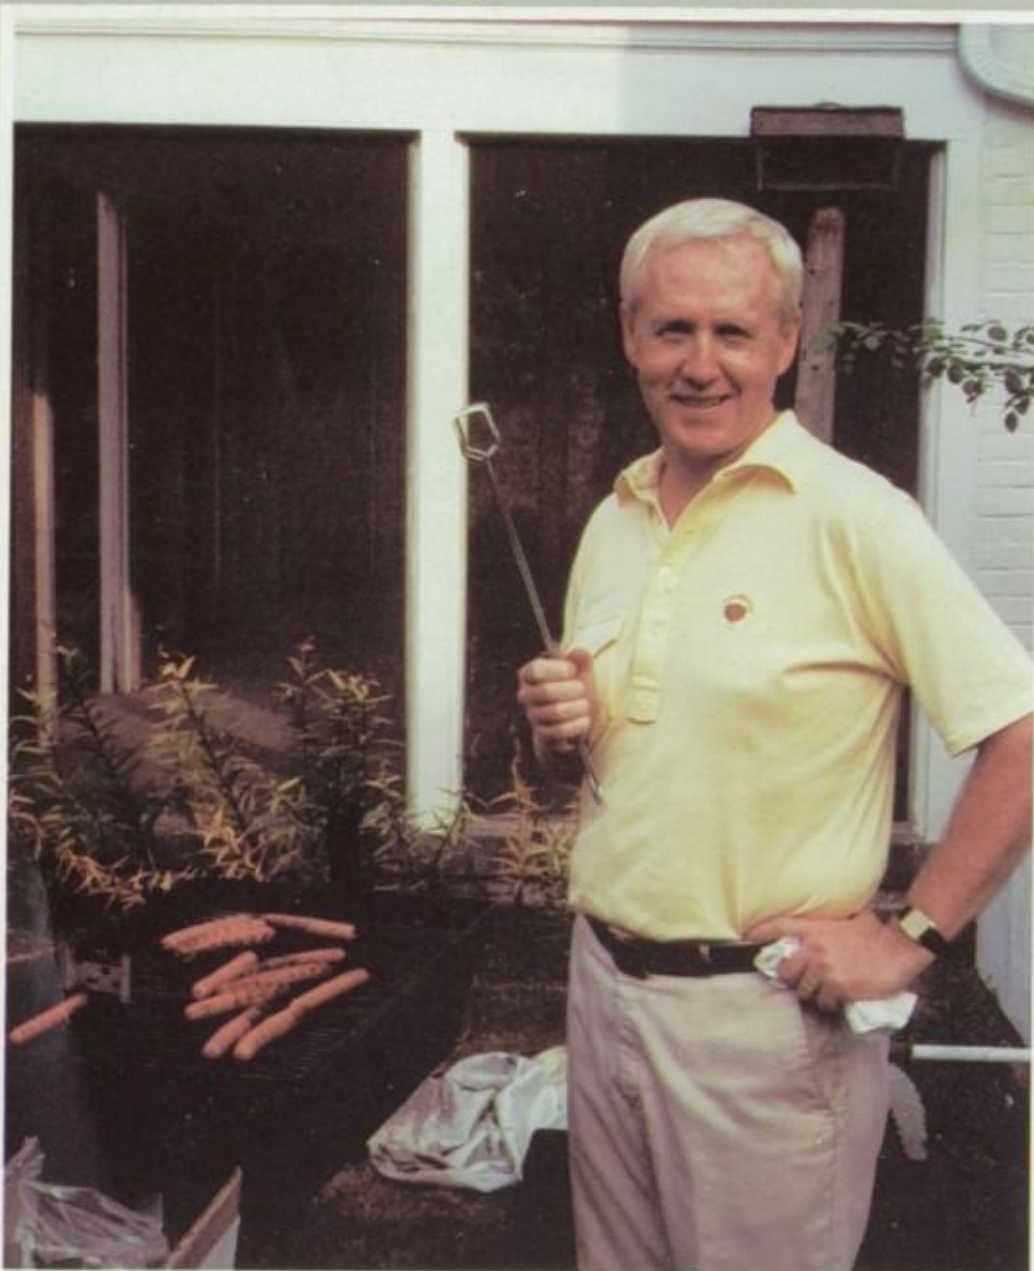

NEW ...

The 1986-87 school year brought about many changes. We, as a school, said Hello to a new Headmaster, Mr. Jerry Hansen, who followed the dedicated Dr. Schlegel. Mr. Hansen introduced many ideas to differentiate this year from the past. The year opened with a letter in which he explained his ideas and the changes in the school.

We welcomed a new campus on 15 Mile near Cranbrook. With this campus, we welcomed a new school, the Junior School. This school, located at the old Lower School campus, encompassed the third, fourth and fifth grades. The new campus, the Lower School, housed pre-school through second grade.

A NEW PROGRAM

Everyone found it easy to bid farewell to the old school lunch system and thankfully greeted the revised program. Goodbye to the frowns and grumbling tummies! With an option of juice, sandwich or salad in addition to the main meal, the lunch room became a popular place bringing smiling faces and full stomachs.

Many existing programs were enhanced this year. Our outside speaker program was increased. The human relations requirement was dropped as the speaker program expanded to include speakers from different religious orders. Students were regularly given the opportunity to interact with local, state and nationally prominent leaders.

Welcoming NEW FACES

In the Upper School, the debate forensics team was reinstated with hopes of renewing the glory of past victories.

Mr. Hansen, due to his experience as a teacher, coach, advisor and administrator, made these changes successes. Typical of the new administration, Mr. Hansen knitted together the entire faculty and student body. Through his close interaction and availability to both the students and faculty, Mr. Hansen encouraged a unified atmosphere. The friends and teachers of the past become fond memories as we develop bonds with our friends and teachers of today.

The Fulfillment of FOUR YEARS

Yearly, new students enter Detroit Country Day School to begin preparation for the future. The confusion and exploration of the first few days turn at length into the numb, empty feeling of the day following commencement. No other years would ever hold so much.

So, as a Senior, one starts to say goodbye to close friends. He realizes that it is time to move on and save the happenings of today for the memories of tomorrow.

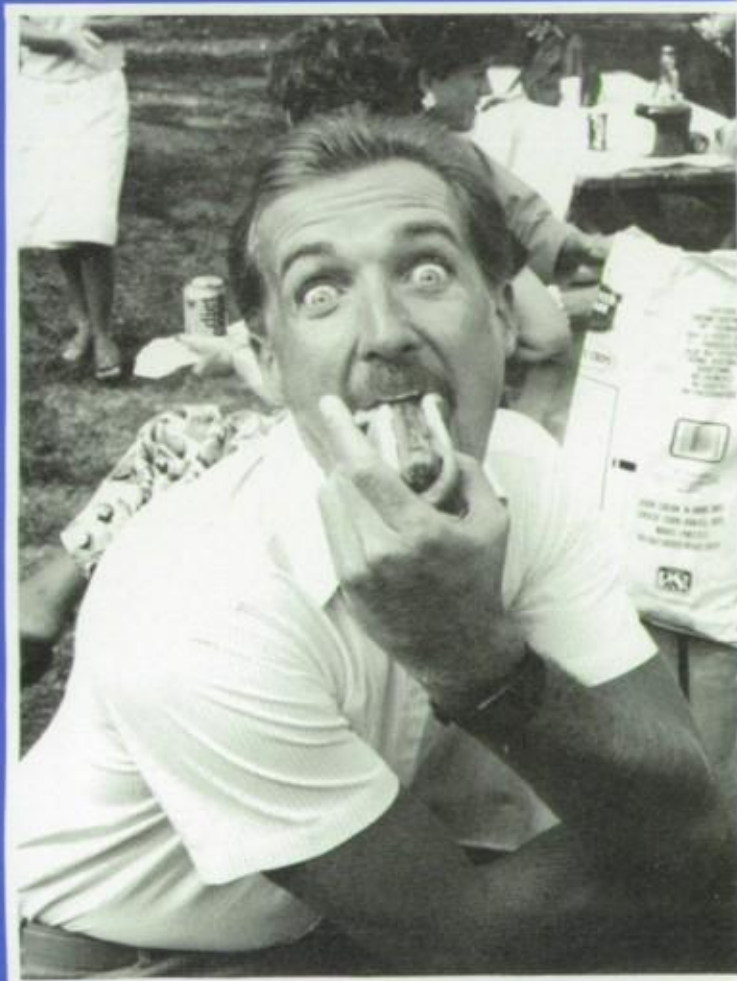

Looking at Freshman year, one remembers the wonder and dismay with the many students and their different personalities, the teachers and their many teaching styles. The Seniors seemed so old and graduation seemed many years away.

Sophomore year, the excuse, "But we're Freshmen," was put on the shelf with one's typing and biology books. Required courses in computer competency continued for some students, and playing a varsity sport was an attainable goal. Driver training was followed by a driver's license — mobile at last! — never mind carpooling with Mom or Dad. The maturity and responsibility of being in HIGH SCHOOL set in.

Four Years To LAUGH AND LEARN

Then, Junior year, pressure from school, from home, and from within motivates one to achieve to his best potential. "Remember, this is the year that counts, the one that colleges watch," is the thought that constantly runs through one's mind. One learns to play the "College Game" as he scrambles to take the SAT and other standardized tests. Then, the last day of Junior year, one catches the infamous "Senioritis Bug". He realizes he will return next fall as the respected Senior, Ruler of the School.

As a Senior, one enjoys the last first day of school, the last Homecoming, the last set of mid-year exams, the last season of fall, winter and spring sports. Everything is more poignant as it is done for the last time. Finally, graduation, caps and gowns, diplomas; it is the end.

From the insanity of football games to the pressure of a challenging academic requirement, the combination adds up to a lifestyle packed with diverse opportunities to work, play, laugh and learn. The good times will stay in one's mind for a lifetime - long after all the exams and homework have faded away.

Good Luck to JERRY HANSEN

On July 1 when Gerald T. Hansen became headmaster, he was no stranger to the Country Day family. His ties to the school include his former position as Assistant Headmaster as well as parent of three recent graduates.

A graduate of Northern Michigan University with a Masters Degree in Mathematics and Computer Science from Rutgers University and Florida State University, Mr. Hansen joined the DCDS staff in 1966. He also served for eight years on the Holly Board of Education.

His wife, Betty, is also an educator, teaching at Holly High School. Mr. Hansen's three children, Jan, '79, Jay, '81, and Jean, '83, all pursue careers in business.

Mr. Hansen has built on the traditions of Country Day while bringing with him his own distinctive style of leadership.

If you get away, you can't be INTERRUPTED!

The Board of Trustees started the 1986-87 school year off with a retreat with the feeling that "if you get away, you can't be interrupted." This summer, July 11-13, the Board of Trustees escaped to the Bay Valley Inn.

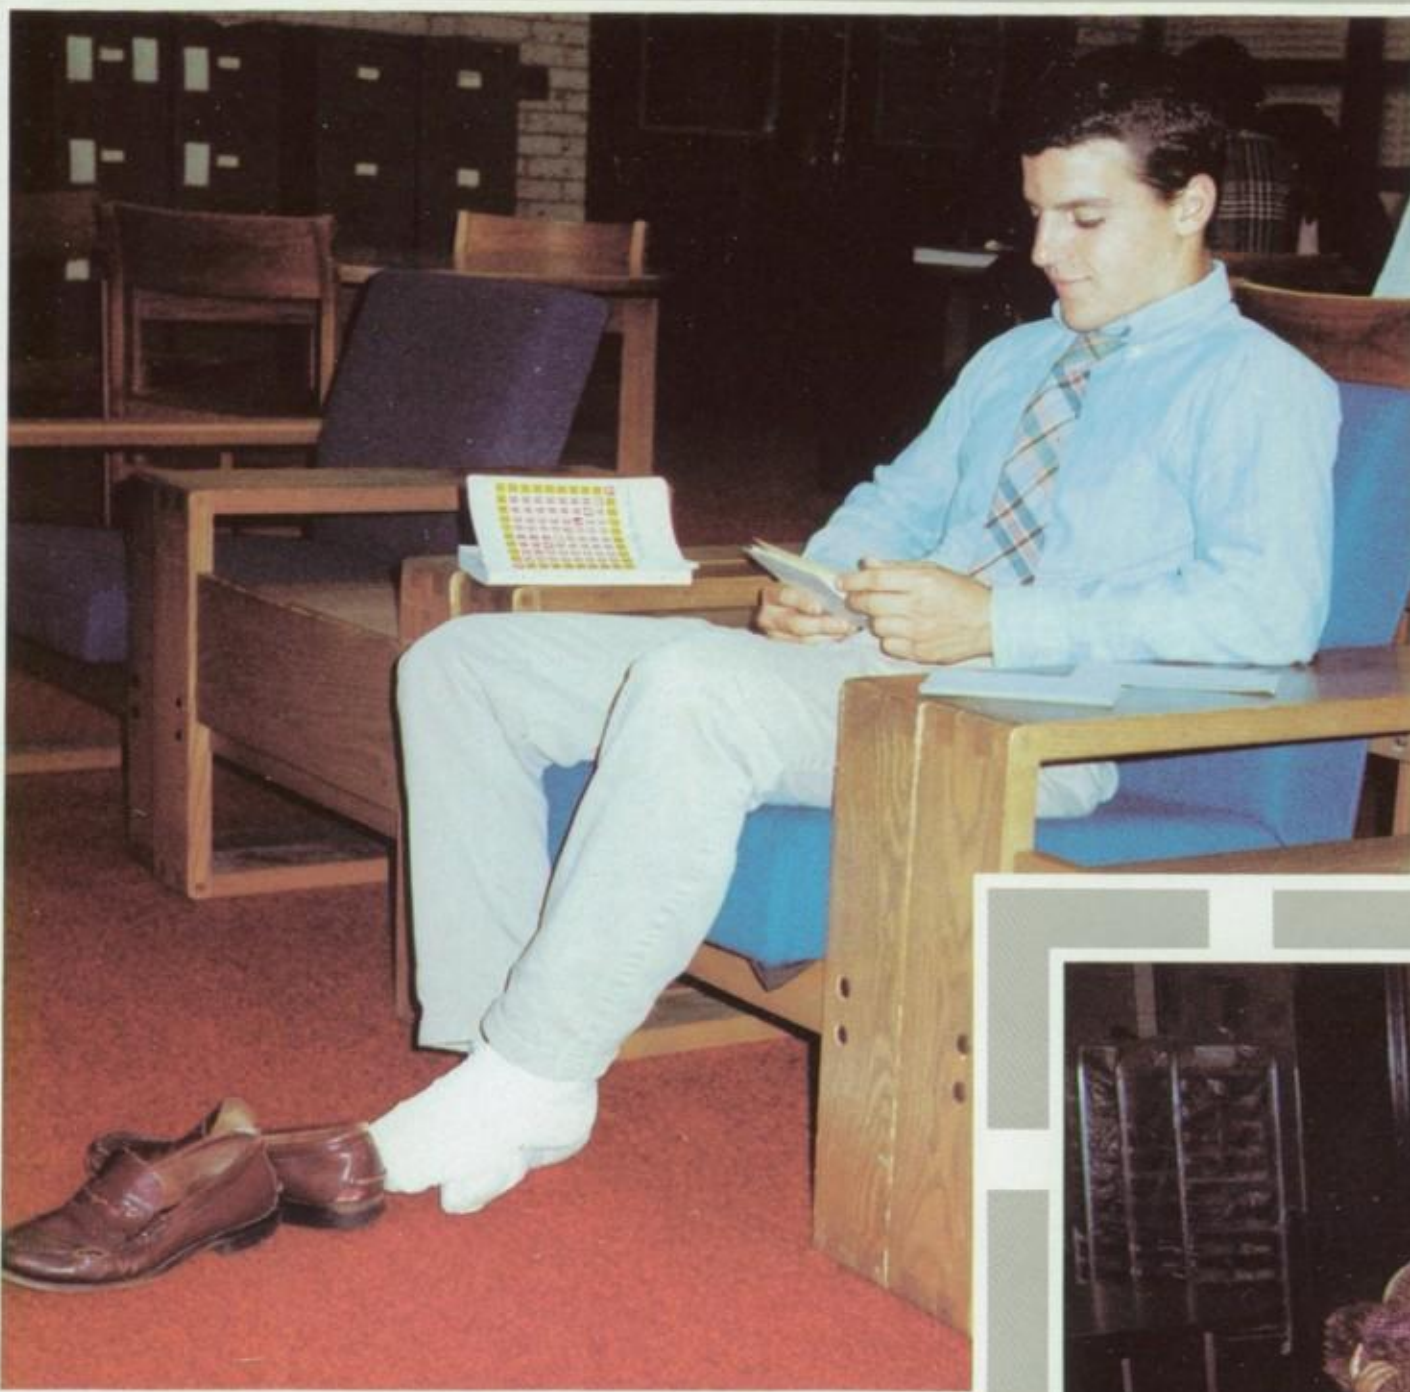

In order to prepare for the up and coming school year, the Board reviewed the operations of the entire school and each of its campuses. They developed a plan for a new middle school and also expanded the core curriculum for each school. The Board also had a chance to get to know Mr. Hansen and his ideas.

The Board benefitted by this retreat because they were "able to have the quality time as well as longer periods of time to discuss issues."

HOMECOMING '86

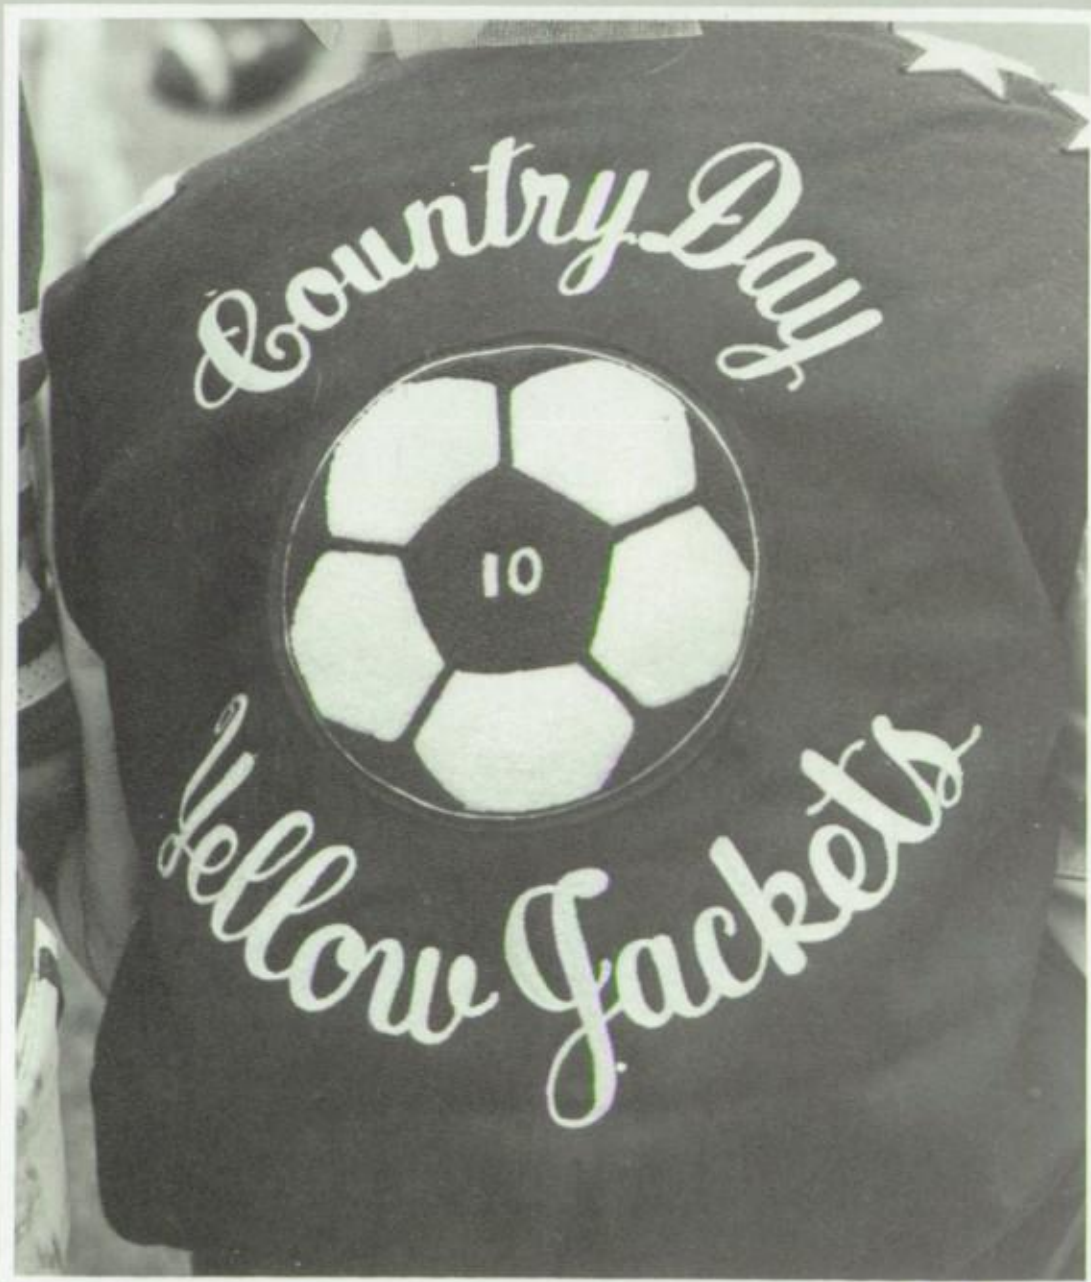

A success

Homecoming this year was a spectacular event. The day began with the First Annual Arts a la Carte, which attracted many people and enlivened the atmosphere. Country Day's football team once again proved their talent and domination when they played Croswell-Lexington and beat them 26-0.

The game was exciting as Country Day played well. The crowd, which included many students and alumni, loudly cheered the team on to victory, demonstrating a lot of spirit. Half-time activities included the traditional "crowning" of the Homecoming King, Nikhil Shah, and Queen, Beth Chen, exemplifying the choice of the student body. Another traditional event during half-time is the Pumpkin Race when each class and alumni participate; the sophomores won this event.

Homecoming brought victories on many fronts. Middle School Basketball, Men's and Women's Cross Country and Field Hockey all garnered victories that weekend.

SCHOLARSHIP BARBECUE '86

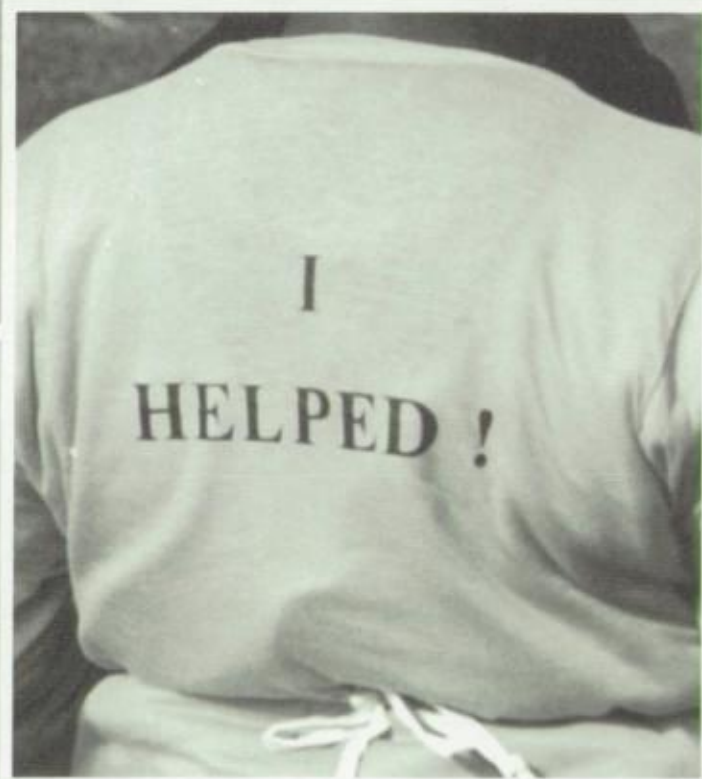

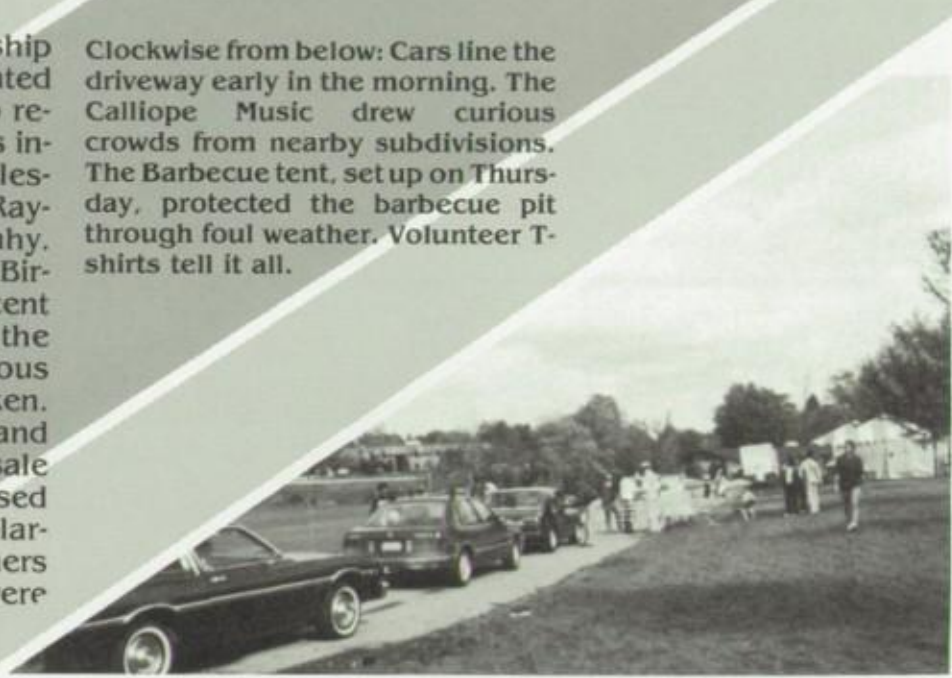

A Succulent Success!

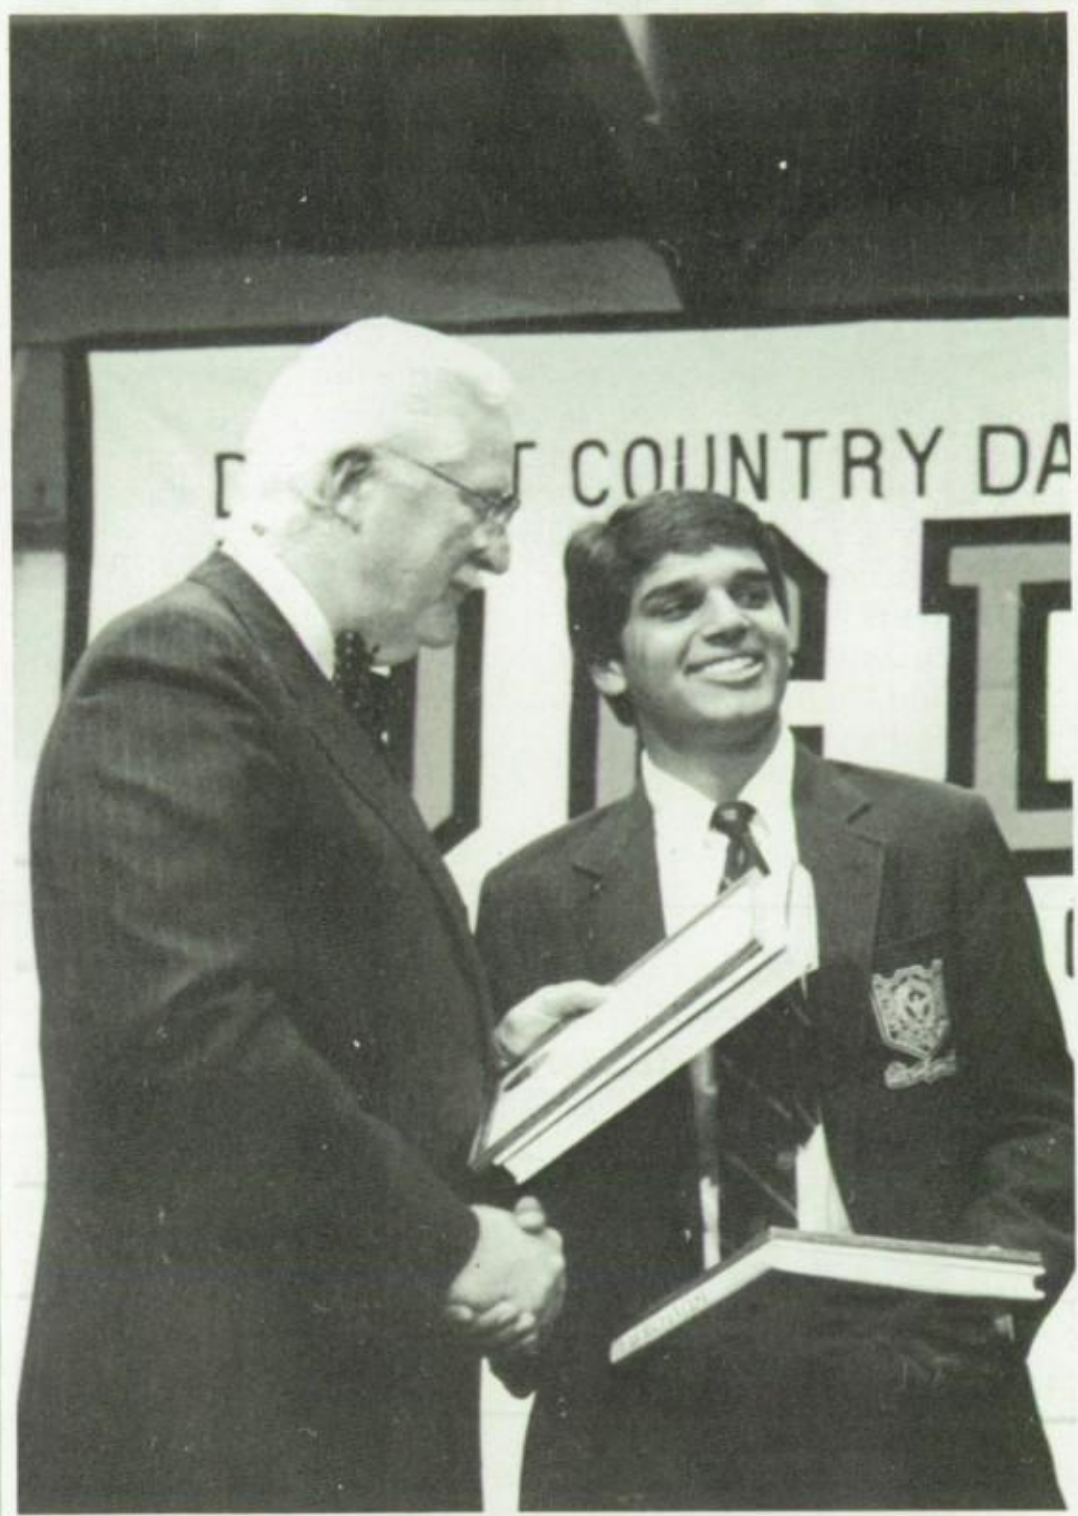

The second annual Scholarship Barbecue, held on Saturday, October 27, was a great success. The event attracted many people who came to support the cause, as well as enjoy the company of friends of Detroit Country Day. "The group spirit and enthusiasm of the committee members and volunteers established a lively atmosphere," according to Mrs. Janet Grant of the Admissions Office. Calliope music was provided by Bob Sellers, and Mr. Greg Thompson, a faculty member, played a roving bagpipe for the event. Parent, faculty, and student help was valuable in setting up tables and serving dinners.

The idea of a scholarship fund-raising event originated with Mr. Kerfoot Lewis, who received support from parents including Mr. and Mrs. Ilio Alessandri, the Frederick Raymonds, and Mr. and Mrs. Leahy. The Scandia Down Shop of Birmingham, owned by a recent alumni family, sponsored the barbecue, featuring delicious barbecued ribs and chicken. Proceeds from the dinners and the accompanying bake sale were directed to a fund used only to provide student scholarships. This year, 2500 dinners were served, and $16,000 were collected for the fund.

STUDENTS AWARDED

For Their Excellence

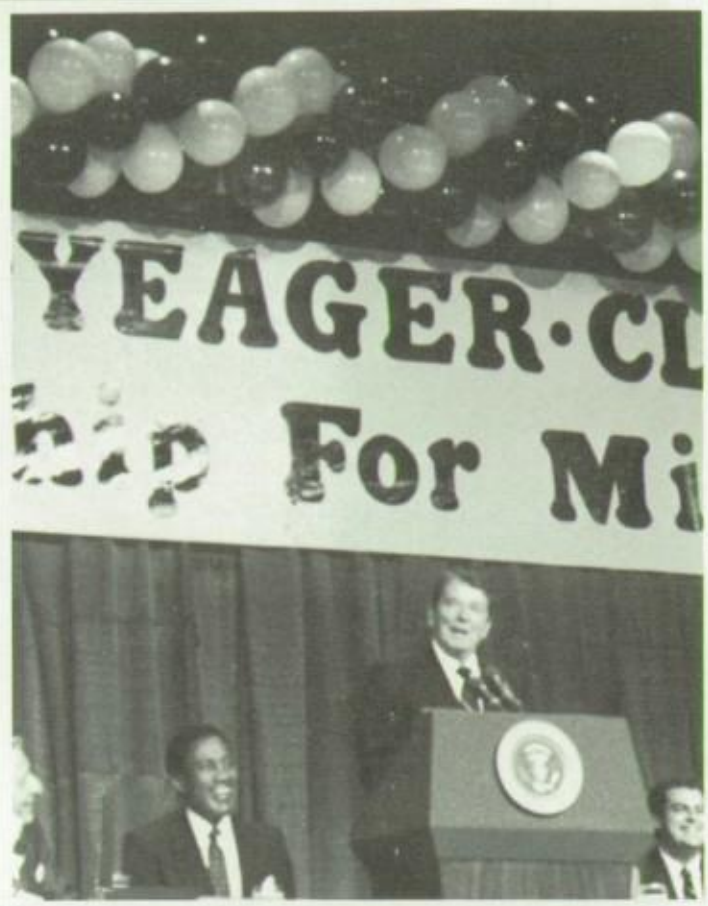

This year, Country Day students demonstrated their excellence by the wealth of awards, and the length of the assembly recognizing their achievements! Students were commended by outside organizations and institutions such as Harvard, Rensselaer, and Michigan Inter-Scholastic Press as well as their faculty and administration.

Among the most prestigious of the awards were the George S. Schlegel Leadership Award, presented to the senior who "evidences the most outstanding academic, intellectual, and moral leadership in the finest tradition of the Country Day Scholar," and the Headmaster's Cup, honoring "a good scholar, outstanding citizen and an athlete of achievement who is respected as well as admired." Recipients of the two awards were, respectively, Clayton Foor and Janet Kim.

All students at Country Day work hard to achieve their goals, and this year scored an average SAT of 1160, the highest average of local private schools.

U PPER SCHOOL

Activities and Events

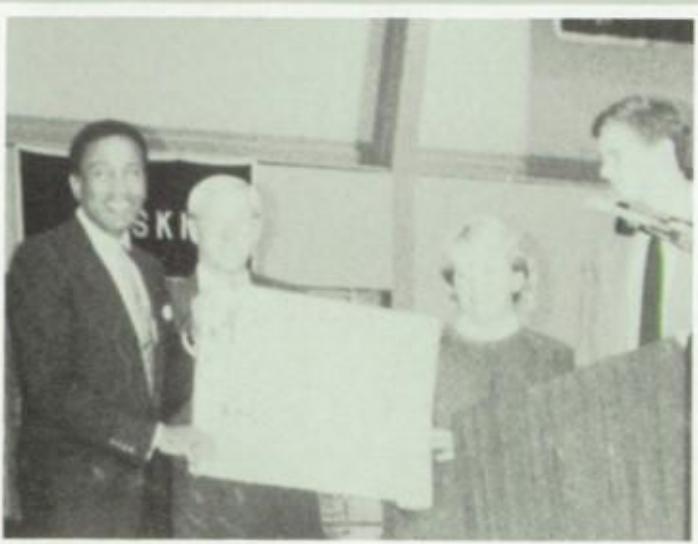

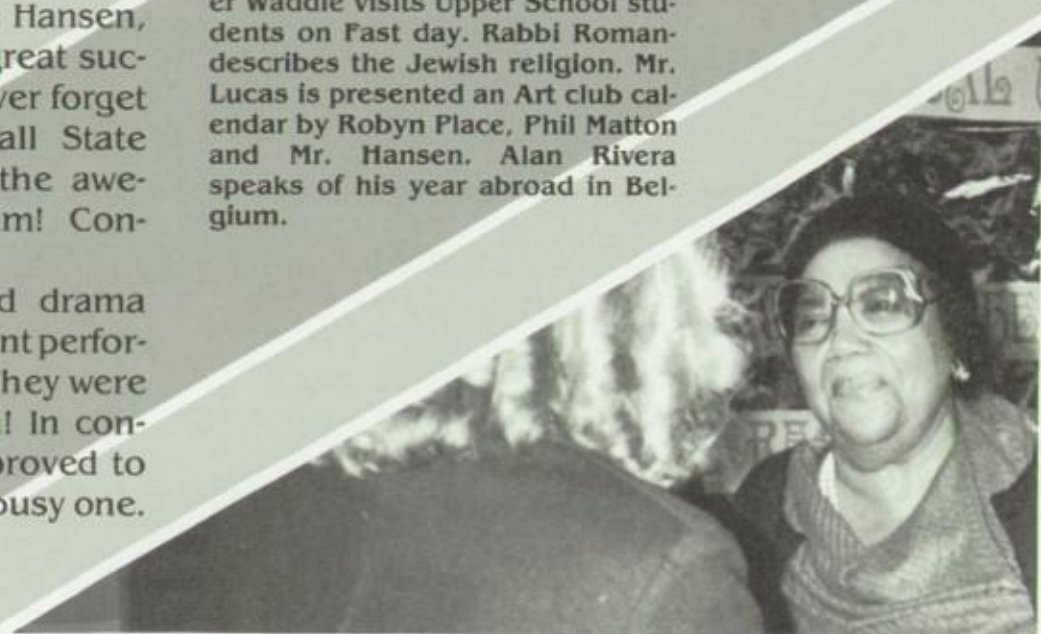

Some very exciting events occurred in the Upper School this year, including Homecoming, which 'kicked off' the fall's festivities. The Tail Gate Picnic and the Scholarship Barbecue were both a success. Many people were involved making the events enjoyable as well as profitable.

A series of assemblies organized to increase the students' religious awareness included speakers such as Rabbi Roman. Fast day, organized by Mr. Joe Hansen, was once again a great success. No one will ever forget the thrilling football State Championship or the awesome football team! Congratulations!

The musical and drama casts put on excellent performances this year. They were enjoyable to watch! In conclusion, this year proved to be an exciting and busy one.

A lumni

Involvement

Country Day is a special school and the number of former students who return for visits reflects just that. During last summer, the class of 1981 held a reunion that was attended by nearly 50% of the class. Alumni also participated in many of the organized games between current and former students. Alumni are also involved in helping support their old alma mater. Many former students help raise money by working at the phonathon, which earned twice as much as last year. When Homecoming rolls around, the number of old students who return for the day is always astounding. It just shows that Country Day students have a special bond with their school.

The Night is Still Young ...

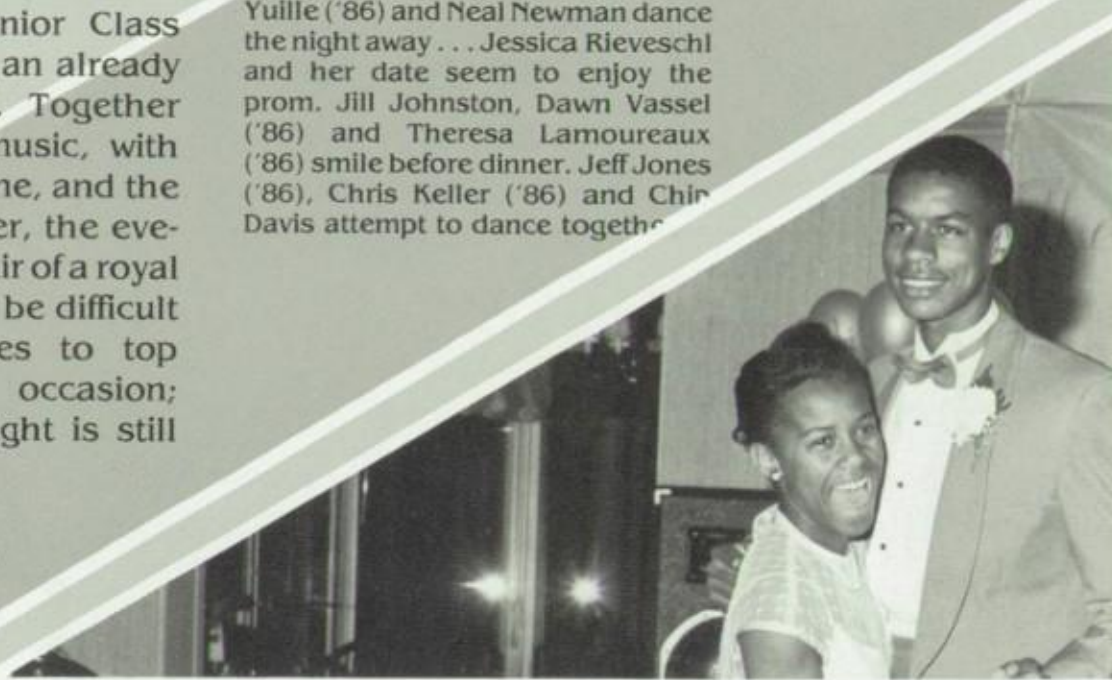

Prom '86 Delights Juniors and Seniors

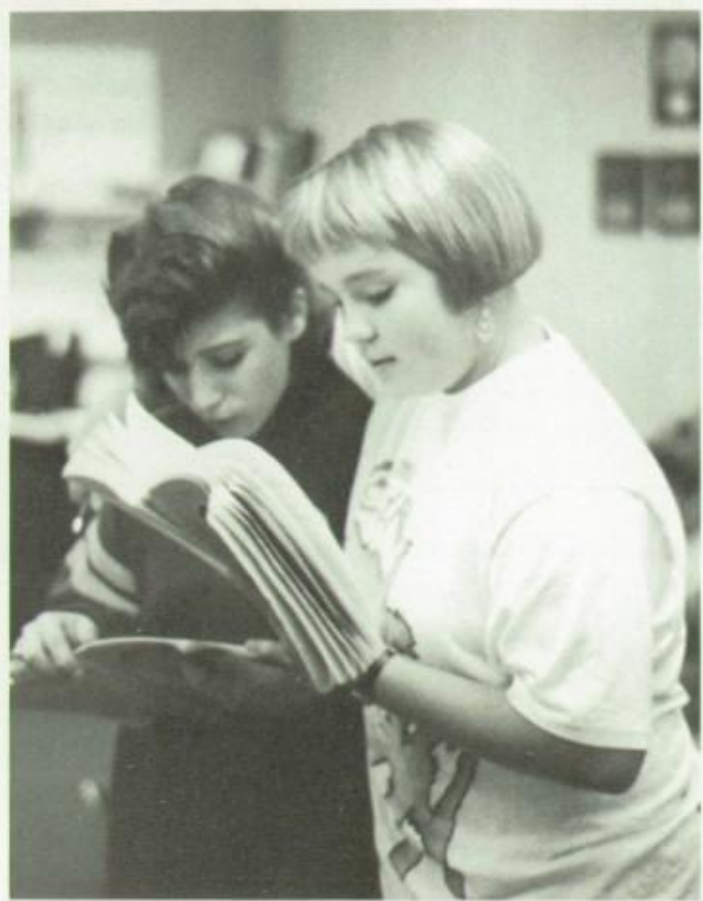

Last year's prom, put on by the Class of 1987, was another great success. Due to the careful planning and thought that went into the occasion, everything went smoothly.

The prom was held at the Orchard Lake Country Club, a beautiful atmosphere for the Juniors and Seniors who attended to enjoy a special night. The delicate decorations by the Junior Class Board enhanced an already beautiful setting. Together with the great music, with D.J. Martin Ciccone, and the spectacular dinner, the evening took on the air of a royal ball. It will surely be difficult for future classes to top the wonderful occasion; however, "the night is still young ..."

"OKLAHOMA!"

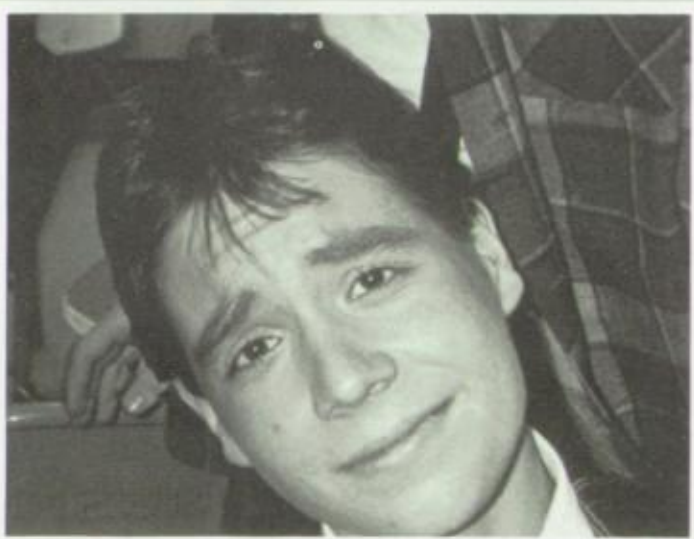

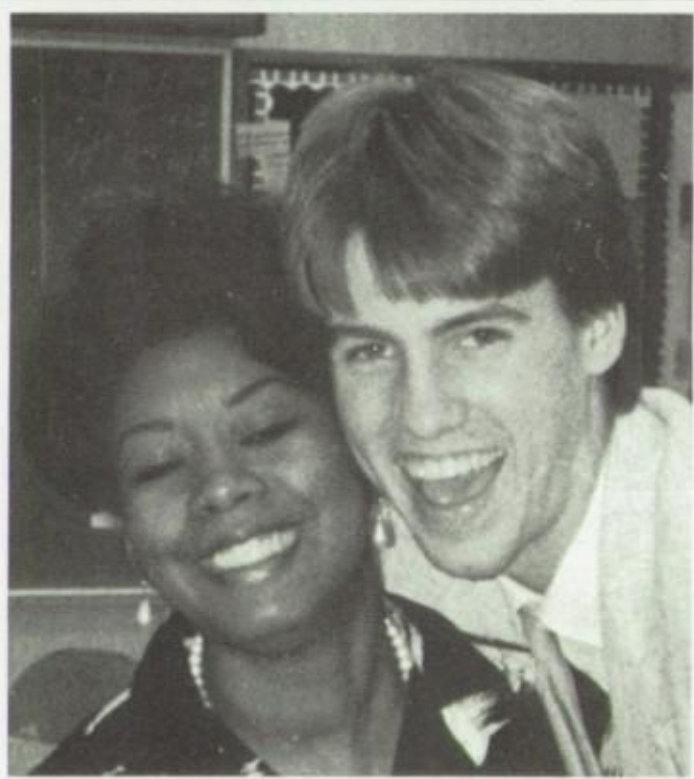

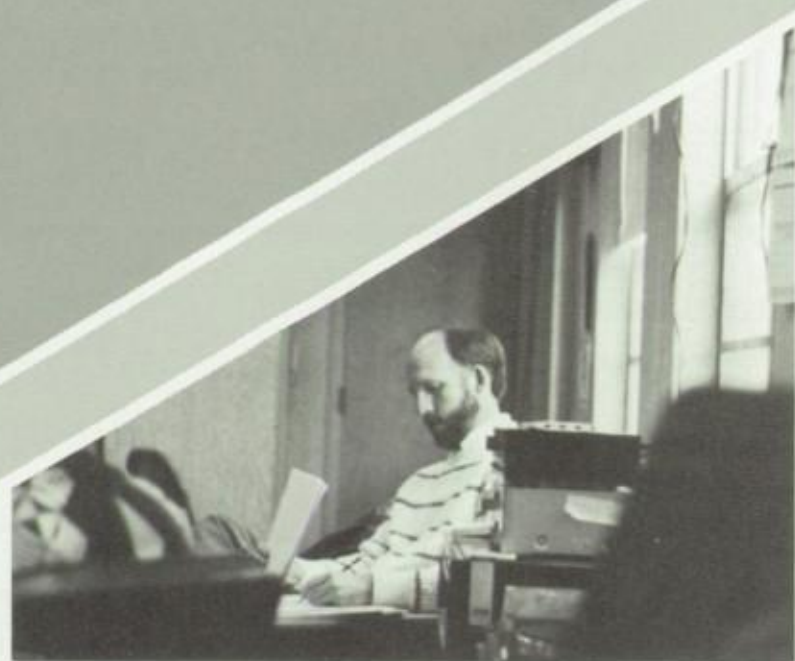

A Brilliant Performance

After the resounding success of the 1985 musical, "Fiddler on the Roof", few expected that level of excellence could be exceeded in the 86' production. The skeptics were proven wrong with this year's production of "Oklahoma!"

Through the dynamic performances of leads, including Jennifer Passer and Adam Lewin, and humorous supporting characters, the audience was transported back to the turn of the century to actually experience some of the joys and sorrows of the "territory folks". Special lighting effects contributed to the realism of the production, as did a noisy prop gun. Dancing routines were particularly well executed to the tune of "Everything's Up to Date in Kansas City".

Future audiences can expect more outstanding performances from the budding talents of underclassmen involved in this year's production.

A T HOME

At Country Day

"We've had a terrific time in the house this year!" remarked Mrs. Becker about her boarding house. Each year student who attend Country Day need a home away from home. There are two residence houses located approximately 5 minutes from the campus which are supervised by the Lopezes and the Beckers.

Mr. Lopez taught middle school history and coached JV football and JV basketball. Family life was highlighted by big delicious dinners cooked by Mrs. Lopez.

Mrs. Becker taught upper school math and computers, coached varsity cross-country and soccer, and advised the yearbook. Favorite dinners in the Becker household included lasagna and pizza.

The houses provide the convenience of on-campus living and, therefore, access to all the activities of the school. House residents can be found after hours in the darkroom, working on school publications, in the gymnasium, or in the computer room. Most students have their own room, which allows them a place to study and have privacy. Students find much weekend activity off campus, or enjoy activities of ping-pong, chess, VHS movies, and dances closer to home.

A MERICANIZING

The Swedes

This year, Detroit Country Day is hosting two exchange students, Klara Jelinek and Kajsa Ferding from Vasteras, Sweden. Junior Terri Dallas hosted Klara first semester and sophomore Missy Castleman hosted her during the second semester. Kajsa stayed first with senior Jill Johnston and then with junior Heather Weyand.

Our exchange students found that Detroit Country Day was more difficult and involved greater amounts of homework than schools at home. Both girls were pleased that athletics were required here. Kajsa played second singles in tennis and earned a 16-0 personal record for the season! Finally, Klara complimented teachers; "They are much nicer than the teachers in Sweden!"

Both decided to come to the United States because they thought it would be fun and interesting to live with another family in a different country. "I love to travel and this would give me a lot of new experiences. I am happy to be here now and will never forget this year," commented Kajsa as the end of the year drew close.

Goes back For more

This year's drama play was Go Back For Murder by Agatha Christie, a thrilling mystery. Amyas Craile (Gus Campos) is murdered and his wife, Caroline (Ketan Joshi) is accused, convicted and sent to prison. Caroline, before her death, writes a letter to her daughter, Carla, insisting upon her innocence. Carla (Ketan Joshi) who believes her mother, insists upon calling all the persons present at the time of the murder.

Then, they all go back in time to the day Amyas was murdered ... and the truth is revealed.

The cast did a wonderful job of building the suspense and maintaining the aura of a mystery thriller. With the help of Director, Ms. Freymann and the two Assistant Directors, Amy Carlson and Dinesh Goburdhun, the play was a great success.

B BLUE AND GOLD

Visits Blue and Grey

For the past eleven years, Mr. Corwin and several students have visited actual battle sites of the Civil War, such as Gettysburg, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Antietam, Chancellorsville, Wilderness and Cold Harbor. Last year was no exception, as 1986 graduates Randy Kaplan, Meribeth Gandy, Chris Marcuse, Theresa Lamoureux and Tom Mackinnon and this year's seniors Mark Redman, Priscilla Monita, Kevin MacKenzie, Dan Sherwood and Brian Rosenblatt went on the interesting field trip. Veterans who also went included Mr. Shilling, along with his children Seth and Sarah, several 1984 graduates and, of course, Mr. Corwin. Some fond memories include the time when everyone went 'fording' across Antietam Creek where the water reached the chest of most. Or when the Park Rangers at Chancellorsville got upset at the students in fatigues for maneuvering over the battlefield! Or the interesting nicknames: Priscilla as "Rambet"! Who could forget Mark throwing Dan's clothing out of the window of the van! ! The trip was undoubtedly a success, for, not only were they able to visit important historical sites but they also had a lot of fun.

UPPER SCHOOL DANCES

Highlight the Year

To start off the year with a blast of excitement, the Student Council organized the last chance Beach Dance which provided the opportunity for students to get reacquainted.

Later came the Homecoming Dance which featured wonderful decorations and great music, as well as an aura of excitement due to the football team's victory over Croswell-Lexington. To celebrate Halloween, the senior class sponsored a dance, a costume gala on the 31st. In addition, there were several other dances, such as the Valentine's Day Dance and the 24-hour Dance-A-Thon, which were very successful.

Clockwise, starting top right: Ron Flores gets into the 'Groove'; Mr. Gilman gets into the 'Beach Bash' Spirit; Dennis Archer, the 'Professional' DJ; dances are a great time for friends to get together.

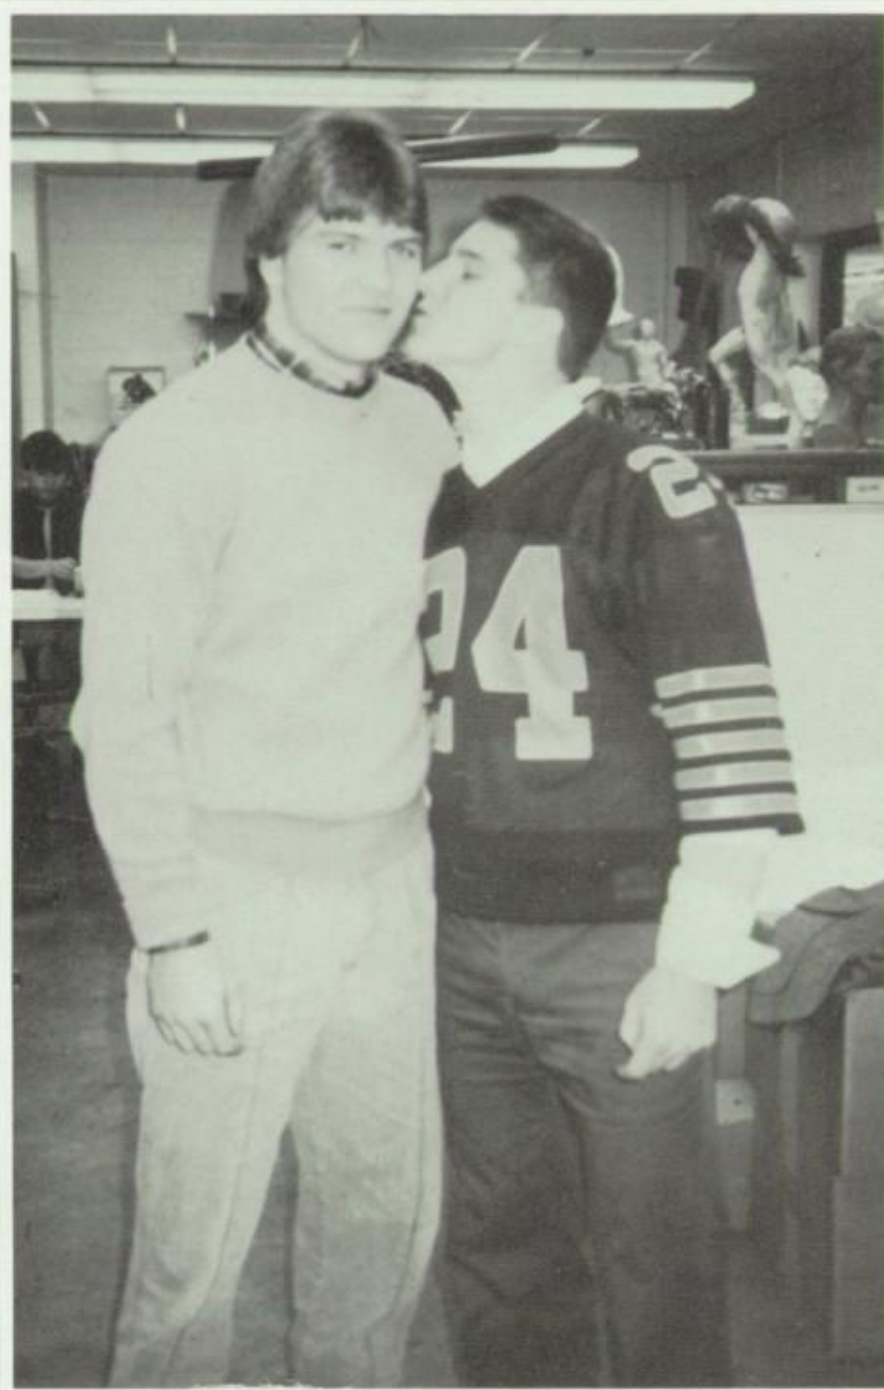

SENIORS:

Leaders of the School

Last year, it was decided that the Class of the Year competition among the Upper School would be discontinued, and instead, the Seniors would automatically qualify as the Class of the Year.

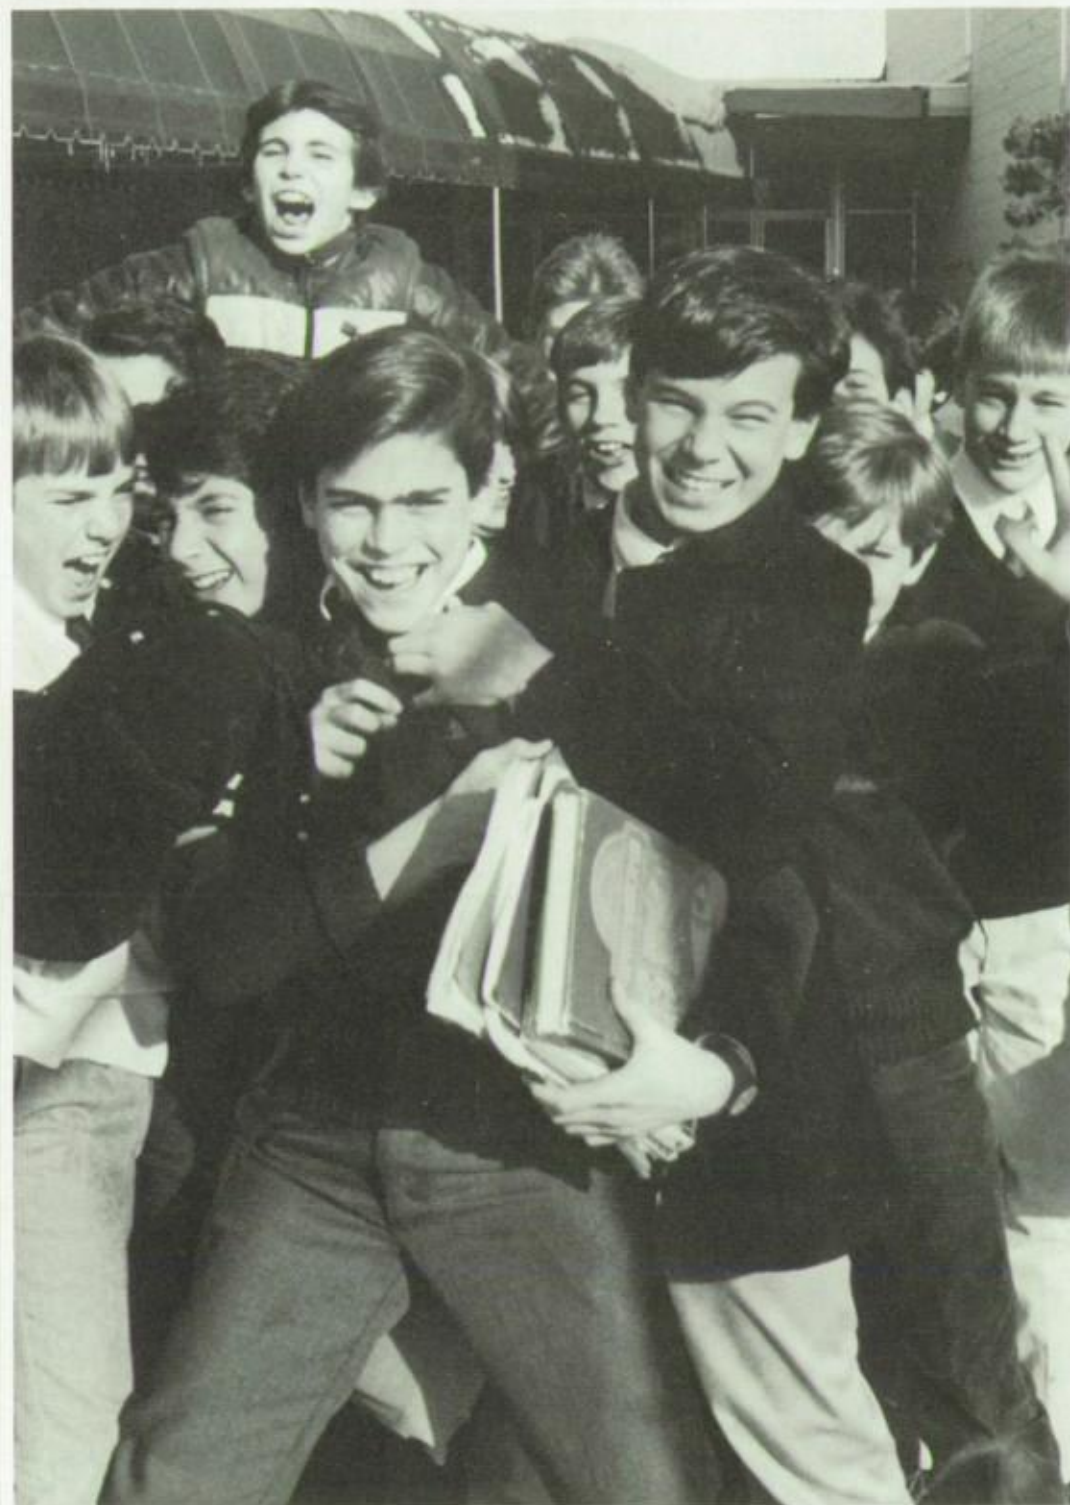

Although the Class of 1987 didn't have to compete for its title, the honor is well-deserved. The Seniors showed their school spirit by attending many of the athletic competitions and school sponsored activities, as well as by showing an exemplary type of attitude and leadership for the rest of the school to follow. The Senior class board also contributed to the social calendar of events by sponsoring several dances and activities for the Upper School. Throughout their entire Upper School careers, Seniors have always demonstrated their spirit, determination and unity, thereby making them excellent recipients of the Class of the Year Award.

iddle School

Involvement

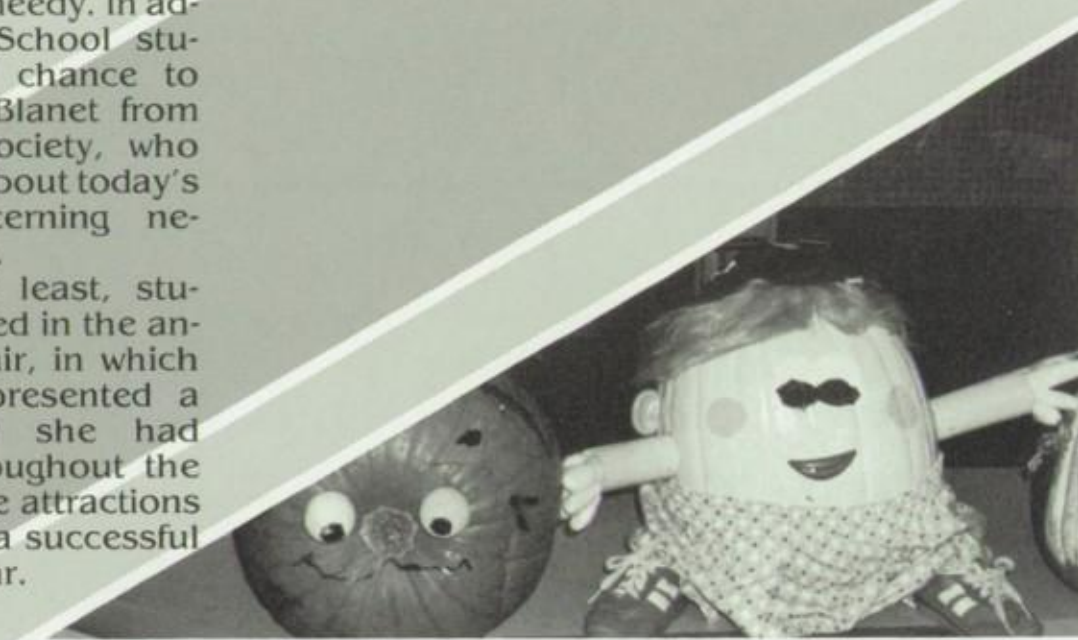

This year was an exciting one for Middle School students.

To highlight the year, a myriad of special events and activities were planned, each with a different objective. To allow students a chance to see their friends in a relaxed environment, and simply enjoy themselves. Forms three and four sponsored dances throughout the year.

Also, Mr. Joe Hansen supervised the organization of Fast Day, as has been the tradition for the past several years. This event raised the students' consciousness concerning world hunger and gave them the opportunity to help the needy. In addition, Middle School students had the chance to meet Mr. Ron Blanet from the Humane Society, who spoke to them about today's problems concerning neglected animals.

Last but not least, students participated in the annual Science Fair, in which each student presented a project he or she had worked on throughout the year. All of these attractions complemented a successful and exciting year.

iddle School Drama

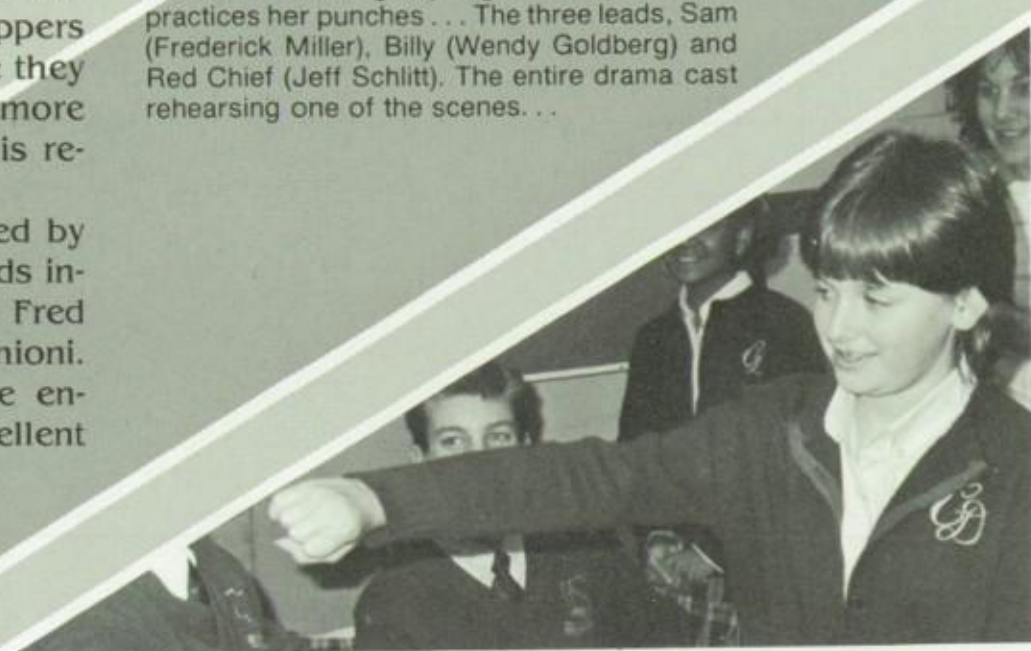

Ransom's Red Chief

This year's Middle School drama play was the Ransom of Red Chief by O. Henry. In brief, it told the story of a young boy who pretended to be an Indian Red Chief, (hence the title), who was kidnapped and ransomed. His rich uncle and guardian, however refused to pay because the child was rather a nuisance and rambunctious.

The story ends with a touch of irony as the kidnappers pay the uncle because they can't stand him anymore either, and Red Chief is returned to his uncle.

The play was directed by Miss Moss and the leads included Jeff Schlitt, Fred Miller and Nick Vecchioni. Congratulations to the entire cast for an excellent play!!

The Year Away . . .

Middle school dances were once again successful this year. Forms Three and Four showed their enthusiasm and spirit by attending numerous dances, including The Fall Frolic and The Haiday Dance. Middle school dances are a good way to get together with school friend's in a nonstressful environment and simply have fun.

Special thanks go to Mr. Chodun, Mr. Thompson,

Mrs. Goldberg and the Form Three and Four students who helped make the dances successful. They have been quite enjoyable and will undoubtedly continue in the tradition in future years.

FORM IV VISITS

Washington D.C.

As it has been the tradition for the past several years, Form IV once again went on an exciting 4-day trip to Washington D.C. Following an exhausting schedule, the students visited many of the national landmarks, including Capitol Hill, as well as famous museums such as the Smithsonian Institute.

Some of the most poignant moments were spent at memorials, namely the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers where the students laid a wreath in honor of all the courageous soldiers who died for America, and who remain unrecognized as individuals. Another sight was the new Vietnam Memorial which the students regarded with silent respect. Besides the trip being academically educational, it was an opportunity to broaden their cultural horizons and gain some travel experience. However, it was also a time for the students to get some class unity and spirit. Some of the more relaxing activities included seeing a play at the Ford theater, and attending an informal dance at the hotel. Overall, the trip was enriching and a lot of fun!!

F ASTING

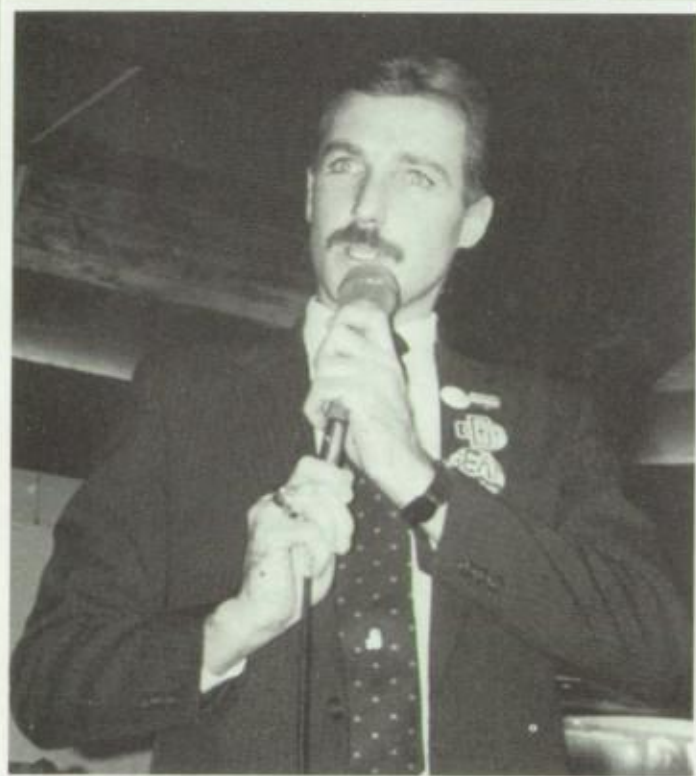

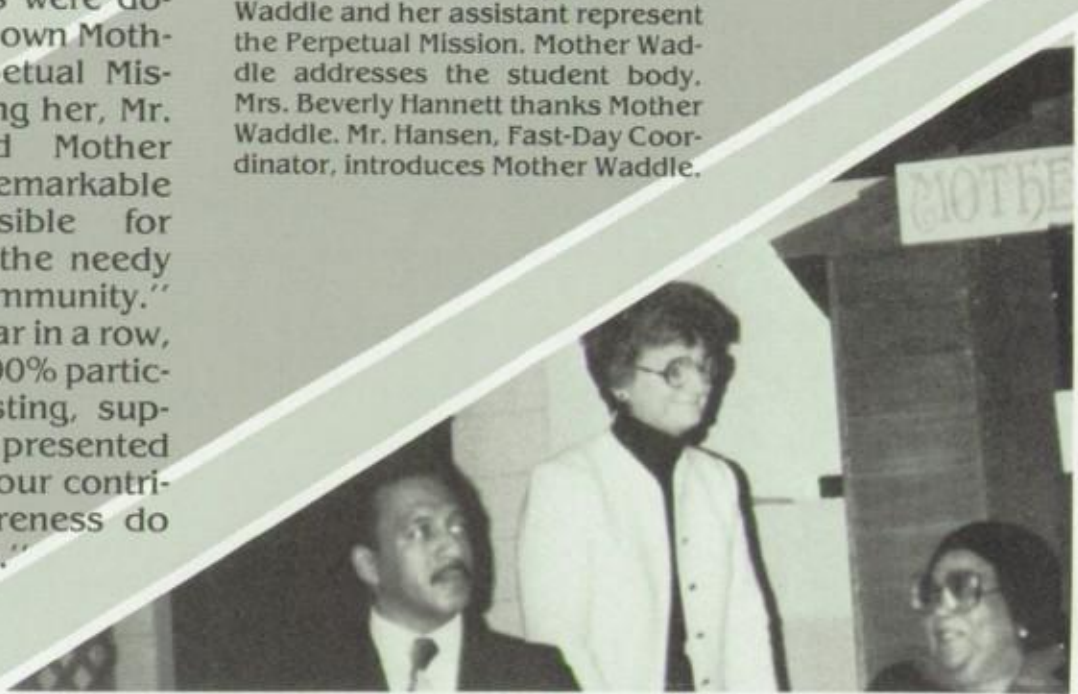

Feeds World Hunger

Under the leadership of organizer Joseph Hansen, the sixth annual Fast Day was a great success. A slide show presented students with a glimpse of past Fast Days and the places to which donations had already been sent, giving the motivation needed to continue earning money for the needy.

Students at all levels of Detroit Country Day school signed up on a voluntary basis to forgo lunch on November 19th. The funds that would have been used for their lunches were donated to a local concern.

Along with all canned goods collected this year, the lunch savings were donated to Detroit's own Mother Waddle's Perpetual Mission. In introducing her, Mr. Hansen described Mother Waddle as "a remarkable woman, responsible for helping many of the needy people in our community." For the second year in a row, the seniors had 100% participation in the fasting, supporting the theme presented on fast day that "our contributions and awareness do make a difference."

SPECIAL FRIEND DAY

Celebrated By the Junior And Lower Schools

The Grandparent's Special Friend Day at the Lower and Junior Schools was an exciting occasion for both the children and the special people they brought with them to school. The day began with a welcoming by the headmaster and the director of the Lower School, Mrs. Re-bold. The different levels performed songs for their friends; some were even in French. Later on, there were classroom and building tours, followed by refreshments. The day was a success thanks to the Mother's Association and the L/S Art, French and Music departments.

To Our Fans

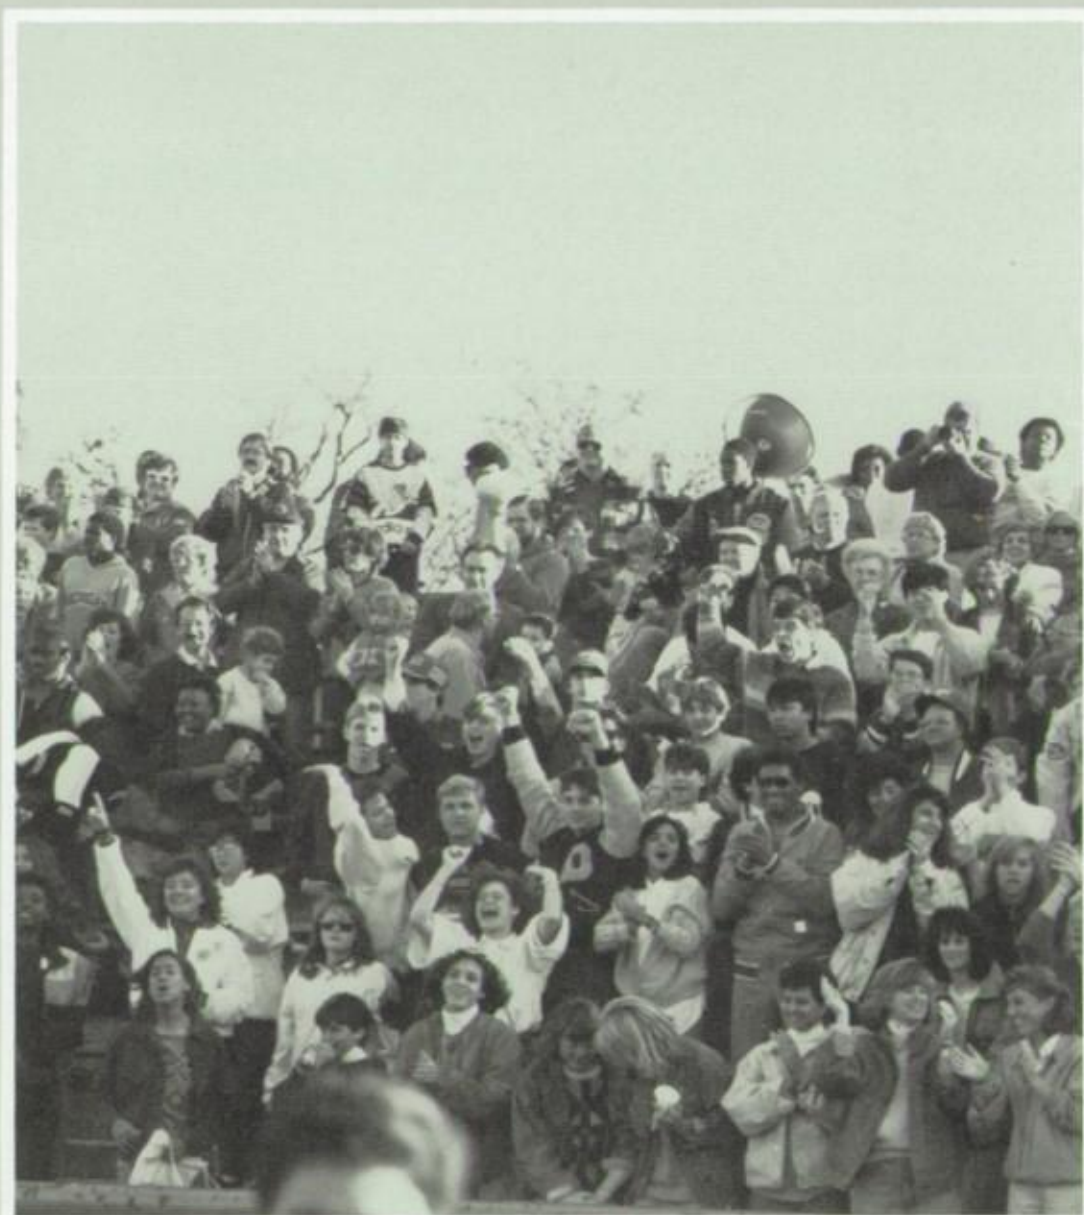

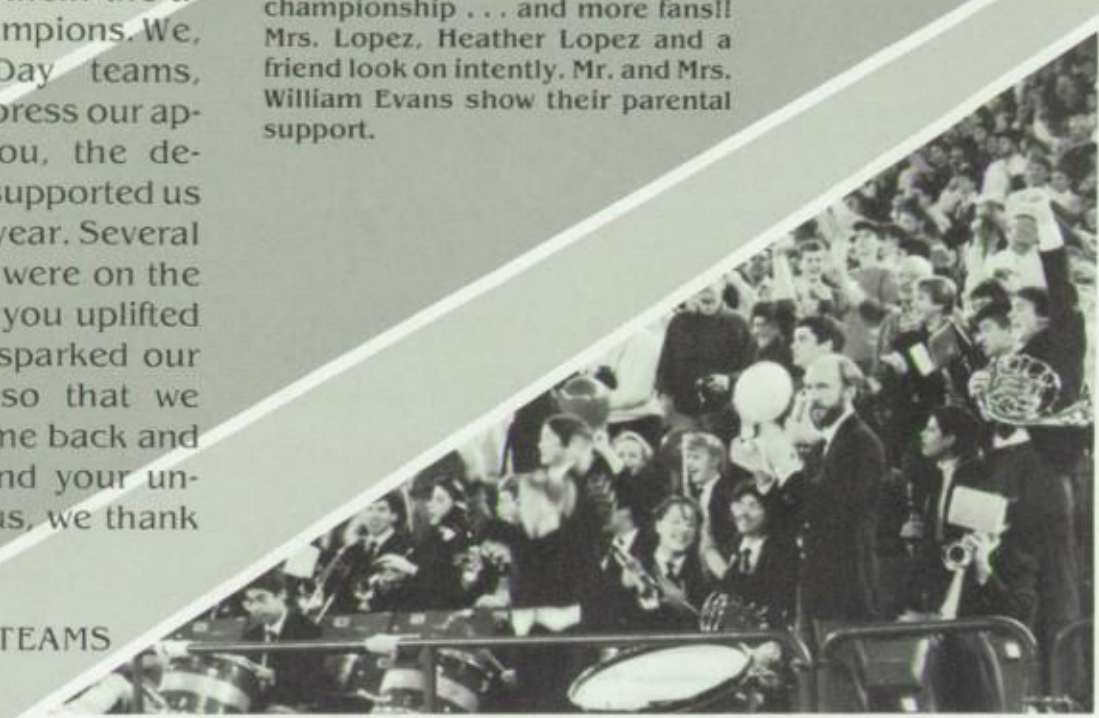

in appreciation

Fans, you are an integral part of the Country Day spirit, and this year, as in the past, your spirit came through to help our teams to victory. A example would be the exceptional number of alumni, parents, faculty, supporters and students who came to see the Football State Championship game at the Silverdome, in which Country Day beat Muskegon Catholic Central for the state title. You came out in great numbers to our hockey and soccer games, and especially to the exciting Varsity girl's basketball game against DePorres, earning them the title of district champions. We, the Country Day teams, would like to express our appreciation to you, the devoted fans who supported us throughout the year. Several times, when we were on the verge of defeat, you uplifted our spirits and sparked our determination, so that we were able to come back and win. For this, and your unending faith in us, we thank you.

LOWER SCHOOL

ACTIVITIES THROUGH THE YEAR

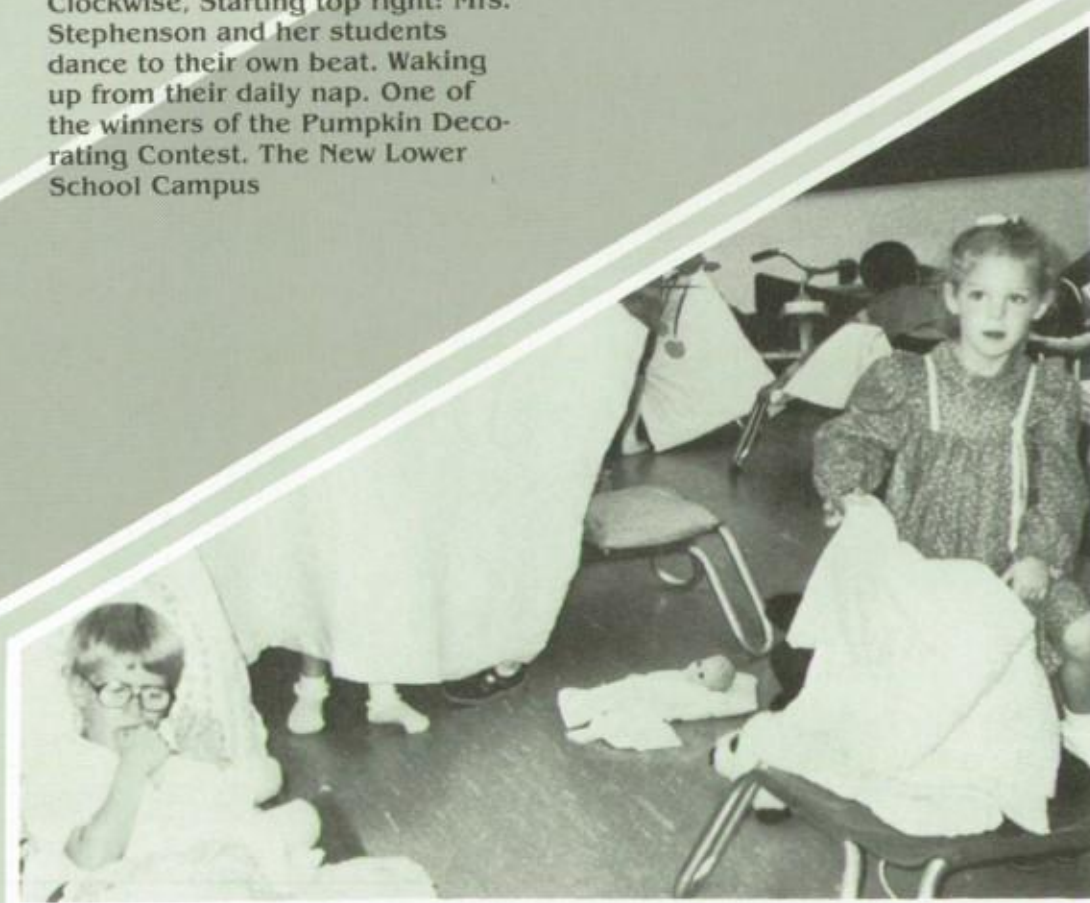

The lower school's calendar was once again filled with exciting and educational events. To start off the year, the junior kindergarten took a trip to the Franklin Cidermill, while other classes went to the Bloomfield Hills Public Library and the Cranbrook Science Institute.

In addition, the students celebrated special occasions, such as special Friend Day, The Chinese New Year and Open House. Halloween was also a special occasion as students had the opportunity to dress up and parade their costumes in front of their peers. These activities all made for a very enjoyable year and helped round the total education of the lower school students by giving them experience both inside and outside the classroom.

The Junior School

is a Busy Place

The Junior School students have been very busy this year. They sponsored the Annual Orange and Grapefruit sale, and broke the record by selling 2700 boxes! On April first the fifth grade had the opportunity to go on its first overnight trip to Greenfield village, and had a fabulous time! Every year, fourth graders travel to science camp, where they learn many science concepts, and this year was no exception.

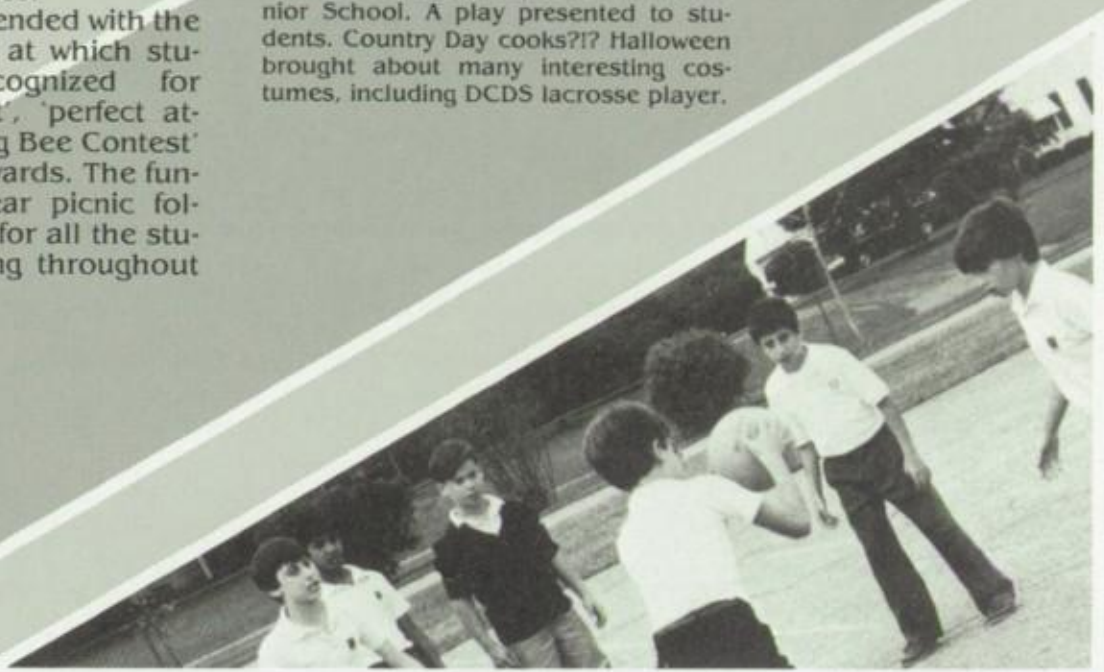

The Poetry contest is also an anticipated event. Students memorize and write poems for competition within their homeroom and then the each winner performs his or her piece in front of the school, where he or she is awarded.

Kite Day is always great fun, as the children have the chance to fly their kites some of which they mounted themselves.

Finally, the year ended with the Awards Assembly, at which students were recognized for 'Academic Highest', 'perfect attendance', 'Spelling Bee Contest' and many other awards. The fun-filled end-of-the-year picnic followed as a reward for all the students' hard working throughout the year.

ART AND MUSIC

At the Lower and Junior schools

The arts have always played an integral part in the curriculum of the Lower and Junior schools, and this year was no exception. With the talent and teaching of Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Olliphant, Mrs. Kotlyar and others, the Lower and Junior school students were able to learn about and experience the joy to be found in the fine arts.

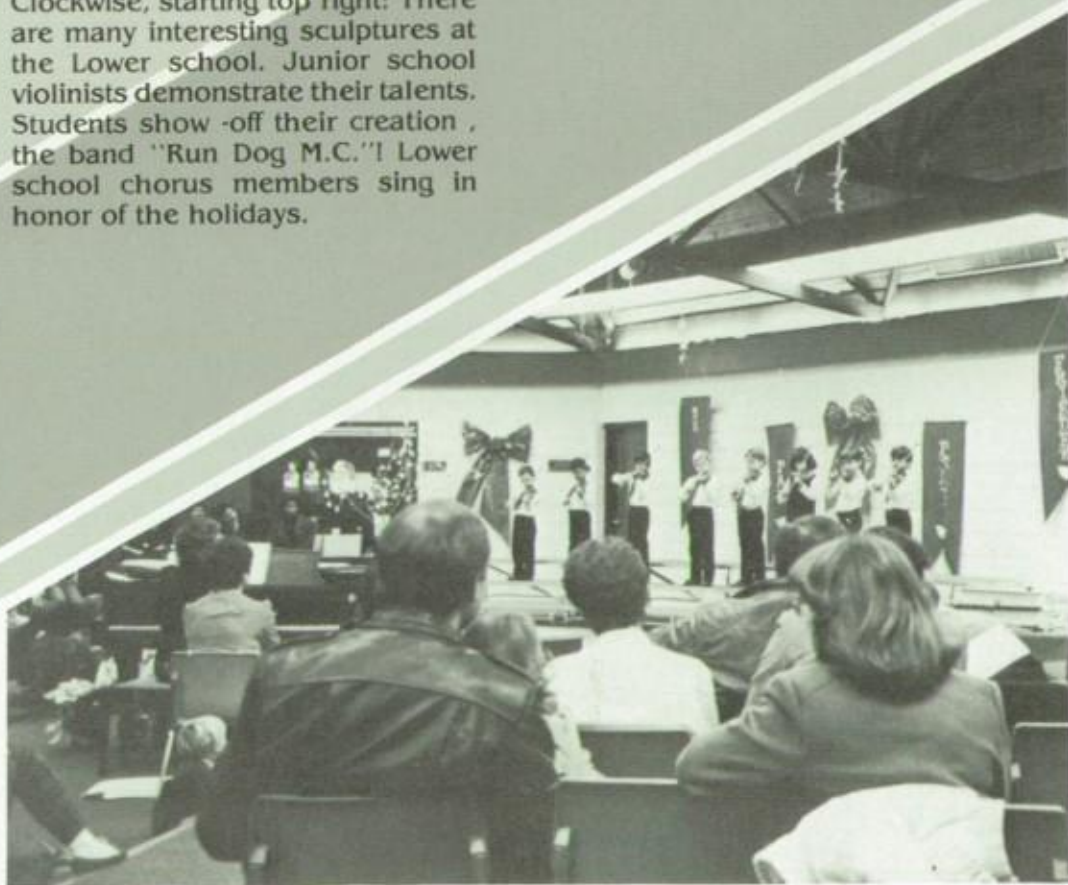

The art department has undoubtedly produced some future artists, as can be seen from the artwork hanging on the walls of both schools.

Students were taught how to paint and draw, as well as how to employ other modes of art, such as collages.

The music department is also very popular among students. They learn how to play certain instruments, such as the xylophone and tamborine, as well as, how to read music and recognize the beat or rhythm of a song. They presented several excellent concerts throughout the year, in which students showed their ability in singing and playing instruments.

T RICK-OR-TREAT

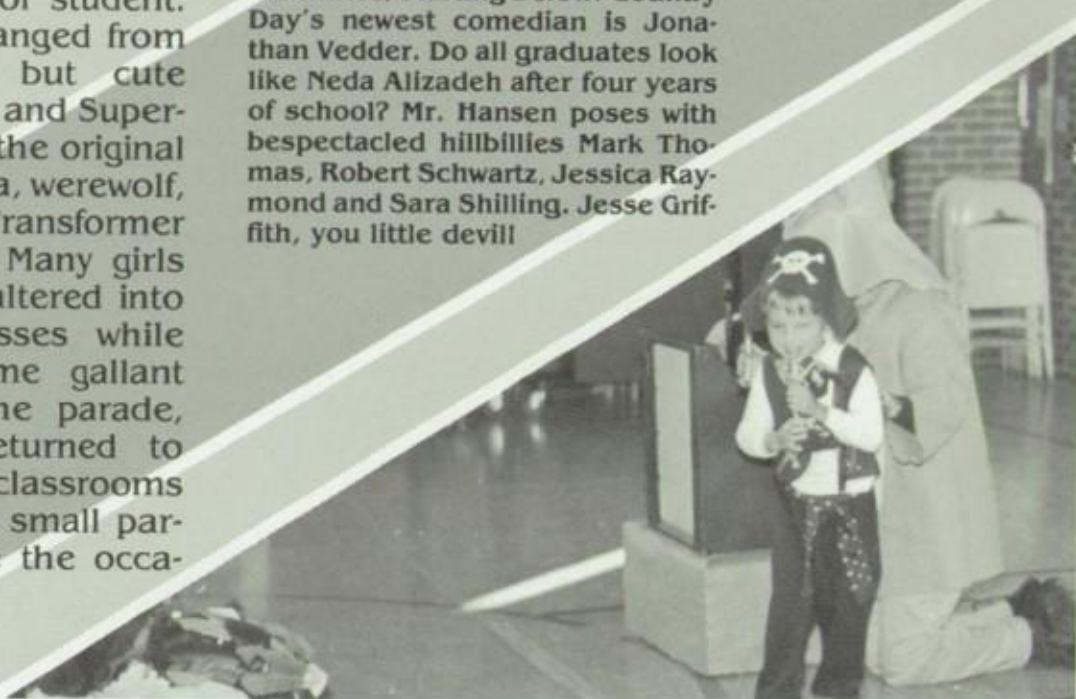

A STUNNING FÊTE

Halloween is a special time for the junior school and lower school children. They all participate by dressing up in costumes for the day rather than the habitual color day attire, therefore, giving them a chance to show-off their disguises before trick-or-treating that night.

Each school had an assembly during which students paraded before their friends, announced what their costumes were and their names. "The costumes were just adorable and their originality made the parade very exciting," remarked one upper school student. The costumes ranged from the traditional but cute bums, bagladies and Superman/woman, to the original teen wolf, Dracula, werewolf, skeleton and Transformer Optimist Prime. Many girls were magically altered into beautiful princesses while the boys became gallant knights. After the parade, the students returned to their respective classrooms where they held small parties to celebrate the occasion.

FOOTBALL STATE CHAMPIONS!!

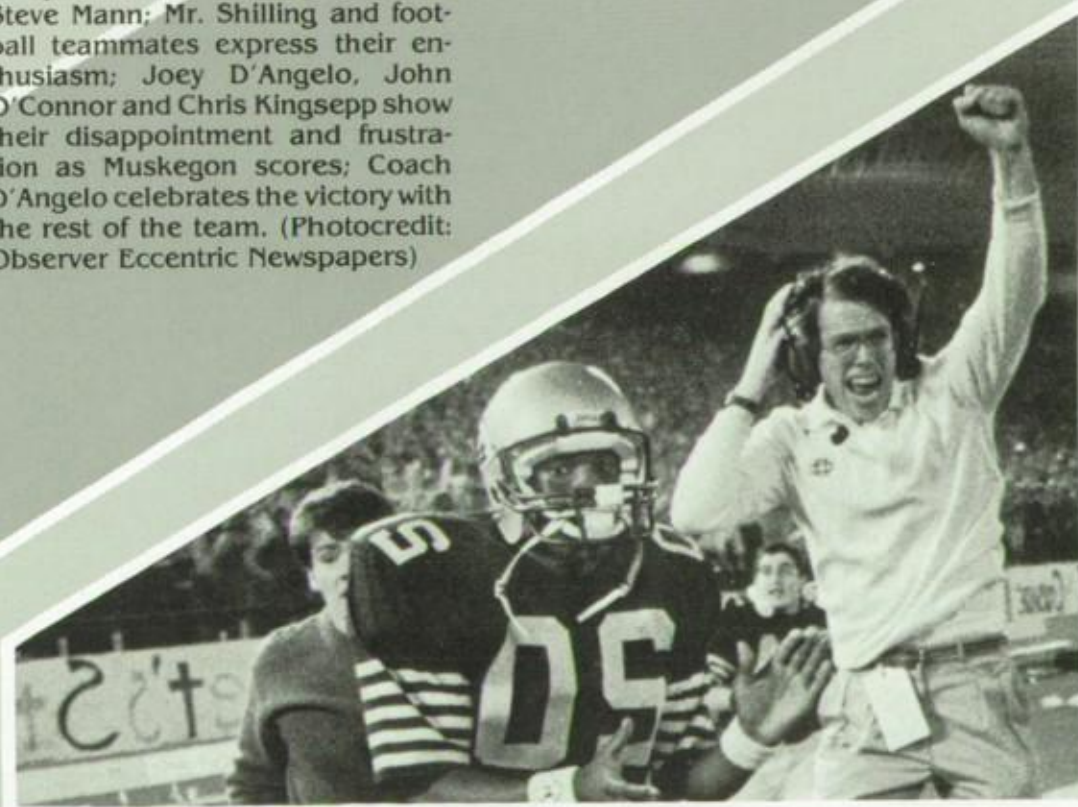

This exciting game began when the players came onto the field while the crowd was cheering and yelling. Muskegon Catholic Central scored easily during the first quarter, but DCD got their act together in the 2nd quarter, making the score 6-7.

The 4th quarter began with the score 12-7, but then Muskegon scored another touchdown putting themselves in the lead.

DCD attempted a series of plays through which they moved the ball up to the 17th yard line, with only 30 seconds left. Charles Johnson called for an audible. He passed the ball to Steve Mann who streaked down the right side line and into the corner of the end zone, just in time to make a touchdown! It was a victorious moment for DCDS!!

Clockwise, starting top right: CJ completes the winning pass to Steve Mann; Mr. Shilling and football teammates express their enthusiasm; Joey D'Angelo, John O'Connor and Chris Kingsepp show their disappointment and frustration as Muskegon scores; Coach D'Angelo celebrates the victory with the rest of the team. Special events throughout 1986-1987

The school calendar was once again filled with exciting new programs. There were, for instance, the four religious assemblies on Judaism, Hinduism, Christianity and Buddhism.

Black History Month was a great time at Country Day, as many events were organized. Students were entertained by the Country Day chorus and band who played famous jazz pieces by black composers or about the black movement. Also, there was a display on Martin Luther King Jr.'s life.

Of course, the memorable State Championship was an event which brought the entire school together.

Everyone remembers the building of the new offices in the lobby . . .

Overall, there were many events which brought all four schools together and made the year a busy but exciting one.

Clockwise, starting top right: A display on Martin Luther King Jr. The M/S and U/S Latin students celebrate with the traditional costumed banquet. The new offices added in mid-January. Members of the Detroit Baptist Church performed at the school during Black History month.

SENIORS

As a Senior, one must say farewell to many classmates and teachers, all of whom are good friends. Although this parting may be hard, one also welcomes a new and exciting change. As the senior leaves Country Day and trades his bedroom for a dorm-room, he says "Hello" to college life!

Country Day Cars Get PARKED

The back students lot is the newest addition to the Country Day campus. The badly needed lot was created so that visitors would have a place to park. The back lot has been designated for the students and the front lot is for the teachers and visitors. The back lot restricts those students that are looking for a way to escape from the pressure of school, because now they are likely to be caught walking to their cars. Therefore, although the walk to the school from the back lot is far greater than that from the front lot, there is no question that it serves a very good purpose.

What Are Some of Country Day's Lunch

Spots?

Lunch sign out is a great privilege for Upper Classmen. It is a chance for friends to escape school and go out together. There are a variety of places where they go, from fast food to restaurants that require more than one lunch hour to eat. Most students, who have only a forty minute lunch period, go to fast food restaurants. For example, Taco Bell and Burger King. Another popular place for a quick lunch is the "Restaurants on Main Street." However, students sometimes have a study hall before or after lunch. When they have more time they go to such establishments as Carlos Murphy's, Chi-Chi's, Fridays and Bennigans. Of course in order to go to these places students must have a large budget. No matter where they eat students always enjoy a chance to broaden their options at lunch. Juniors receive lunch privileges in second semester, where advisors allow it.

Music And Films Hit

BIG

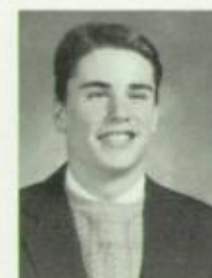

If you kept up with the social scene this summer, you would have seen many Country Day students enjoying the warm weather, and the break from school by attending an overwhelming amount of concerts and movies. There were a few concerts that attracted more students than others. The Beach Boys concert, as well as the Monkees concerts, let students celebrate the summer months. Genesis, featuring Phil Collins, also played in Detroit at Joe Louis Arena from September 18th through the 20th. The ever so popular Billy Joel was in concert on November 7th and 8th at Joe Louis Arena. Along with those concerts, many Country Day students were seen partying at the Elton John, Starship, Outfield, Journey, David Lee Roth and the Psychedelic Furs concerts. When the students at Country Day were not spending their time at concerts this year, they were seen viewing the numerous film releases that came across the screen. One of the hottest movies was "Top Gun," starring Tom Cruise and Kelly McGillis. "Ferris Buhler's Day Off" was a big hit this summer as well, partially because of everyone's hidden desire to get away with the stunts that Matthew Broderick's character got away with in the movie. These are just a few of the events that occupied Country Day students' lives this year.

And The Favorite Thing Is...

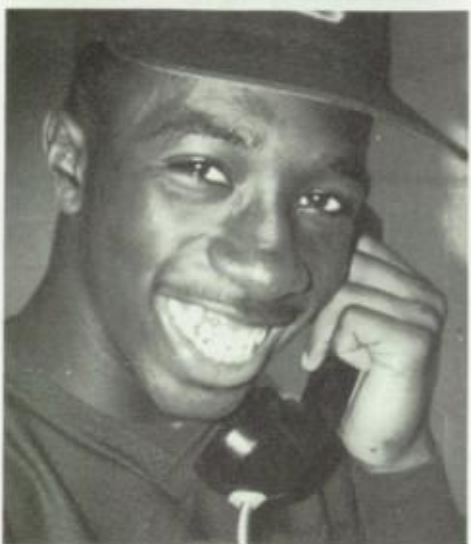

The diversity among the students of Country Day is apparent by their responses to the question, "What is your favorite thing?" Most popular among the girls were their Teddy Bears and or boyfriend. Also mentioned by several girls was their social life. Among the more unusual responses were "gum" and "my tennis shoes".

The boys appeared to be more athletically inclined, judging by their responses to the same question. Many of the boys mentioned their hockey stick, followed closely, however, by the baseball bat. Some boys mentioned their radios, but a few and unfortunately the hardest ones to find said their girlfriend was their favorite thing.

Top: Mark's favorite thing is to pretend to be studying.

How Students Spend Their Weekends

Most outsiders to Country Day believe that the students have no time for anything other than studying. This is a false rumor. Students incorporate activities into their weekends. School events draw students together, but there are also individual off-campus activities in which the students participate, with their friends. Movie theaters and shopping malls are often visited by groups of friends. Birmingham is a popular place to find students not only from Country Day but from other schools as well. This allows students to associate with their out of school friends.

School events always attract students. A majority of students wouldn't miss football games such as Homecoming, and the State play-offs, as well as the Hockey games at the Civic Center. On Saturday and Friday nights, the students attend dances sponsored by different class boards. The most popular dances were the Homecoming Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom. Friends also go to concerts on the weekends. Students even make studying an enjoyable activity by studying together and going to the library. There is a balance of study and recreational activities by the students of Country Day.

Country Day

What really constitutes an average, or typical day at Detroit Country School? Is it the same, boring, and monotonous routine of waking up, going to school and subconsciously noting what number and letter day it is, dozing through your classes (waking up slightly during lunch and sports), and riding home only to finish piles of homework until you fall asleep, starting the cycle all over again? Maybe... and maybe not. For some optimistic others, life at Country Day is treated like a new, inspiring challenge where you can socialize with boyfriends and girlfriends, better your education and, at the same time, strengthen your body during sports. Some students cope with long, tiring days - especially Mondays - by setting minor goals for themselves, even if they are only study hall periods, lunch, passing the pop quiz in Chemistry that your friend just told you about, or 3:10 pm. A truly typical day at DCDS is probably a combination of all these circumstances. When interviewed, most students said that they wake up between 5-7:00 am, depending on how far away they live from school, and go to bed anywhere from 9 pm to the wee hours of the morning, depending on how much homework they have, which usually takes 2-3 hours to complete. On a given day, a student might ace a quiz or a test in one class but flunk one in another. Or, usually, a student may receive fairly consistent grades throughout the day. For a freshman or a sophomore, there is always hope that grades will drastically improve so that he or she will not be placed in "military" study hall next goal.

Most kids look forward to activity periods, lunches, and after-school events. They provide a breather from the rigid course of academic classes, and extra period to catch up on schoolwork and, most likely, a time to be with friends. After school and sports are over, everyone heads home to be with their families and to tackle the seemingly insurmountable load of homework before going to bed. If you're lucky, you might have just enough time to watch TV for awhile or go out with friends during the weekends before the rigorous routine starts all over again bright and early the next morning.

"Trends" and "Fads" seem the same to most people. There is, however, a difference. Trends are a certain way of dressing and are can be passed on through the years. Fads are usually related to clothing and change frequently.

Recent fads revolve around clothes and accesories; such as jewelry. Girls, as well as boys, can be seen wearing Swatch watches. Swatches come in various colors and with unique designs. There are also limited additions; for example, the dials with the real gem stones are the latest fad. Other jewelry fads include hoop earrings in a variety of sizes usually made of silver. Woven friendship bracelets are the latest fad. The story behind them is that the wearer must keep the bracelet on at all times until it falls off.

Clothes Are Distinguished By

FADS AND TRENDS

This year girls are wearing bows in their hair. They come in all sorts of colors.

The word "fad" is commonly associated with clothes. As a result of the TV show "Miami Vice," a new image for men has emerged. Shirts come with geometric patterns and suits are worn with t-shirts underneath them. On a more casual note, the summer fad of Boxer Shorts and their spin-off "Jams" is slowly fading.

Trends in clothing resemble those of years before. Leather and Denium jackets are modeled off the fifties style, and most girls are choosing to wear "bobby socks", in the summer and spring, instead of nylons. Though denium is a trend and has been worn by several generations, this year it appears in prints and colors other that the traditional blue. Another fad is the torn look in blue jeans, while the sunglasses fad is still going strong. Very popular glasses are being made by Wayfarer and Varnauet. Casual days and special days bring out the hottest, and most bizarre styles. Despite a dress code, students at Country Day want to be up with the latest fashions.

Principal For A DAY

If you had the opportunity to be principal of Detroit Country Day School for only one day, what would you do? Would you simply cancel school for that day? Would you make some minor adjustments to school rules and policy and let all of the students do as they please, or ... would you start handing out detentions left and right and be as strict as you possibly could? How would you treat the faculty? How would you treat your fellow classmates? Some students offered some very definite answers and suggestions.

A majority of the students interviewed said that they would declare an impromptu vacation day and let everyone return home. Others, however, if given the chance to be principal for a day, said they would remain in school and transform life at Country Day into something a little different. "If I was principal for a day," declared one student, "I would let everyone break the rules and allow us to dress as we wish!" "I would really enforce the concept of 'student government' and turn the tables on the faculty for a day. By the time I was through with them, every teacher at Country Day would have a definite idea of what being a student at this school is really like!" "I would completely do away with sports," said one student. "No way!" a nearby athlete retorted, "I would have sports from 8:00 to 3:10 ... forget about that academic stuff!"

There were also some very definite complaints about our present lunch policy and, along with them a few suggestions on how to improve it: "First, I would remove all of the rules restricting lunch sign-out, I would definitely remove canned fruit from the desert menu!" Cried yet another lunch critic, "I would allow everyone to move around and visit their friends or go to their locker ... we shouldn't be confined to just one table." "If I were principal for a day," said one person, "I would simply sit back and relax ... and watch everything erupt into total chaos!" Evidently, students have different ideas about how to run the school ... or if given the authority, student changes would be numerous ...

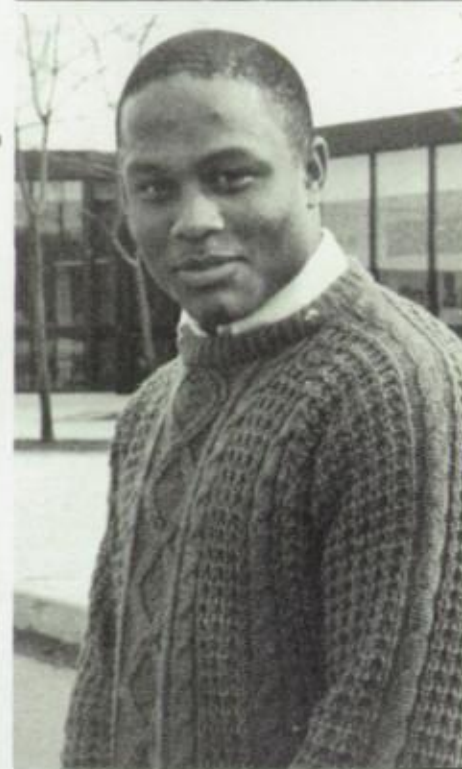

Top: And Helen Barry goes through her schedule for the day. Bottom: "It'd be radical Dude", describes Bob Bonnell's feelings on the subject.

Your Personality Shows Through In Your LOCKERS

top: Ann Schlitt's locker holds her memories, and she is lucky to have a large "photo album", as many people suffer with bottom lockers.

When you receive your new locker each year, what do you want to do with it? This is a very big question in most students minds for the first few weeks of school. How do you decorate your locker, or do you decorate it at all? Are you the kind of person who brings your favorite pictures or wrapping paper the first day of school? Or are you the kind of person who waits a while before you bring in your pictures and other memorabilia? A lot of people don't even decorate their lockers at all. They just keep piling their books and papers into it until it becomes dangerous to open it for fear that all of the books will come crashing out onto their feet and the floor. Then there are those neat and organized people who even have shelves in their lockers to organize their books. The way a locker is set up says a lot about a person's personality. If you were to walk into the room of someone with a locker that had pictures and postcards on the door and organized shelves, you might see an immaculate room with everything in its proper place. But if you were to walk into the room of someone with a locker that looks like a bomb just blew up in it, their room would probably look the same. Lockers are pretty important things, if you take into consideration that it is a DCDS student's home away from home. So think seriously about how you are going to decorate your home away from home next year.

MY SCORE: _____

Bummers!

Have you ever been depressed had a strong dislike for doing something or been unfairly hindered a specific regulation or rule? Well we asked some DCDS students about some "bummers" that they had. These were our responses; number one on the list was definitely going to school on Mondays. Following close behind was parking in the "new" lot so far from the building, and serving as waiter to a bunch of "hoarding pigs" during lunch. Another "bummer" was missing summa cum laude by one-tenth of a point, or not receiving your diploma because you didn't get all your white point credits. Also on the list was having three tests and four quizzes in one day and what about trying to impress a guy when suddenly your brother comes in? Another "bummer" most of the girls will agree on is going to school only to find out that you have a run in your hose . . . Even better, going to a basketball game until 11:00 pm so you won't have to do your homework only to find out that they don't give chits out anymore! These are just a few of the "bummers" that Country Day students have to face each day.

Students Ryan Ringold and Marc Witucki show the bummers that exist in Country Day students life. Ryan contemplates the risks and misfortune of a bottom locker, while Marc waits his turn to reach the upper locker.

Country Day Introduces Project ADVENTURE

Recently at Country Day there has been a new alternative in the gym and Sports program for all students from sixth grade to twelfth. It is called Project Adventure and it is run by Carol Balgenorth. It is part of the middler's gym class lasting for about four weeks, and for the rest of the middlers and upper schooler, it can be taken for a fall or spring sport.

But what is Project Adventure really about? It is a series of self-challenges that are both physical and mental. It contains a lot of peer dynamics, counselling and support from the fellow sport companions. It not only takes physical strength but mental strength as well. They are taught to tie all kinds of knots, safety tips and games which allow the students to gain trust in each other. They also solve physical and mental problems by working them out amongst themselves. Only a few students who sign up for the new sport may participate. For them it will be a great adventure! However, for those students who are interested in the sport next year, you had better sign up early because the spring session was all filled up by the start of the fall.

What are some of those Freshmen

Fears?

All students starting a new school have to face certain new ideas and those new things usually cause students to fear them. These fears can especially be seen in new freshmen to our school. Because Country Day is so different from other schools, the students on their first day are thrust into a new world for them that they will eventually have to adjust to. We asked many freshmen what their biggest fears were coming to this school and they were: waiting for a table of hungry Varsity football players, going to a new school and thinking you would have no friends, getting a stack of books so high in your first class that you aren't sure if you can carry them all, trying to learn how to switch classes in a school without bells and with a schedule that rotates and has more days than the week, wearing a uniform that you feel stupid in and pray none of your other friends see you in. But all of this year's freshmen survived and they are not afraid anymore. They, like all other Country Day students, adjusted.

Freshman Chad Rhodes shares tips on waiting.

Junior Class Board Gets Organized

The Class Board plays an important role in the class. It organizes and plans activities for the members of its class and the school to enjoy. The Junior Class board has had many responsibilities this year. They have been responsible for Prom, Homecoming and held a Sweetest Day Flower sale. The Board had to obtain the money necessary to host Prom and Homecoming and their organization has led to successes at the Prom and Homecoming. The 1987 Prom was held at the Fairlane Manor and was attended by more members than any other year. The board members are led by Mrs. Doyle and include Diane Graver, Albert Klemptner, Kathy Nino, Kristen Orlando, Chris Glinski, and Sulee Stinson. Their effort and hard work this year have been beneficial to all of us. The sophomore class had initiated the Superdance to aid Muscular Dystrophy. The Dance was held in the gym from 8:00 p.m. to 9:00 a.m. Movies were shown and music was played all night. The kids slept on mats and plenty of food was available. The Senior Class

Board was very effective this year. They helped change the policy on Senior Exams and sponsored the Halloween Dance. The Freshman Class sponsored the Valentines Day Dance and ran the concession stand several times. All in all the class boards are very effective and efficient this year and had done their best to aid the classes in any way possible.

DRB Plays Key Role In School

POLICIES

The Disciplinary Review Board served a key role at Country Day this year. As Gerald Hansen came in as our new Headmaster, he introduced changes in the judicial system including ousting work squads and replacing them with after school detentions. With detentions levied for both attendance and other behavioural problems, detention study hall was very full in first semester. The Disciplinary Review Board became involved, in its role as a student grievance board.

The DRB, as it is called, heard student cases and made individual recommendations to the director of the Upper School. They also carefully reviewed the conditions leading to detention, and recommended a lightening of tardy penalties, so that not five but ten tardies were needed before detentions were levied.

Under the leadership of faculty advisor, Mr. Morrow and Chairman Alan Rivera, the DRB clearly defined the rules of the handbook, and laid down new boundaries as to its jurisdiction. DRB members include Brad Bosart, Brian Erdstein, Jim Greenwalt, Kyle Korbaw and secretary Emmanuel Dizon.

Mrs. Boesky's Students "Swing" Into American

Culture

The American Culture Club is a new club offered this year at Country Day. The purpose of this club, according to its sponsor, Mrs. Boesky, is "to saturate ourselves in the popular culture of the years from 1920-1970." This goal is to be achieved by viewing films and videotapes, listening to musical tapes, enjoying programs of twenties and thirties music by Mrs. Gower, and interviewing people who have lived through the Jazz Age and the Depression. The members of this club were very interested in the periods they studied and one member remarked that Mrs. Boesky "added a lot of interest to the lifestyles of people who lived in these decades." The members of this club received a unique and realistic impression of what life was like for these people and the trials and tribulations the people who lived in this period endured. The club enrolled a large number of students for its first year, and Mrs. Boesky deserves a lot of credit for bringing this enlightening club to Country Day.

Newspaper does it AGAIN

The Day Times this year continued to uphold the tradition of being an excellent news publication. Under the direction of Mrs. Witucki, students learned the fundamentals of journalism, and how to produce a paper which is informative as well as enjoyable to read. The paper production of the Day Times was run by Dan Hommes as Editor-in-Chief, and Mark Redman and Ron Flores as assistant editors. The Day Times produced six wonderful papers this year. The paper has also received many awards of recognition such as a National first place Honor Roll Publication from the Columbian Scholastic Press Association and American Press Associations and a first place in MIPA state-wide competition. The members of the Day Times staff were frequently found in their new publications room, located in the Atrium of the upper school campus. Layout was conducted late into evenings and weekends to achieve quality results. "We have some wonderful freshmen new to the staff," exclaimed Mrs. Witucki. Students interviewed were pleased with the quality of fall papers, but felt that the publication improved in the second half of the year. A favorite feature among students was the exciting BAIT and REBATE section where editors debated and fumed over hot school issues. Mrs. Witucki looks forward to an older and even more talented staff in 1987-1988.

Enthusiasm "draws" a Strong Art Club

The Art Club, sponsored by Mr. Harry Schwarzer had been a very enthusiastic club in the past years and with this year's plans, and president Phil Matton, was again. The members of the Art Club have successfully produced another very attractive annual calendar. The students of the club could be found selling the calendars around the school. This year Mr. Schwarzer continued an incentive for selling the calendars. He offered a dollar to the student for each calendar sold to increase sales. The profit raised from the calendars went to purchasing art for the school buildings. Not only did the club produce a calendar this year, but it also designed murals to be painted on the hallway walls of the Upper and Lower school. The Art Club has offered to help students mount some of their personal work and in some cases will purchase student work to add to the school collection. In the spring of the 1986-1987 the club hosted a visiting artist to come to DCDS and lecture about his work. The club also helped set up the student show that took place in May. In carrying out Mr. Schwarzer's plans, the Art Club was very busy this year. Their hard work was well worth while because it made the school a more attractive place to spend our days in.

Flying Club Soars To The

Skies

A new club has been started this year at Country Day, that club is the Flying Club. The club is sponsored by Mr. Croy and he hopes to spark interest in students in the areas of design and flying of model planes. The club is the first of it's kind at Country Day and interest in the club is strong. One purpose of the club is to instruct students in the fundamentals of aerodynamics and to "provide training usually required in ground school so that students can pass a written test to obtain a pilot's license" according to Mr.

Croy. Students can then "solo" at age 16, and can fly the same year they begin to drive! The second purpose of the club is to provide hours of practice on a flight simulator, so that actually flying will be easier for students later on. A student must log many hours of flight before being allowed to take their first solo flight.

All in all, the club has given the students at Country Day an opportunity to do something relaxing and enjoyable with their activity periods.

Drama Club steals the Show

Detroit Country Day School's Drama Club, under the direction of Mrs. Freymann, has been a huge success this year. During the first semester, approximately twenty students participated in acting workshops, where they concentrated on improvisations and imagination in acting. This helped to allow the enthusiasm and confidence grow as well as to train several prospects for the winter performance. The winter session of the club presented Agatha Christy's play, "Go Back For Murder." A new theme in Country Day theatre, this murder mystery attracted many. While Ketan Joshi, Gus Campos and Jonathon Tepperman held the leads, the rest of the cast contributed to the exciting performances. Congratulations goes to all of them. Country Day theatre continues to grow stronger each year and will miss the leadership and guidance of Ms. Freymann in the future. The play was assistant directed by Amy Carlson and Dinesh Goburdhun.

During the spring, one-act plays and short-story scenes were performed. The Drama Club met during activity period every Tuesday and Thursday, students were able to earn up to three gold points per production.

Issues Are Discussed in

Debate

The DCDS Debate team was re-established this year by Mr. Fremuth. The 1986 team consisted of Jonathan Tepperman, Manish Gupta, Jim Farrar, Jim Greenwalt, Fazlur Zahurullah, Rajveer Purohit, Keith Curtis, Sauh Jaluher, Mara Pudists, Doug Fusco, and Mark Quint. This year's team achieved second place in the league tournament, debating heavily over the nations agricultural policy. For it's first year, Debate has had a very good showing and expects even greater accomplishments in the future. Next year the team will enter Varsity competition, as well as novice competition. Debate is divided into two groups, for and against the subject, and meets three times a week. Mara Pudists and Jonathan Tepperman were important members of the pro and con groups, respectively. One of the highlights of the season was the invitational in Ann Arbor. At this meet, Country Day placed 10th out of 61 teams in Novice Debate, thus qualifying for the state finals on December 20th. Debate improved commendably in weekly scrimmages, and the young squad has high hopes for next year.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS SPEAKS OUT

Under the guidance of Mr. John Cambell, the Model United Nations club offers students a chance to experience, through simulation, the feel of being a world politician. Members of this club are given the roles of international diplomats and given specific circumstances with which to deal as their respective roles would have it. Not only do the members gain by improving upon their debate skills, but they also acquire a better understanding of the way in which the world around them works from a political perspective. In school, the members spend much of the time working on their debating skills. They then use these skills when attending Model UN simulations at other high schools such as Mercy, Marion, and U of D. These sessions are competitive as well, and a few of the members have walked away proudly with awards. Mara Pudist has been a two time winner, while Doug Fusco and Fran Peszetti have each won honorable mentions. The highlight of the year is the Great Lakes Invitational in May, where club members will again compete with students from other schools simulations and debates.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Shoulder to shoulder with the upper school, the middle school welcomed a roomier campus with the exodus of Form I. Three forms of students still enjoyed the most rigorous and expansive of curriculums, bringing enthusiasm to new and old sports, and special projects such as their Fast Day and Washington Trips. "Say hello" to the years of becoming...

Form IV Class Board

As the senior members of the Class Board circuit, Form IV had set the example this past year. As they prepared to enter the realm of the Upper School, Form IV's Class Board had to prepare to enter the much more sophisticated Upper School Class Board Circuit. In order to do this, the Board was forced to do nearly everything on their own, without much assistance from their Advisor, Mr. Thompson. The Board proved their maturity and ability by sponsoring Middle School dances, and running the after-school concession stand.

In addition to their many form fund-raisers, the Class Board also worked on the long running "Coats for Kids" project. This project enabled needy children in the Detroit area to have warm coats and clothes this past winter. One-third of the money raised by the Board goes towards charity, another third goes towards a gift to the school, and the last third remains with the form as it moves on into the Upper School. A form IV student remarked, "this year our class board led the way in spirit and hard work, so that we could have the best activities ever!"

Class Board members are: Alvin Bowles — President; David Singer — Vice-President; Negar Mahmood — Treasurer; Jon Villeman — Secretary; Lori Stec — Representative; Doug Waffan — Representative; Ari Nessel — Representative; Steve Lee — Representative.

Form IV: Hopes & Aspirations

When most Form IV students are faced with the question of what they hope to be, most of them reply by saying "I want to be a Senior!" But some of them have hopes that exceed just becoming a Senior. Some of these future high-schoolers had hopes of eventually ending world hunger, starting major corporations, and "being RICH!!!" One student even commented on the Iranian arms scandal involving President Reagan. He said that when he becomes President of the United States, something as absurd as "Irangate" could never happen. These are just a few of the hopes and aspirations of the students.

Other students didn't look as far as careers, but instead looked at making friends in the Upper School. Others wanted to get into fine colleges, while still others wanted to be athletes or some other kind of celebrity.

As you can see, these Form IV students are more mature than the Form IV students of years before. It will be interesting to see if these aspirations are achieved, but until then — GOOD LUCK!

A School Of

FASHION!!

Every Wednesday the entire student body at Country Day is treated to a fashion show. Parading down the Middle School halls are eighth-graders, exhibiting the latest in styles. They are especially keen on Benetton's easy knit sweaters. On these special "casual days", the Middle School classrooms, lunchrooms, and hallways are brightened by sweaters of every color and shape in the rainbow.

The Gap, with its All-American assortment of jeans, cinos, rugby shirts and sweatshirts, has become the off-campus co-op for the middle schoolers. We at Country Day also get a taste of the Gap's soft sports when the middle schoolers have "casual days". On these special occasions, they may wear the clothing and accoutrements of their choosing.

It's not rare that a middle schooler is sighted creeping down a side hall wearing an illegal jean jacket. But they "LOOOOOOVE" Guess's fresh denims! They're also fond of Espirit's fun, easy-to-wear clothes that relate to each other by color and fabric. Banana Republic's hiking, "roughin' it" look is really "in" at the Middle School dances. Banana Republic, with its jungle soundtrack and safari-inspired clothing, is the out-of-africa and into-the-shopping-centers division of the Gap. When decked in the earth-tone fabrics of Banana Republic, what better way could the middle schoolers rebel against plaid skirts and striped ties?

Mr. Prosperi exhibits the latest in the Country Day line of "Administrative Athletic Wear".

KEEPS IN TOUCH

M/S Mother's Association

The Middle School Mother's Association is a liaison between parents and faculty, and the students too. "We are the middle-people assisting with functions and fund raisers," said Mrs. Winkelman, Vice-President of the M/S MA. Faculty members frequently ask the association for assistance with various functions. The group is involved with the level dances and parties. It provides the M/S with donations, decorations and chaperones. The M/S MA helped the Scholarship Barbeque with their bake sale in 1985. The association sponsors such events as the Fashion Show Luncheon, and the Father-Daughter Dinner Dance. The mothers give a Teacher Appreciation Luncheon in January and June. They also have provided the M/S with donations needed for video equipment.

The M/S MA has recently joined the Birmingham-Bloomfield Women's League, which provides troubled people with counseling and referral.

Mothers attend monthly meetings to keep in touch with the board and faculty. "We should be the M/S Parents Association," said one mother. "We should like to see more fathers feel welcome at our meetings."

The Middle School Mother's officers are President—Haran Farah; Vice-President—Barbara Winkelman; Secretary—Barbara Gell; Treasurer—Pat Taylor.

Fast Day: '86

The International Service Club's Annual Fast Day was held this year on Thursday, November 20, 1986. This day happened to fall one week exactly before Thanksgiving. This year, to celebrate the 6th Annual Fast Day, a large rainbow with six different colors was used as the symbol.

Besides being the Fast Day Symbol, the rainbow is also the symbol of the United Nation's Operation Rainbow, which aids the hungry in the countries of Africa.

On Thursday at 11:00 a.m., the Middlers met during lunchtime in the Learning Center to listen to the guest speaker and watch the promised entertainment. The purpose of this was to prevent students from getting hungry during their normal lunch period. The host of Fast Day: '86, Mr. Joseph, "Jo-seppi" Hansen, explained the meaning of fasting and reviewed the last five years of Detroit Country Day School's Fast Days with television and VCR's.

This year's speaker was Mother Waddles, head of the Mother Waddle's Perpetual Mission. The Mission has many soup kitchens in various cities, even in Detroit. Mother Waddles spoke of her 30 years in the business of helping people by feeding the poor and hungry. She also thanked DCDS for supporting her Mission by holding a canned-food drive.

At the end of the assembly, Mr. Hansen played a song on the speaker system representing the aiding of the hungry. The title was "Hands Across America." At this point the whole room stood up, joined hands and sang together. Students left on a happy note, forgetting empty stomachs.

Form III Class Board

The Form III Class Board consisted of Varissa Bori-boon as the President, Jeremy Michaelson as the Vice-President, Shana Simonenka as the Secretary and Joey Schock as the Treasurer. Patti Campos and Zachary Sharon are also board members. They attended all the meetings and contributed ideas and opinions. The class adviser was Mrs. Carole Russell, who also helped with ideas for events.

The board was involved in many Middle School events. They assisted the Student Council with its campaign: "Coats For Kids". They also raised money for an organization called the "Rainbow Connection." This group helped to make needy and sick children's dreams come true. Form III raised the money mainly through dances and bagel sales. They also sponsored a successful chocolate bar sale early in the year that added to the sum. The Form III class used some of this money to sponsor a dance for the sixth grade at the end of the year. They saved some of the money in order to throw a graduation dance next year. Most of the money, however, was used in generous donations to the less fortunate.

Board Members are: Varissa Bori-boon—President; Jeremy Michaelson—Vice-President; Shana Simonenka—Secretary; Joey Schock—Treasurer; Patti Campos—Representative; Jack Sharon—Representative.

Form II Class Board

The newcomers to the Class Board circuit are Form II. Although this is their second year in the Middle School, due to the new Junior School, they are still the youngest. Last year, as Form I, the Class Board was unable to accomplish much because of their inexperience. This year, however, promised to be much better, as they had more experience and a new advisor.

Mr. Joe Lopez, the new Form II Class Advisor, also new to the Middle School, had the energy to keep things interesting. His youthful ways and ideas related well to the students, and he gained their trust and respect.

This year, the Board decided to stray from the path of "Parties Only", to help others. They helped to sponsor the long running "Coats for Kids" project which has students collecting old and unwanted coats, hats, gloves and sweaters to give to the needy children in Detroit. On the lighter side, the Board is also raised money through bagel sales, to feed the birds living around the school.

Class Board members are: Elizabeth Walker — President; Alan Wang — Vice-President; Megan Tucker — Secretary; Drew Nagle — Treasurer; Maude Tanswai — Representative; Melanie Heinan — Representative; Sotirios Kyriakopoulos — Representative.

Student Council

FORM II CLASS BOARD: Leaders of the class of '98 are shown with class advisor Mrs. Goldberg. This small, select group helped to direct their class in activities including the February movie party with Form I, roller skating at Bonaventure Arena in March, and a trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts. The class enthusiastically participated in math and science competition, as well as an exciting ski trip with Mr. Hansen.

The Middle School Student Council participated in many activities throughout the course of the year. Their activities included raising money for various charitable organizations throughout the area, and promoting school spirit.

The council also participated in a "coats for kids" campaign in which coats that are no longer of any use to the owner are taken to a local mall. The coats are donated to children who do not have shielding from the perils of winter.

The council also took part in a fund raiser for the Michigan Humane Society. The money raised is to go to the animals. The goal for the council and the rest of the middle school is to raise $500.

A drive to raise money by the Middle School Student Council helped Mr. Chodun with his Feed the Birds Project.

To promote school spirit the council also provides fund raisers in which all of the classes can participate. The council is headed by Rob Parker as President, Tara Jung as Vice President, Wendy Goldberg as Secretary, and Malynda Hall as Treasurer. Under the guidance of these people, the Middle School Student Council has done a great job!

Moving Up With M/S Dances

The middle school takes part in several dances throughout the course of the year. The dances usually last from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. on Friday nights. Each dance also has a theme such as "The Moving Up Dance" in which the sixth, the seventh and the eighth graders participate in.

In order to find out how much the students in the middle school enjoyed the dances, we interviewed several of the students, and when we asked Angie why she thought the dances were exciting this is what she said.

"Dances are exciting because they give you a chance to socialize, to forget about school and to just have fun."

This year the form advisors decided to put restrictions on the dances. Once inside the dance students aren't allowed to leave, and to participate in the dance each student is required to have a permission slip signed by parents.

Mr. Chodun, the Form IV advisor, is the sole organizer of the dances, and when asked the reason for the restrictions this is what he had to say.

"Children aren't allowed outside for their own personal safety. The rest of the teachers and myself can't supervise inside and outside at the same time. If the students have a tendency to wander we don't know where they go or with whom they are with. We are responsible for their personal safety. The permission slip is required so that the parents are fully aware of what time the dances end. On one occasion the parents didn't come until 12:00 a.m. which isn't fair to the class advisors. They have to stay until every student has been picked up."

As far as the price of the food is concerned, all of the money goes right back into the class account which in turn goes to funding for the next dance. The money also funds the Form IV graduation dance which takes place every year in the month of May. All in all the dances are a success and many students anxiously await the arrival of the next dance.

Mr. Chodun states that "We hope next year's dances will be as well attended."

International Service

The international Service Club, headed by Mr. Joseph Hanson, is a favorite among the middle school students. This club, with its thirty members, represents the United Nations Forum of the General Assembly and uses that format for the club meetings. Each member of the club represents an ambassador to a certain country, and when they meet, these members discuss world issues and problems. The goal of each meeting is to find an ideal way of solving problems drawn from actual current events.

The club also donates to many different organizations. Students are involved in fundraisers, and have donated to the relief fund for victims of the El-Salvador earthquake among other causes this year. The international Service Club has also been the sponsor of Country Day's fast day for six years, and hopes to continue this tradition. In May of 1986, many of the club members joined other students in Toledo for the joining of Hands Across America.

When a member of the club was asked about how he liked it, he said "It's fun! We take the current world issues and actually act them out." "The bad part about the club is that it only meets every six days, which means we meet, maybe, every two weeks, if we're lucky," countered another member. Club members share the impression that, for once, history is actually FUN to learn!

Marine Fitness Club

Marine Corps Fitness is a Middle School Club. The club's advisor is Mr. Frank Orlando. This fitness program is designed to get students into better physical shape, and is nationally organized by the Marine Corps. Detroit Country Day is one of the first schools to offer the program to Middle School students. Because of this, Country Day students are unable to compete with other schools. In most high schools, nationwide, however, the Youth Fitness Team is considered a Varsity Sport and they do compete with many other schools. Despite not being able to compete, the Country Day students work hard to increase their strength and ability in each of the following five events: sit-ups, push-ups, pull ups, the standing broad jump and the 300 yard shuttle run.

The club plans to visit Rochester High School, which has one of the best Youth Physical Fitness teams in Michigan, and has also won National awards at a yearly Youth Fitness championship in Washington, D.C., sponsored by the Marine Corps.

Remote Control Vehicles

The Remote Control Vehicle Club is a brand new club in middle school, and is headed by Mr. Tremblay. Mr. Tremblay first thought of having the club because he himself had a remote control car. He got his first vehicle at a young age and continues to love the "sport." He feels that because the club is not academically oriented, it gives the kids a chance to relax and have fun. "They also learn a lot about small engines and the mechanical parts which are involved in the remote control vehicles."

The club, which contains only boys, although girls are allowed, meets about every week. When they meet they go into the gyms, or even outdoors, and control their vehicles. Some of the kids even make jumps and different "tough courses" for their vehicle to go on. Most of the boys have race-car type vehicles, but a few have just plain cars, and even jeeps.

Mr. Tremblay is hoping that his club members will get addicted to remote control just as he did. "If they like them that much, they can race them in the remote control vehicle races which are held in the summers." That would be kind of a fun thing to do, huh?

Modern Issues Club

HIGHLIGHTS HISTORY

The Modern Issues Club Headed by Mr. Dowd is a new edition to the middle school list of clubs. Just as the Literary Club is affiliated with English and headed by English teachers, the science club is affiliated with science and headed by science teachers. The Modern Issues Club is affiliated with History and headed by Mr. Dowd.

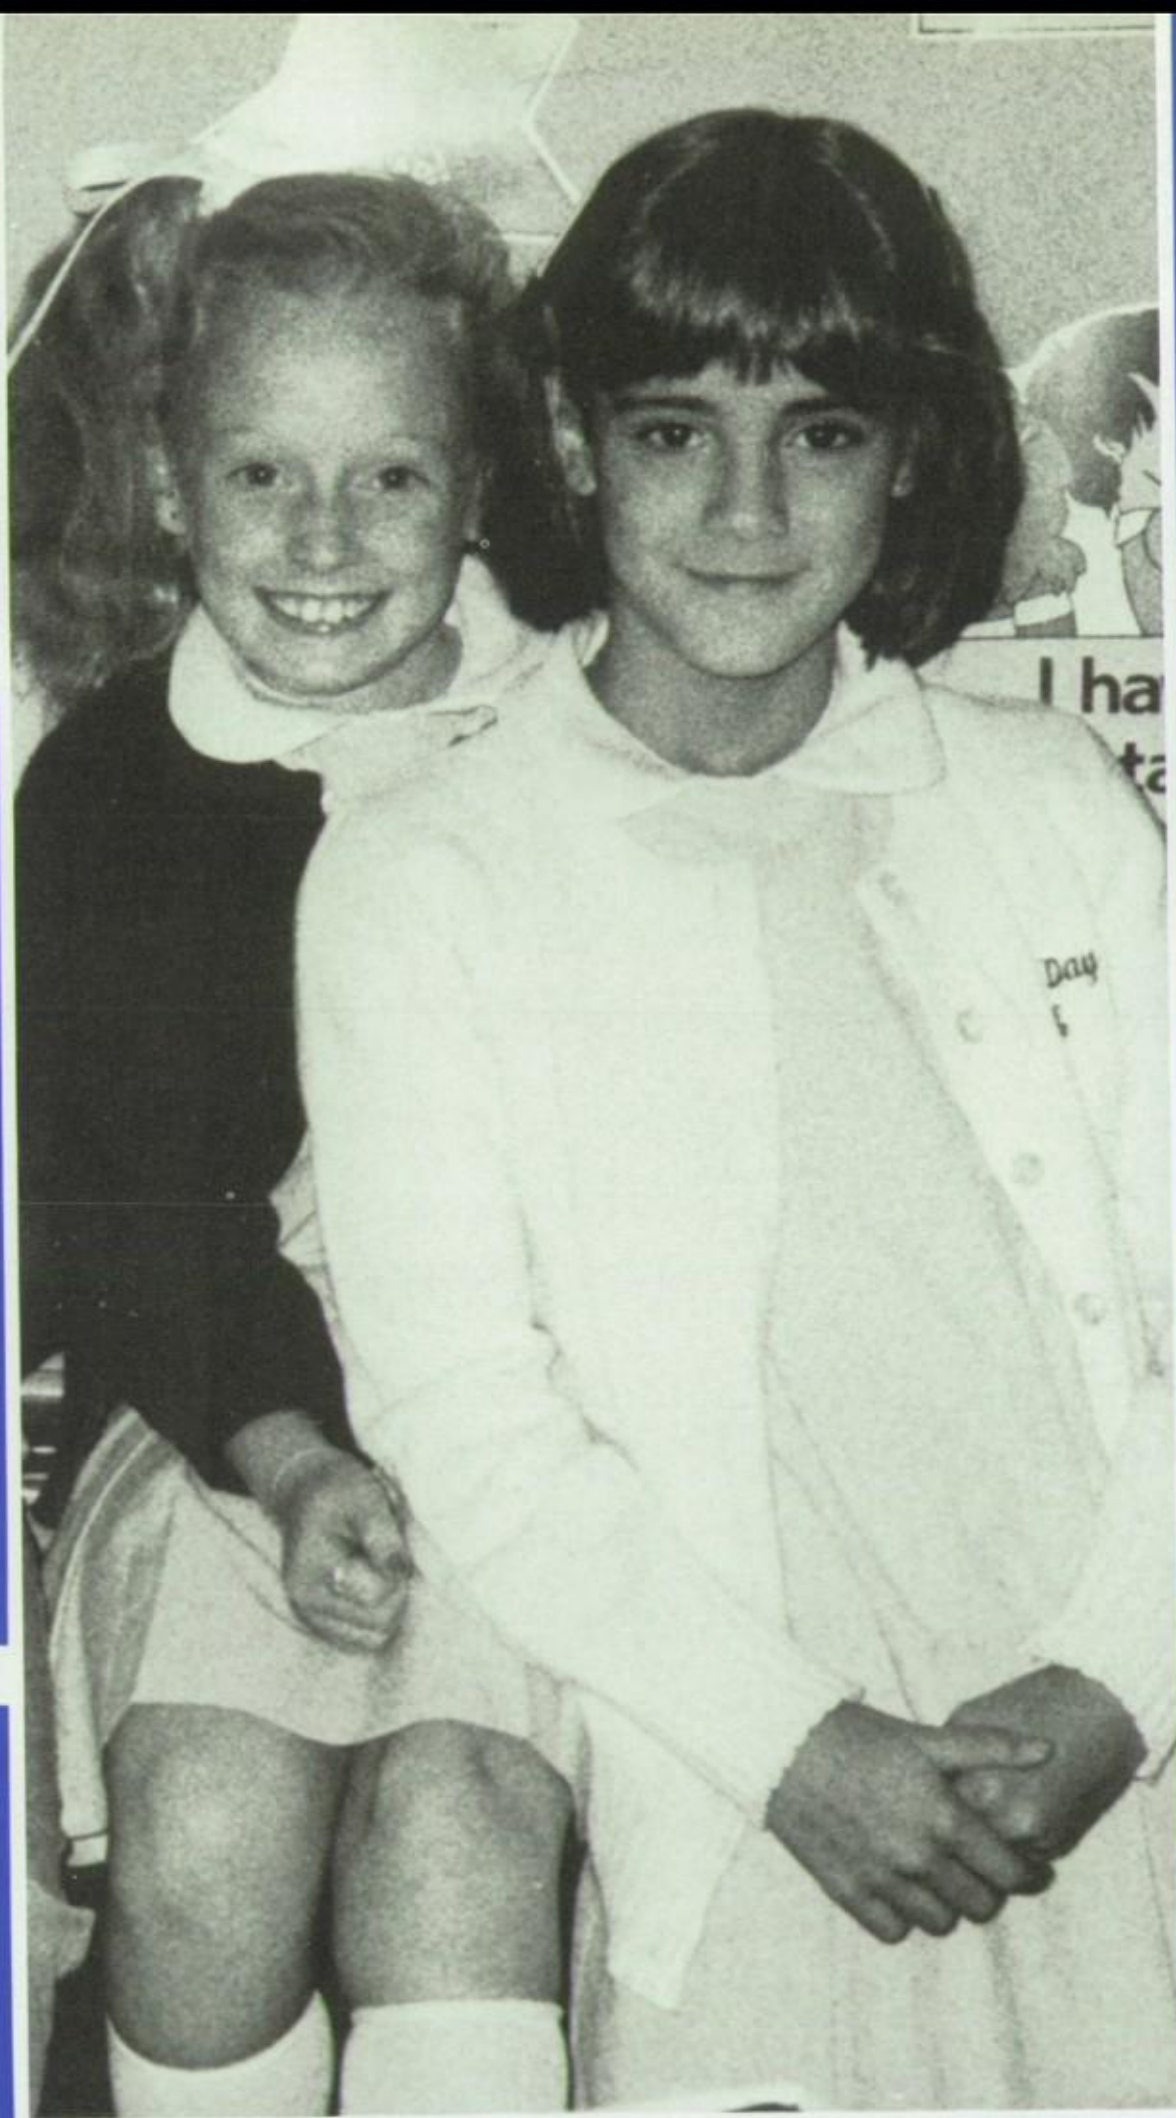

The club is modelled after the Upper school club headed by Mrs. Boesky. The members of the club debate on many modern issues such as rape, abortion, global thermonuclear war, the drug problem, alcohol and child abuse.

The club is run much like a debating club in its format. Issues are brought up, and the club debates and tries to come up with the best conclusion possible.

JUNIOR SCHOOL

Say "Hello" to the new school near 15 mile and Lahser. This year the Country Day family welcomes the Junior School. It includes the third, fourth and fifth grades. It has helped to separate these grades and put them in an environment that best suits their age groups. Here sports, radios and current fashions begin to co-exist with dolls and teddybears as students rapidly develop. . .

The Form I Experience

When the Junior School students reach Form I, they are introduced to a departmentalized curriculum as a transition between the junior and Middle schools. They change classrooms and teachers hourly and are presented with a program similar in many ways to that of the Middle School, but in a much more confined area which is more appropriate to their age level.

The Form I English program focuses on the development of reading, writing, spelling, and speaking skills. Reading activities include Uninterrupted Sustained Silent Reading, short stories, novels, poems, and plays. One of the most popular events at the junior school is the annual burial of the Form I time capsule. The students in Form I must choose items or articles that are significant to the year, and store them for later recovery.

Students in form I are not new to the role of leadership as the oldest class in their school. Before this fall, they were already the oldest students of the former Lower School. When Middle School made a transition this fall from all Forms I to IV, to only Forms II, III, and IV, the graduating class of the Lower School simply became the graduating class for a second year. Teachers were delighted with this more mature group of students, and several new faculty joined the staff at Junior School to accommodate a new curriculum for older students. One administrator remarked "saying good-bye to Form I next year after their long stay at this school will be even more sad than usual."

Dress Code: Get USED TO IT!

As Country Day students get older, the dress code becomes a source of conflict. What we often forget, however, is that the junior school has a dress code, too. The dress code was created to "minimize social competition via clothing, emphasize a sense of group unity and create an orderly atmosphere for student accomplishment."

For the young men, the uniform is grey or navy trousers, a white of light blue oxford-cloth shirt, school tie, sweater and dress shoes. The young ladies must wear a plaid jumper and a white or light blue blouse, navy or dark green knee socks or tights, a sweater and dress shoes. The form I girls wear the blue plaid school kilt with a white blouse, school sweater, navy blue knee socks and dress shoes.

"It's not that bad," said one Junior Schooler while running by on the playground, "you get used to it."

FOOTBALL PEP RALLY: A J/S TRADITION

For years now, as long as Mr. D'Angelo has been with Country Day, there has been the tradition of the Pep Rally. As long as one can remember being in the 4th grade in awe of the seemingly huge football players arrayed on the stage. Mr. D'Angelo would introduce them individually, then the band would strike up a few chords of "Hail to the Victors" and everyone would go wild. The Pep Rallies serve to pump the team up, take a little break from daily class routine, and generally get everyone's spirits going. The cheering contest plays a key part in the rally also, and everyone leaves slightly hoarse. The cheerleaders demonstrate their skill in a quick exhibition, and lead the crowd. Truly, in the life of a Junior Schooler there is no greater thrill.

Form IV Academics . . .

A Closer Look

In the middle year of Junior School, students develop in many directions. Substantial selections of literature, vocabulary study and dictionary work are stressed in the English department in Form IV. Through group and independent work, children become more skilled in problem-solving, and book reports are continually assigned. Speaking skills and grammar are stressed, while library and research skills were greatly expanded this year.

In mathematics, geometry and computer programming added variety to reinforcement of decimals and fractions in drill work. In social studies, Form IV students took trips to enrich their study of the history of Michigan, as well map and global skills. The study of history in this year begins with agrarian or farm society, and studies the changes in sequence through the industrial revolution.

If Junior School students look happy, it is partly because they enjoy learning! Thanks to exciting teaching and lots of hard work, Form IV is a very productive year.

RELAXING After School

At the end of a grueling academic day, the junior school students have a chance to relax and enjoy themselves through the P.M. program. This is an optional program that provides students with the opportunity to have fun with sports and other creative activities, such as aerobics and drama. The P.M. program also enables students to relate with their teachers in a less formal atmosphere than that of the classroom. Recreational sports include soccer and touch football. Classes also include creative writing, music, dance, choir, computer programming. Drama is a unique facet of this afterschool program. This allows students to write and perform their own theatrical material. The P.M. program is valuable because it permits students to exert themselves before returning home to do homework. Since inter-school athletics are not available at this level many students do stay after school to take advantage of these varied opportunities, which many thoroughly enjoy.

Level two is the class that leads the new Lower School. They carry a great responsibility to set an example for the youngest students at Detroit Country Day School.

These "seniors" are preparing to make the jump to Junior School and third grade next year. This year, homework will become a greater load. Facing this challenge readies them for the day when they will attend college, even at this early age. Students of Level Two will be graduating into their professions in the 21st century.

Already, the students of level two have demonstrated their flexibility and leadership in heading a new school at a new campus. According to Lower School Director Ruth Rebold, "they have lead the way in adjusting to a new environment" and this year demonstrated a surprising degree of academic potential.

Special Experiences For The NEW UPPERCLASSMEN

For the first year, the Level One classes were nearer top of the heap in Lower School because of the reorganization of campuses. Their curriculum did not change this year, but the special breed of teachers in the Lower School brought more magic to their classes than ever. "Different teachers put their own personality into their program in different ways" explained Mrs. Miller, a six year veteran of the Level One.

This year Mrs. Miller's class met a well-loved but scraggly little brown bear named Theodore, or "Theo" for short. Theo traveled in a bag with a scrapbook, and was an integral element of Mrs. Miller's reading and writing studies. You see, Theo was a houseguest for two days at the home of every one of Mrs. Miller's students. While visiting, students helped Theo to record his experiences by writing and drawing pictures, or even taking photographs for the scrapbook. When Theo returned to class a few days later, each host or hostess then had the opportunity to read aloud the new entries in the scrapbook. Students felt this was the "most special thing" about their Level One learning, and next year, even more Theos may be visiting in Level One homes.

Alison Bihler, Jim English, and Julie Snider are entranced with Show and Tell above. Right: Theo describes his visit to a level I Home in Mrs. Miller's class.

Little People Meet BIG CHALLENGES

Kindergarteners enjoy a varied curriculum of study, play, and assemblies. To enhance the development of reading, printing, and working with numbers, every Lower School classroom has a computer. Students read illustrated favorites such as Winnie the Pooh through study of phonics and sight vocabulary words. All kindergarten classes meet together for an entire day.

For playtime, students congregate around the big toy, or may be invited to visit in Mrs. Rebold's "Bear Room." "Children really enjoy this special treat" remarked one Lower School teacher. Singing and dramatics are augmented by special all-school assemblies, and often students boarded busses this year to travel to a cider mill, a festival, or to the upper school to celebrate school-wide events.

First Day of School JITTERS

It was a rocky start for the "youngest members of the" Lower School. Not only was the School new, but the students didn't want to be there. Many of the students were reluctant to leave the sides of their parents, but through some persistence by the administration, the students embarked on their first day of school.

The first days of school followed the same general pattern, but it became easier for the administration to cajole the students into coming into the school. The students gradually adapted to their new surroundings, and began to not only fit in, but also have fun. The year was under way!

As the year progressed, the students were exposed to new and very different ways to have fun. They had dressup time, performed plays, listened to stories and were exposed to the arts and the out-of-doors. Mrs. Morse, one of the teachers at the Lower School, complimented her students by saying "They're the best bunch of Munchkins I've ever seen."

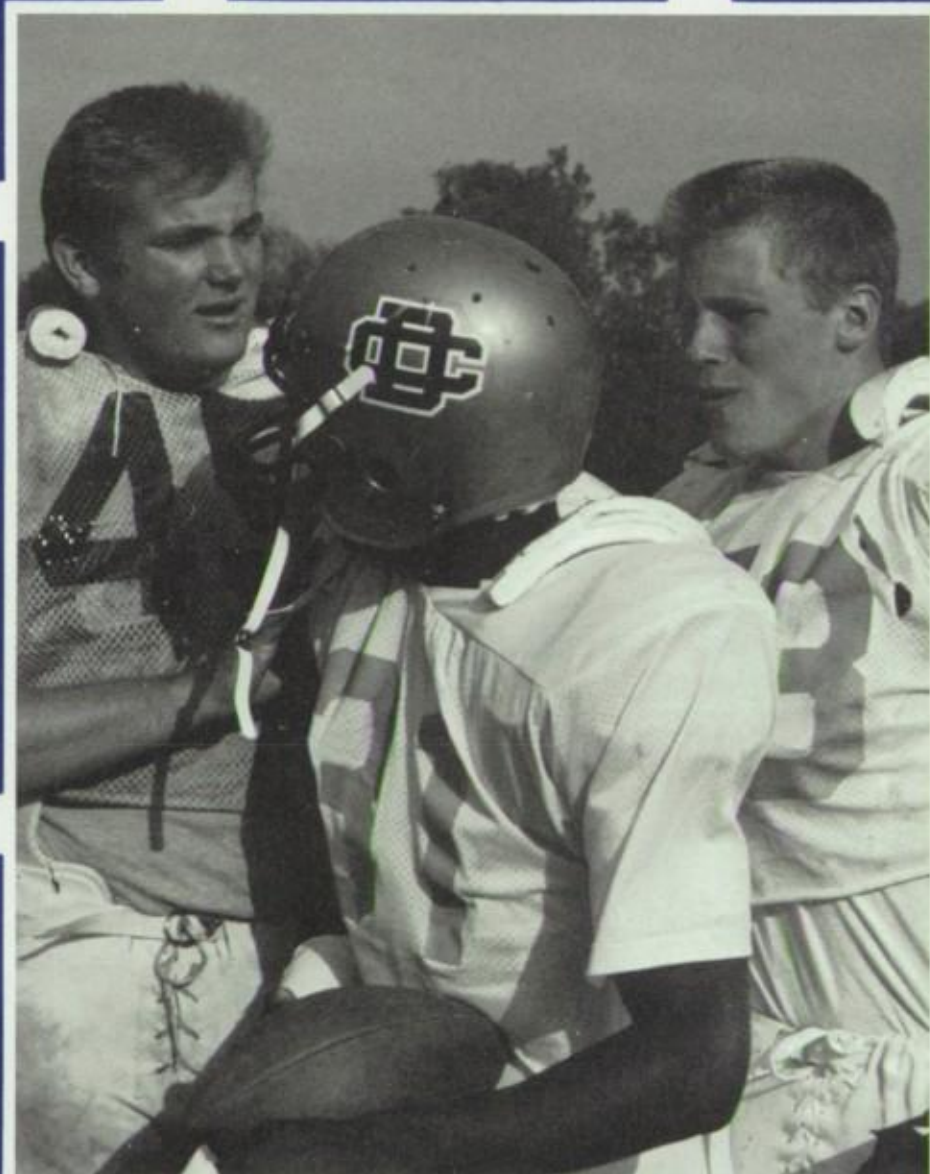

SPORTS

Our school is always striving for the best of everything, and sports is NO exception. State final status was achieved by fifteen teams during the 1986-87 school year. The pages that follow introduce and "say good-bye" to the athletes and the winning moments of this year . . .

Varsity Women's Basketball

VICTORY

BELIEVE IT

The 1987 Women's basketball team had its best season ever. They finished with 19-0, the first undefeated women's basketball record in the history of Country Day.

The team had many season highlights but their greatest accomplishment came at the end when they defeated the number one ranked Depores. Surprising everyone, the girls triumphed over the Eagles by a one point free throw at the last second.

The team began practice in June, and all of the hard work paid off. They captured their second district championship and advanced to the regionals. Under the guidance of head coach, Frank Orlando, and assistant Dave Rosiek, and captains Mary and Marie Bridges, the team was able to go further than ever before. Next year the team is looking forward to an even more successful season although the loss of the seniors will hurt them greatly.

Perhaps the greatest thing that happened to the girls was the sense of unity that grew between them. They were determined to the end and their team motto, "Believe It" carried them through.

Middle School Girls Basketball

Sinks Opponents

The Middle School Girls Varsity Basketball team displayed much effort and talent in their season. Despite their record of five wins and six losses, they really enjoyed themselves, learned a lot, and improved their competitive skills immensely. Coach Thomas Thompson and the girls went on to win against tough opponents such as Kingswood and Roeper. Though all the girls were vital to the team's strategy, some outstanding offensive players were Erin Ringold, Jessica Thomas, and Abha Gupta. Joanne Collins provided excellent defense for the team.

This year's Middle School Girls Junior Varsity Basketball team was one of the best in Country Day history. Their undefeated record of 6-0 against tough opponents shows their promise for next year's Varsity team and as well as the Upper School teams of the future.

Coach David Rosiek and the girls enthusiastic spirit urged them on to victory. Although all the players contributed to the team's success, Jenny Hannett and Amy Goll were voted the most valuable players.

M/S GIRLS FIELD HOCKEY.

The Middle School Field Hockey team was young but determined this year. Comprised entirely of sixth graders, the team was spearheaded by talented play at right inner by Eaton Curtis, and hardworking rookies like Anita Boriboon at wing. Anita was voted most improved, while Eaton was recognized as most valuable, as well as co-captain with Mary Flint and Elizabeth Moore.

Under the leadership of coaches O'Neill and Corcos, the team bravely faced a season of underdog play to competition which often was two years older. When sixth graders from DCD faced eighth graders, they were pleased to take the game to a tie or close loss. Highlights of the season included a tie against Kingswood, and a close loss to Liggett in final moments of a fine Country Day game.

1986 Varsity Field Hockey ...

They Never Gave Up

Under the coaching of Barbara Carlson, the Varsity Field Hockey team started was expected to be a fantastic season. A victorious pre-season scrimmage over Greenhills gave the girls great attitudes. Unfortunately, this win was accompanied by a series of rain storms causing games to be cancelled, practice time to be shortened, and attitudes to be discouraged. Yet, the state championship rested in one final tournament; the Michigan Field Hockey Invitational.

In preparation for this tournament, Mrs. Carlson encouraged the girls to change their drained attitudes. Like the little red engine that could, the girls took on an "I think we can" attitude. At the tournament, they fought to the finish as only one unfortunate loss kept them from the semifinals. The girls were able to defeat the Country Day rivals,

I know We CAN.
Coach Carlson

Kingswood.

Goalie Grete Faulhauber was named All-League First Team, and all of the teams seniors received All-League Honorable Mentions. Through the rain, the sun shined as the team was able to turn their season around and finish glowing with pride and team unity.

Captains Rona and Wadle and Amy Carlson relax between tournament games.

STILL GOING STRONG

This year, the Varsity Women's Tennis team had a fine season. With a record of eight wins and three losses, they were well prepared for an especially fine showing at the Class C-D State tournament. Detroit Country Day hosted the Regionals and captured the title as Kajsa Ferding won at £2 doubles, Robyn Place at £3 singles, Heather Weyand and Suzanne Sellers at £2 doubles, and Manda Hakimi and Aza Pakideh at £3 doubles. Captain Ariane Kemper was also Regional champion at £4 singles. As the team advanced to the State Finals, morale was high, and Coach Gilman's hopes were up. In the finals, Kajsa at £2 singles, and Heather and Suzanne at £2 doubles captured State Championship titles, and lead DCD to a runner up trophy.

Spirit displayed by my team this year. It was this attitude which lead us to victory.

Girls Tennis Volleys Strong

The Middle School Girls Varsity and Junior Varsity Tennis Teams both played very well this year, ending up with a combined record of 5 wins and 3 losses. The teams won many of their toughest matches against Kinswood, Bloomfield Hills Middle School, and East Hills Middle School. Coach Beardsley and the varsity captains Ann Streeper and Nicole Lepage are proud of the teams' performance.

Eventhough the entire team played well, this season's top players were Ann Streeper, Wendy Goldberg, and Varissa Boriboon. These three girls were commended for their excellence in all aspects of the sport.

Cross Country Goes The Distance

The Men's and Women's 1986 Varsity Cross Country teams showed strength this year by achieving distinctions in the past season. The Women's team finished in the top fifteen teams of Class "C". Sophomores Hameera Newman and Ngina Burgette finished sixth and seventh in the State Finals, respectively. In the Men's Finals, Neal Newman won All-Regional honors, and earned his career best times in State finals racing, with an eighth place finish in the individual race.

The regular season records were also outstanding. The men were 5 and 1 in dual meets, and the women were 4 and 0.

Next year, the Men's Varsity will be losing some very key runners like Neal Newman, and Pat O'Neil, the team's first two finishers in all dual meets. The senior varsity contingent also will be losing Vik Parmar and Phil Matton, Jeff Michaelson, and Kevin MacKenzie, but talented underclassmen like Gaj Jung, John Morrison, and Steve Fabian showed strong potential to carry the load as the season progressed. Because this year's team was a young one, only the best can be expected for next year.

The Women's Varsity team should remain strong, with the team qualifying for state finals for the third year in a row. Graduating senior and Marshbank Invitational Medalist Jennifer Sparling held a key third position for the team this year, behind running tandem of cousins Hameera and Ngina. Runs Ahead Of The Pack

The Middle School Cross Country team enjoyed a victorious season under the leadership of Mr. Joe Hansen and Ms. Linda Engler.

The enthusiasm and determination of the Cross Country team contributed to their many wins such as the DCDS Invitational, Friends Invitational and several other championships. They won all their meets but the most outstanding feat of the Middle School Cross Country team occurred at the national level, in which Broch Harvey placed 24th in the country for his age group. Elizabeth Walker also qualified for the nationals and played in state and regional competition.

Plagued by bad weather and lightening storms, the Middle School Cross Country team nevertheless won all its meets. The star runners in the state meet included Fred Toettcher, John Pozik, Craig Nastanski, Tara Jung (captain), Ryan Schneck (captain), Sapna Vyas, Jeremy Ellis, Kevin Shenkman.

Mr. Hansen is pleased with the continuing enthusiasm of the Cross Country team.

M/S FOOTBALL

This year's seventh grade football team encountered great success. The team's final record was 3-1. The most memorable event of the season was the victory over Cranbrook 24-12.

Though the team had little experience coming into the season, Coach Carmichael called the players "hard-working and energetic." This year's most valuable player was Seth Shilling.

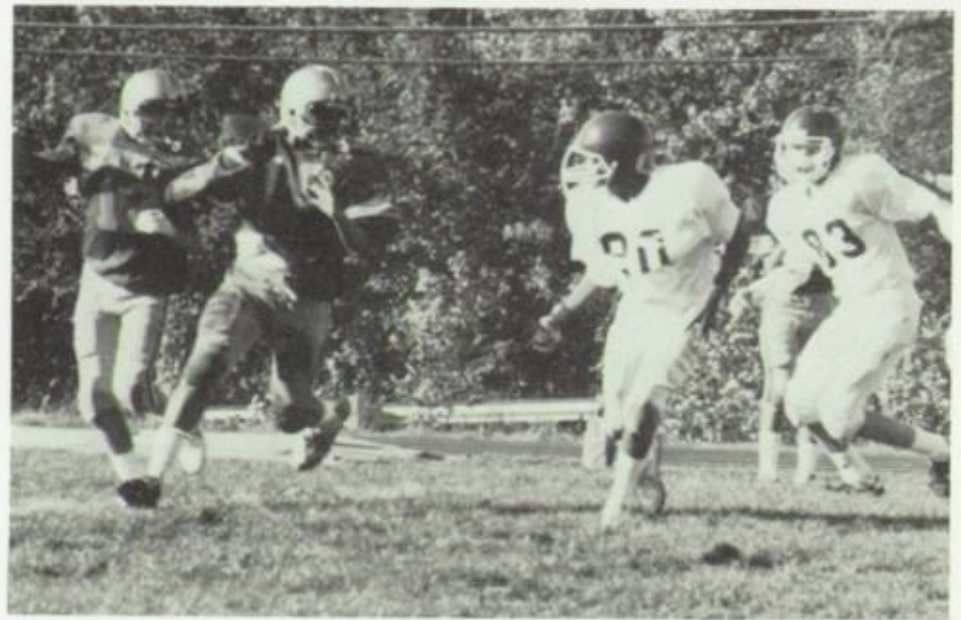

With the same positive attitude, Coach Carmichael feels that next year's eighth grade football team will have another winning season.

This year's eighth grade football team finished with a record of 2-1. The team's most memorable game was the game of the season, a victory over Clarenceville 31-14.

This year there were five most valuable players. They were: Vincent Archer, Mason Backie, Larry Clifford, Darrell Hervey, and Eddie Wolkind.

Coach Lopez said that "the team showed good leadership with experience on the offensive and defensive lines."

Dream Season Ends in State Championship

The 1986 Yellow Jacket Varsity football season was a dream-come-true. The attitude and spirit of the team can be described no better than by recapping its performance on the last drive of the State Championship game. With 2:02 left in the game, Muskegon Catholic Central scored a touchdown to put them ahead 14-12. The Jackets weren't finished though. QB Charles Johnson stepped onto the field and put together a drive with the grace and finesse of a professional. There were less than ten seconds left in the game when the ball was snapped on the historic last play. Johnson lofted a pass into the corner of the endzone as time ran out. To the crowd, it looked as though he had thrown it out of bounds, but it ended up in the hands of Junior Steve Mann. The Jackets had finally won a football State Championship.

The team was led by tri-captains Charles Johnson, Pat Leahy, and Brian Stephens. Brian was Country Day's outstanding tailback for the past four years. He has scored a total of 80 touchdowns, just barely missing the all-time record of 82. He was also elected to the All-State Dream Team which is comprised of the top 25 players in the state, regardless of class.

It's always been my brother's dream to win a state championship, and I am proud to have fulfilled it. - C.J. (MVP)

Next year's team will be under the leadership of co-captains Chris Gliniski and Albert Klemptner. Although the Jackets are losing some key players, next year's squad looks to be just as promising.

Men's Soccer Finishes SHY OF GOAL

The 1986 Varsity Soccer Team played one of the most difficult schedules of any class B-C team this year. They opened their season against several class "A" powerhouses that prepared; them for a long playoff run. The most exciting victory was against Cranbrook in the district finals. The Jackets won the game by a score of 2-1, but only after two overtimes, and a shoot-out. This victory propelled Country Day into the regional games, where they handily defeated Dearborn and Lutheran North by scores of 3-0 and 2-0. By capturing the regional championship, the Jackets advanced into the semifinals against Mason. The Yellowjackets controlled the ball throughout the first half, giving up only one goal on a penalty kick. In the second half, the game was tied up on a goal by Mike Hannagan, but Mason quickly scored again on another penalty kick. With only a few minutes left, this goal took the wind out of Country Day's sails, and Mason went on to score two more goals. Although we outplayed them both halves, fate was against us and the game ended with the score 4-1. Captain Gus Campos summed up his feelings on the season, "It hurts to be just one game away from the finals, but having the chance to advance as far as we did is a memory I won't soon forget."

BIG

The 1986 Varsity Middle School soccer team finished with an impressive 14 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Contributing greatly to this record were forward Ari Nessel, forward Brian Trivax, and middle halfback Jason Larose. These three offensemen scored 85% of the goals. In defense, Brian Marshale and goalie Matt Leigh, who used his size to intimidate opponents, added considerably to the team as well.

Mr. Rajean Tremblav served as the team's coach. Coach Tremblav said that the team's talent was limited at first. However, he knew that they would do well because he had seen the players' determination. Coach Tremblav added "I am especially proud of the team. They proved themselves to be one of the best Middle School A soccer team through dedication and aggressiveness."

The B soccer team, composed of seventh graders, did not achieve a record comparable to that of the A team. Nevertheless, the team ended with a 6-6-2 record. The leaders of the team were Rono Gosh, center midfield, Matt Matasar, goalie, Kenny Lee, right-back, and Robert Stewart, right-wing.

The team's greatest asset was their speed. Coach Ken Paul pointed out that the players' quickness was a key factor to their victories. As in most cases the B team started out slowly but eventually progressed. The team showed good camaraderie, supporting each other at all times. Coach Paul claimed that "most of the players showed potential, and if they work hard enough, they can move up to the A team."

The Jackets Golf Team Swings Into Action

The 1986 Varsity Golf season was full of ups and downs. The season started out kind of slow with a 17th place finish at the Brighton Invitational, but picked up around mid-season. Some of the highlights were victories over Hartland, Harrison, Liggett and Lahser. But then, as all good roller coasters do, the record took a plunge and the regular season ended with four losses in a row, including two to Cranbrook. The Jackets pulled themselves together for a respectable fourth place finish at Regionals.

There were some outstanding performances by individuals this season. Sophomore R. J. Thompson was named to the All-Tri County League First Team, and the All-Area Second Team. Co-captains Jamie McCarthy and Brett Lindgren received All-Area

Honorable Mention awards.

Although the golf team did not reach their full potential this year, there are several returning underclassmen who will try to fill the vacancies left by seniors Jamie McCarthy, Brett Lindgren, and Tony Kim. Hopefully, the golf team will turn itself around next year and become a domi-

A New Coach . . . a Fresh Start

The 1986 cheerleading squad returned with five veterans and one rookie. Cheering with vengeance, they supported the DCDS teams through snow, rain, and sun. When they were "on stage," the student body could see how hard they work, but very few knew of their diligence behind the scenes. The squad also supported the Country Day teams with posters, locker emblems and treats.

Cheer to Win

This year, the Middle School cheerleaders consists of seventh graders. The girls include Jenny Kirschenbaum, Shana Simonenko, Danielle Orlando, Maria Savnacki, Nikia Williams, Nikia Williams, and Marybeth Walsh. The season goes from December to February. Each day the girls extensively practice from 3 to 4 p.m. The girls cheer for the basketball team. Also, the cheerleaders decorate the players' lockers with handmade decorations the day of each game in hope the boys will play well.

The Middle School cheerleading team doesn't have a captain. Instead, all the girls are in charge of the cheers. The two main highlights of the season were the Pep Assembly on February 19th and the Cranbrook game. At the pep assembly a very special pom-pom routine made up by Jenny Kirshenbaum and Shana Simonenka was performed.

J.V. BASKETBALL

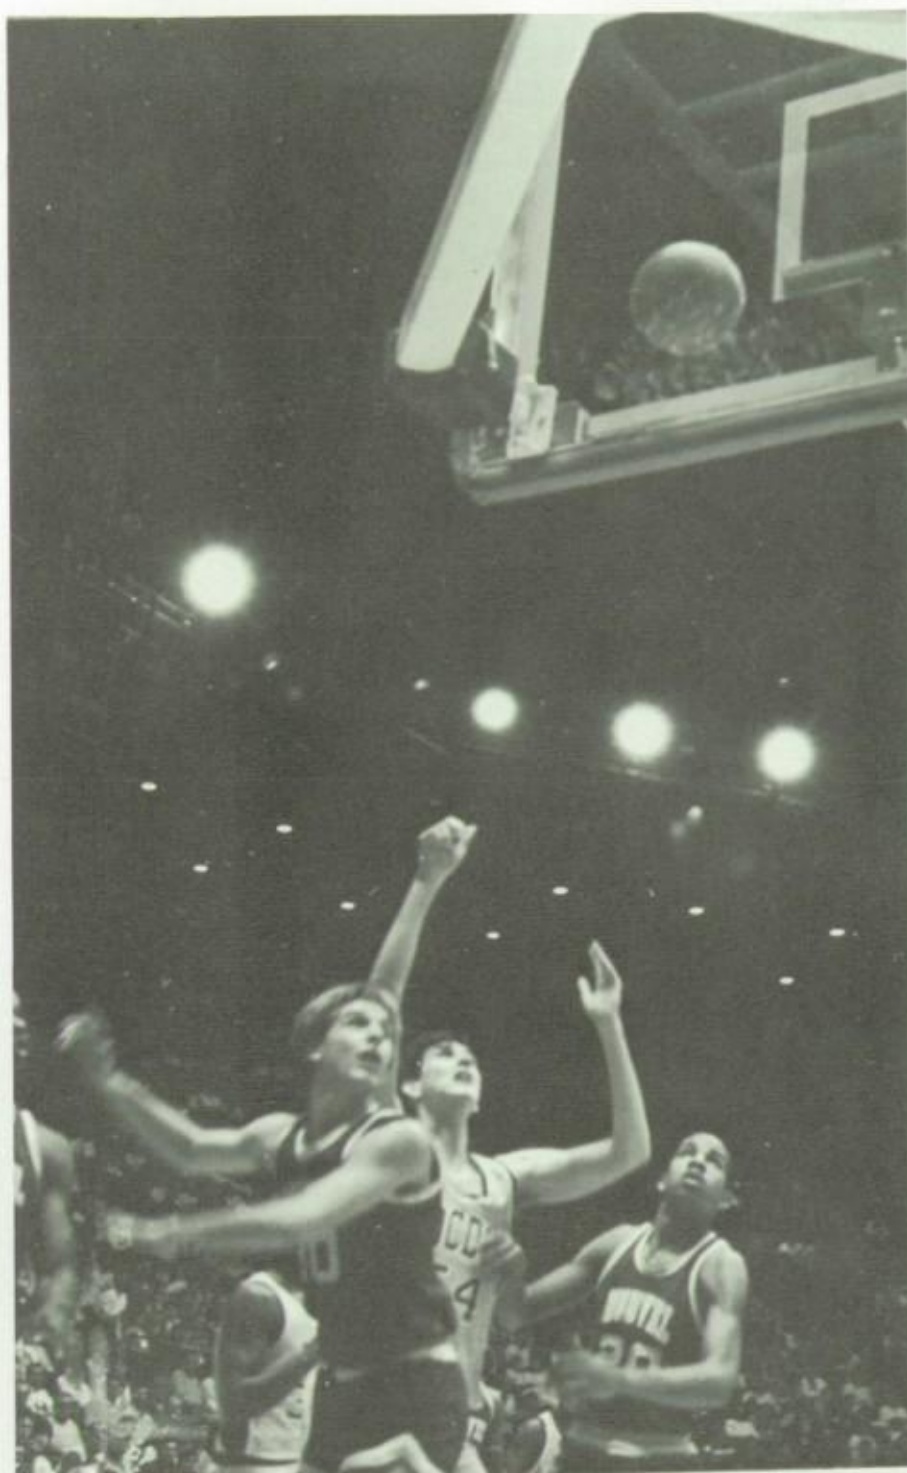

The Country Day Men's Basketball team has once again continued its winning tradition. The Yellow Jackets finished the regular season with a record of 17 and 3. For the second consecutive year, the Yellowjackets won the Interstate Prep School League Championship. The most impressive win of the regular season was a 54 to 53 thriller over Class "C" power Saginaw Nouvel.

For the first time in many years, the Yellow Jackets had a great deal of depth on the squad. No one player was the star in every game. The entire team contributed to their utmost potential under the strong leadership of Charles Johnson, Kerry Keener, and Jimmy Bolden, team tri-captains. C.J., Jimmy Bolden, Todd Holliday, Kirk Van Deusen, and David Ivanko created a dangerous and successful offensive balance, contributing to the team's excellent season. Great contributions were also made by Troy Johnson, Chris Wilson, Andy Slovis,

Chris Kingsepp, David Curtis, Brian Stephens, Rob Conway, and David Williams. Coach Keener and Coach Maloney were fortunate to be given such a great nucleus of players, and with their patience and knowledge created a bond with the team that was very unique to Country achievement also placed them ahead of seven teams, as the only Class C school entered in the regional. Although only one skier qualified for states, some outstanding times for individual runs placed skiers high in their flights. Coach Kostigan remarked, "In ski racing the competitor must make two complete runs, and we had trouble staying up for the second run."

The women's team also claimed a season record of three wins and four losses, earning fourteenth place in regional standing. Swedish exchange student Klara Jelinek performed at her peak in the regional, finishing the season with three first place finishes. Both she and Michelle Roth received All-League honors.

GRUELING SCHEDULE TRAINS FOR STATE PLAYOFFS

The 1986-87 Varsity Hockey team had a 11-15 record, but this is deceptive. This year, the jackets put their sights on the class B-C-D state championship. To prepare for the competition, they took on an extremely difficult schedule. Many of the teams they played are among the best of the area's Midget hockey teams, including Little Caesars, the Falcons, and Art Van.

The team is lead by captains Matt Evo, Mark Spease, and assistant captain Todd Keller. One of the high points of the season was a superb performance in the net by sophomore goalie Joey Aho, who saved over 85% of the shots against him. Some highlights of the year were tying Culver Military Academy after losing to them the night before, and the performances of high scorers Matt Evo, Mark Spease, and Vasik Nedomansky.

The season ended with an unfortunate loss to archrival Cranbrook in the first round of the playoffs. Although the score does not show it, we played excellently in between the Cranbrook surges.

Luckily, the team is graduating only three seniors from this years team, but

Strong juniors must replace 3 seniors stars their talent will be sorely missed. Next season, as the relatively young team comes of age, the Jackets are hoping to turn their record around, and perhaps make it all the way to the finals.

Middle School Hockey

Takes to the Ice

The Middle School Hockey Team, led by Mr. Stanley Chodun, enjoyed a victorious season. Its successful record included six wins and only three losses. All the players greatly improved throughout the season. One of the most memorable games includes the University of Ugget Tournament, in which the team placed second in February, in this tournament and throughout the season. Brian Senkowski and Brian Najor proved to be outstanding players. Other hardworking players include Mike Higuera (Goalie), Jason Emery and Jeremy Ellis. Many sixth grade players proved to be a strong contribution to the team.

Next year, the Middle School Hockey Team is expected to continue its excellent leadership qualities, hard work and most of all its success.

Goalie Mike Higuera anticipates a shot on goal in the final game of the season.

VARSITY WRESTLING

WRESTLING WRAPS UP SEASON WITH STRONG SHOW AT DISTRICTS

The 1986-87 Varsity Wrestling team was very small in comparison to most of the competition. They often lost points in meets because of voids in several weight classes. However, the Jackets became a tightly knit team, manned by exceptionally talented individuals.

Some highlights of the season include the victory over Class C power, Flat Rock, and a strong showing at the Birmingham-Bloomfield meet on the following day. Competing in the Birmingham-Bloomfield meet were perennial challenger Brother Rice, Andover, Lahser, Seaholm, and DCDS. In three of the seven weight classes filled, Mert Eroglu, Mark Redman, and Joe D'Angelo took first place. As a tragic sidelight, it was at this meet that previous state qualifier and Captain, Mark Redman, tore ligaments and was unable to participate in Districts, Regionals, or State Finals.

The Jackets were supported by the talented coaching of veteran Don Corwin and John Prew. The quality of coaching was evident in the proportion of wrestlers who advanced to district and regional meets. At the districts in Morenci, Bob Conte, Joe D'Angelo, and Mert Eroglu each claimed second place, and Ed Honos earned a fourth place, advancing all four wrestlers to Regional level. In that tournament, sophomore Joe D'Angelo placed third, qualifying himself for the state finals.

The team looks to the talented underclassman contingent to continue the winning tradition next year.

M/S WRESTLING

A Winning Attitude Pins Down Improvement

The 1986-87 season began well for middle school wrestlers under the experienced leadership of veteran coach Randy Raymond and assistants Coach Campbell and Coach Prue. The team battled frustration in meet competition as the many rookie starters gained their first match exposure. The cumulative record of 1 win - 6 losses did not reflect the number of close matches or the overall capability of the team. However, the season was brightened by a 60-18 win over Hilbert Junior High School.

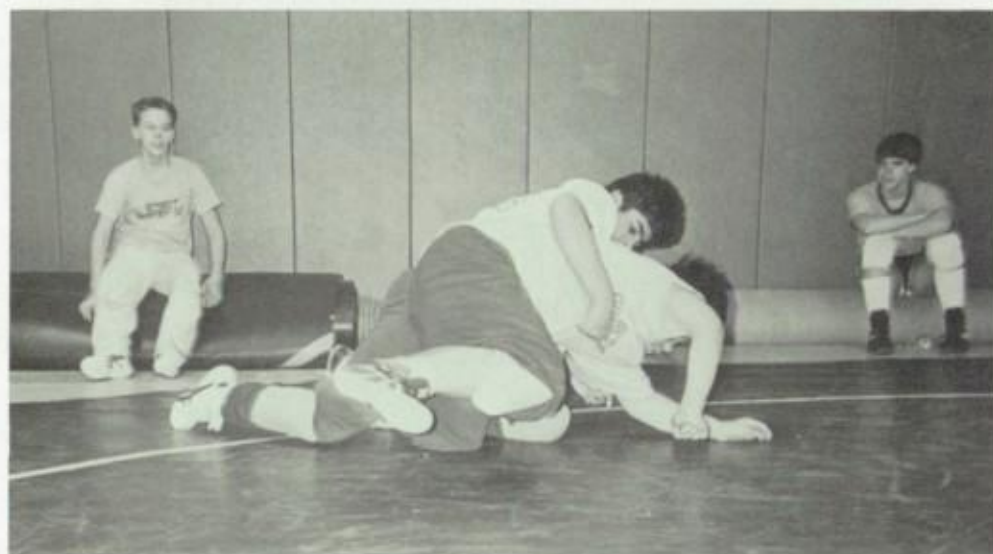

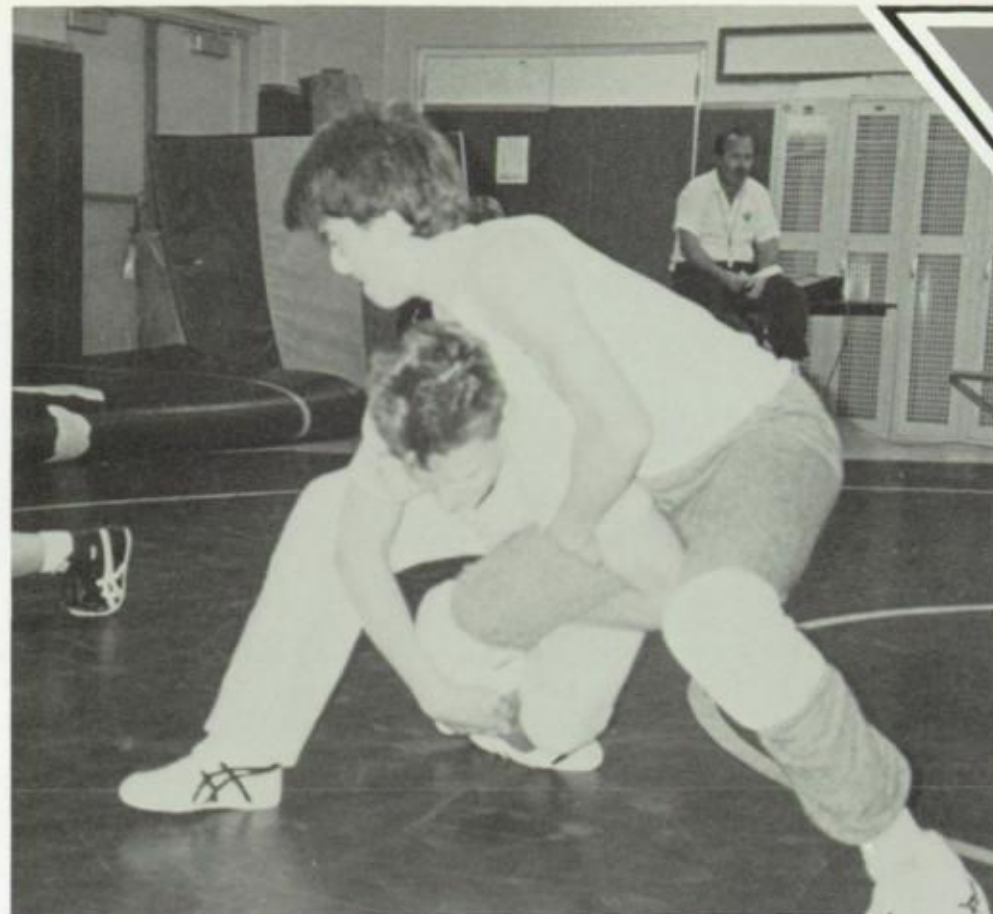

The teams Country Day met in meet competition were all seasoned teams, highly ranked in the area. The schedule included powers such as Webb Junior High, Lincoln Park Junior High, Beecher, and Wolfe Junior High Schools.

Two team members, Corey Foster and Michael Herrgott had an excellent season. A highlight of the winter was the tournament at Lincoln Junior High where Corey Foster won a bronze medal, and Michael Herrgott captured a silver.

All wrestlers displayed an excellent attitude this season, and their many individual efforts and improvements promise more success next season. The team is grateful to its three coaches for all their guidance, and to eighth grade leaders moving on to upper school wrestling next year.

Team" t-shirts as well as "Hug A Swimmer" buttons served to increase school awareness of the team's presence.

The lack of an indoor pool has been a continual problem for the swim team. Because all of their practices and games have been away, many DCDS students were unable to attend due to a general lack of awareness as to where the swim team actually was swimming. Coach John Schwarz has changed all that. His lunchtime announcements, complete with maps and directions, have pinpointed the exact location of his team in the afternoons. Therefore, "there's no reason why every one of you can't come." Special recognition should also be given to Barb and Analisa Behling, who devoted their fall season (Analisa ran Cross Country as well) to swimming as an extension of the team. Their dedication has been tremendous, "so if you see them in the hall, give 'em a hug!"

Swimmers Dive Deep To Be The Best

Our middle school swim team did very well this year with a 5 gain - 3 loss record. The coach, Miss Engler, felt the team swam very well & out-did themselves. Her hope for next year is that more 6th grade swimmers join the team.

The team's captains are Alison Hofley and Fred Miller who helped guide the team to their wins. The outstanding swimmers are Doug Waffan and Greg Behling as well as Mark Dizik & Fred Miller. These guys also qualified for the state meet which will be held at OCC in March. Katie McCann who is the team Diver has been a great asset to the team according to Mrs. Engler, the coach. The team won twice against Hazel Park Beecher & twice against Hazel Park Webb. A TEAM WITH CLASS.

Never before has a team from Country Day competed with such vigor, when backed with so few years of experience. A volleyball team is a small set of women, for our school, who must work as a team to set, bump and spike to the other team's weaknesses. Of the ten on Varsity this year, 5 were sophomores, and four of those five started. Perhaps the age factor reflected the highly talented coaching of Mr. Franke, a former University of Michigan Varsity player, who has lent great enthusiasm to this sport in his two years at Detroit Country Day School. Following his deft coaching instructions, this team accrued an excellent record, highlighted with strenuous games broken only in the second round of the district playoffs.

Volleyball matches consist of fifteen point games, often requiring three of five games to win a match. In an exciting but gruelling marath at home, Country Day battled for over two hours to finally defeat Southfield Christian in a fifth game, after losing their third and fourth game. They met their most challenging competition in matches with Greenhills and later Lutheran East in a heartbreaking loss at districts on March 7th. Despite a fond farewell to Coach Franke, the team welcomes continuing coach Glenn Sheffer and expects much from talented underclassman Allison Evo in next year's season.

The most valuable players on the team would have to be those nominated for All-Midwest: Stacey Lineman and Carol Gillow. Credit should also go to Amy Carlson for an outstanding job as goalie. There were highlights in the season, but with highlights also come disappointments. One highlight was Carol Gillow's DCDS record for most goals scored, with 135

M/S Newest Sport

In their first season, the M/S Softball team learned how to play as a team and improve their skills. Although not victorious they worked cooperatively throughout the season. In early season play the team members worked on batting, throwing and strategies. "Players tried to find positions suited to their individual skills" remarked Coach Carol Balgenorth.

The team's losing streak was nearly broken in a tense game against Holy Family of Rochester. "We dazzled them with our uniforms" reflected Coach Balgenorth.

In 1986, the new Maple Campus fields of the Lower School will provide a badly needed practice surface for softball. Coach Balgenorth feels that having a dirt infield and a grass outfield will greatly contribute to team drills and spirit. As a whole the softball team should be commended for their positive attitude towards the game.

The 1986 Varsity and Junior Varsity Middle School Baseball Teams enjoyed a very profitable season. Mr. Thompson, the varsity coach and Mr. Paul and Mr. Martin, the J.V. coaches are extremely proud of the players' performance. They commend the boys for always giving their best. "I have not seen a team that worked so hard," stated Mr. Paul.

Because of the players' willingness, the coaches feel that the teams improved greatly as the season went on. The players' motivation and determination to improve were a major factor to the teams' success. Mr. Thompson is really looking forward to next season so that he could coach once again these gifted athletes.

THIRD IN THE STATE

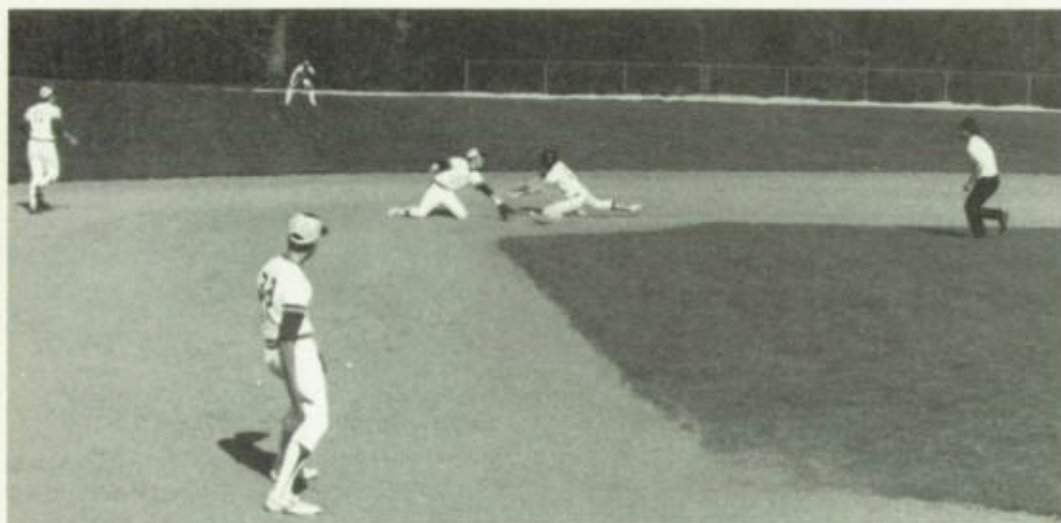

The 1986 Varsity Baseball team had one of the best seasons in Country Day history. After finishing the 1985 campaign with a dismal 3 and 17 record, the team came back to post a record of 17-4. The turn around was due mostly to the experience the players had gained from the year before.

Coach Frank Orlando's squad started out on the right track in the first game of the year when they swept Detroit public school powerhouse Chadsey in a doubleheader. From then on, the Yellowjackets just kept on rolling! Country Day went on to beat many powerhouses such as Warren DeLaSalle, Cranbrook, Ortonville Brandon, and Centerline St. Clement. The pitching corps was led by junior Co-Captain Mark Spease. Spease had a school record of 7-1 and batted .492. Senior Co-Captain Mike Gatmaitan and sophomore Chip Davis showed timely and powerful hitting. Steady defensive play by Charles Johnson and Kerry Keener along with the rest of the Yellowjackets proved to be a key to their success. WOMEN'S TRACK

The Women's Varsity Track Team captured the state championship this spring, for the third year in a row.

Captains Natalie Greenspan and Karen Yuille led the way, serving as capable student leaders for Head Coach George Prosperi and his assistants, Joseph Hansen and Anderson Arnold. Under their deft leadership, the Yellow Jackets ran away with their third straight Spartan Relays Championship. In mid-May, Country Day won its third Regional meet in three years, and qualified eleven girls for the State meet. In this meet, Kristin Sall, Abby Warwick, Ngina Burgette, and Hameera Newman set a new school record in the 3200 meter relay. Shirley Evans dominated the short distances, taking two first places in the 100 and 200 meter dashes, a second in the 400 meter dash, and joining Diane Grauer, Natalie Greenspan and Marie Bridges for a second place finish in the 800 meter relay. Six team members were honored by election to the all-area team.

Middle School Boys Lacrosse

CRADLES TO VICTORY

The 1986 middle school lacrosse team, coached by Charles Duggan and assistant J.V. coach, Mr. Stanley Chodun, displayed both determination and great effort. The team's final record was 0 wins and 6 losses.

The most valuable players of the team were Chip Quarrier at midfield, Ryan Ringold at midfield, Ivan Frank at attack, Frank Baker at midfield, and Matt Graham at both attack and at goal.

Though the team played many close games, the most memorable game of the season was against Country Day's archrival, Cranbrook. DCDS was leading at halftime, but in the last minute of the game, Cranbrook rallied with a scoring rush, defeating Country Day by one goal.

Mr. Duggan hopes that next year's team will be comprised of mostly eighth graders, who can bring their experience and skills to bear. When new seventh graders play varsity, he can only hope that they play with the heart of this year's team. Despite the 1986 team's 0 and 6 record, the team showed promise and was never defeated by more than three goals.

MEN'S LACROSSE

The Lacrosse Team CONTINUES A TRADITION

The Men's Varsity Lacrosse team, with a record of 12-7, was a team that showed much promise this year, but failed to reach its potential until late in the season, during the Midwest Tournament. Everything seemed to fall into place at the tournament. The trip concluded with the Yellow Jackets triumphant 9-8 overtime victory against Western Reserve Academy.

This victory earned the team first place in the "B" bracket of the Midwest Tournament. From that point on the Yellow Jackets began their conquest, starting with a 15-1 victory against L'Anse Creuse North in the Quarter Finals of the state playoffs. Next, the Yellow Jackets defeated the #1 seeded Catholic Central by a score of 9-5 in the Semis, and for the second time in two years, propelled themselves into the State Finals in which they faced Brother Rice. Although the Yellow Jackets put up a good fight, they were defeated 7-5.

The team was lead by captains Tom D'Angelo and Chris Keller, who was also the team M.V.P., as well as an All-American, All-State, and All Midwest player. Also capturing state

'The team had a great deal of individual talent . . . a 16 and 2 J.V. team promises a bright 1987 season.'

honors were Terry Barr, Joel Lerner, Chris Judy, Aaron Frank, and junior Chris Graham. Though the team will have lost many of its top players, next year's team looks very promising and will hopefully capitalize on its talents.

Tennis Team Finishes

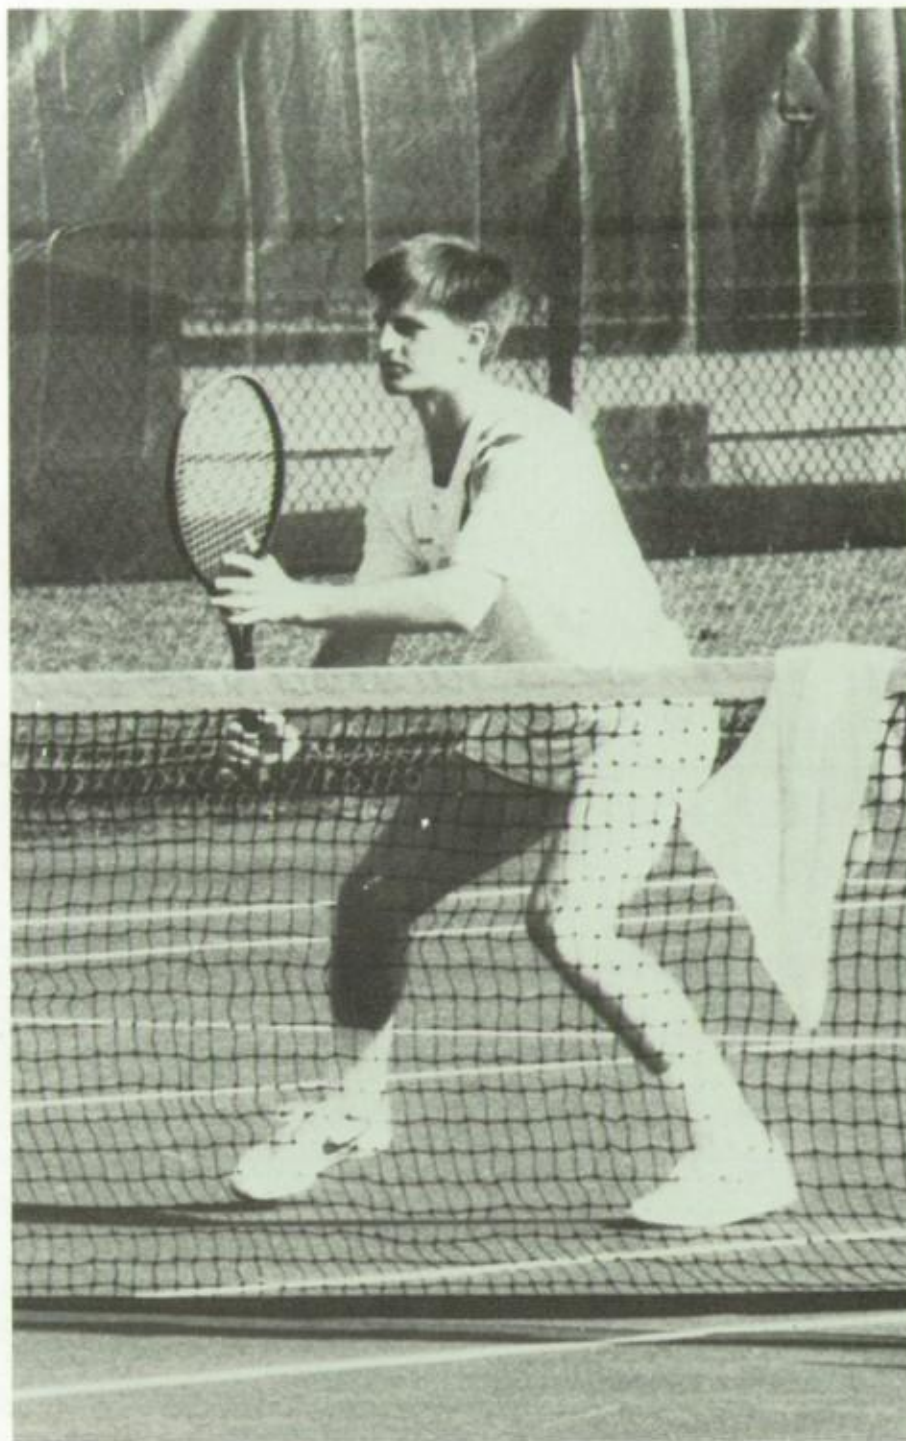

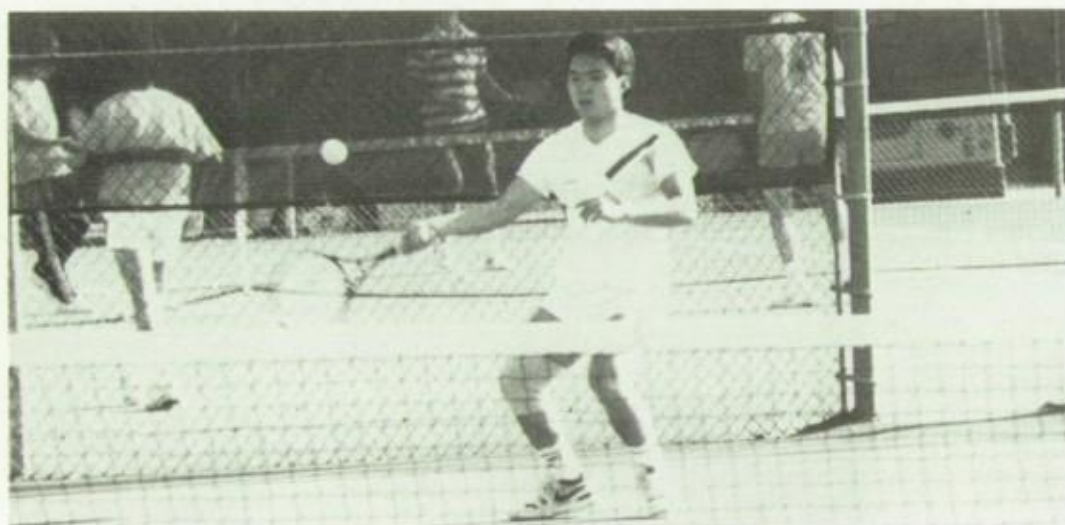

2ND IN STATE

Highlighted by a second place finish at the Country Day State Finals in Holland, Michigan, Detroit Country Day enjoyed an excellent tennis season. The Yellow Jackets' success can be traced to its team depth, four of the seven flights featured Country Day players. The team had champions at number two doubles and number three doubles. The winners at the number two doubles flight were Lawrence Levy, and Albert Klemptner; at the number three doubles were Paras Shah and Bill Passer. Arthur Mojares and Erik Kafarski were finalists at the number one doubles, as well as Alfredo Ospina in the number four singles slot. The Yellow Jackets reached the Semi-finals at the number two and number three singles while Country Day's Men's Tennis in 1986 boasted four state finalists and two state champions!

Omid Amirikia at number one singles lost a close match in the quarters.

Middle School Boys Tennis Serves For The Match

Led by Mr. Rejean Tremblay, the Middle School boys tennis team both improved and excelled in their abilities. Keith Curtis, Eric Keuffel, Ira Place, and Raj Shah all received chevrons especially, for their hard work and dedication these players proved to be an integral part of the team.

Although the overall team record did not really reflect the hard work and determination of the team, the tennis team improved very much throughout the season.

Coach Tremblay hopes this same determination and hard work will continue for seasons to come.

BEHIND THE SCENES

SPORTS FEATURE

Glen Scheffer, known by the students as "Glen" is one of the most important people at Detroit Country Day School. He is not the headmaster, not the president of the board, but the school could not be run without him. As trainer of Country Day, he is indispensable to the athletic program.

Mr. Scheffer is depended on constantly, and often jockeys between two athletic events simultaneously. He was especially busy this year with the extended playing seasons of football and basketball in the state finals, and the outstanding playoff records of most varsity teams. He could be found doing everything from lining the fields before a game, to draining a wound or binding a separated shoulder. On average, he wrapped 40 students each day before practice, and dealt with a constant barrage of injuries from 3:00 to 6:30 on a daily basis.

Mr. Scheffer arrived at Country Day in 1985, and has been carrying a growing number of responsibilities ever since. In addition to caring for the injured athletes, he has coached volleyball and has assisted coached basketball. He is avidly involved in a volleyball league outside of DCDS, and this year, his life was enriched by the adoption of Michael, an 8 year old Guatemalen boy.

I really enjoy Country Day.
I plan to be here for a while.

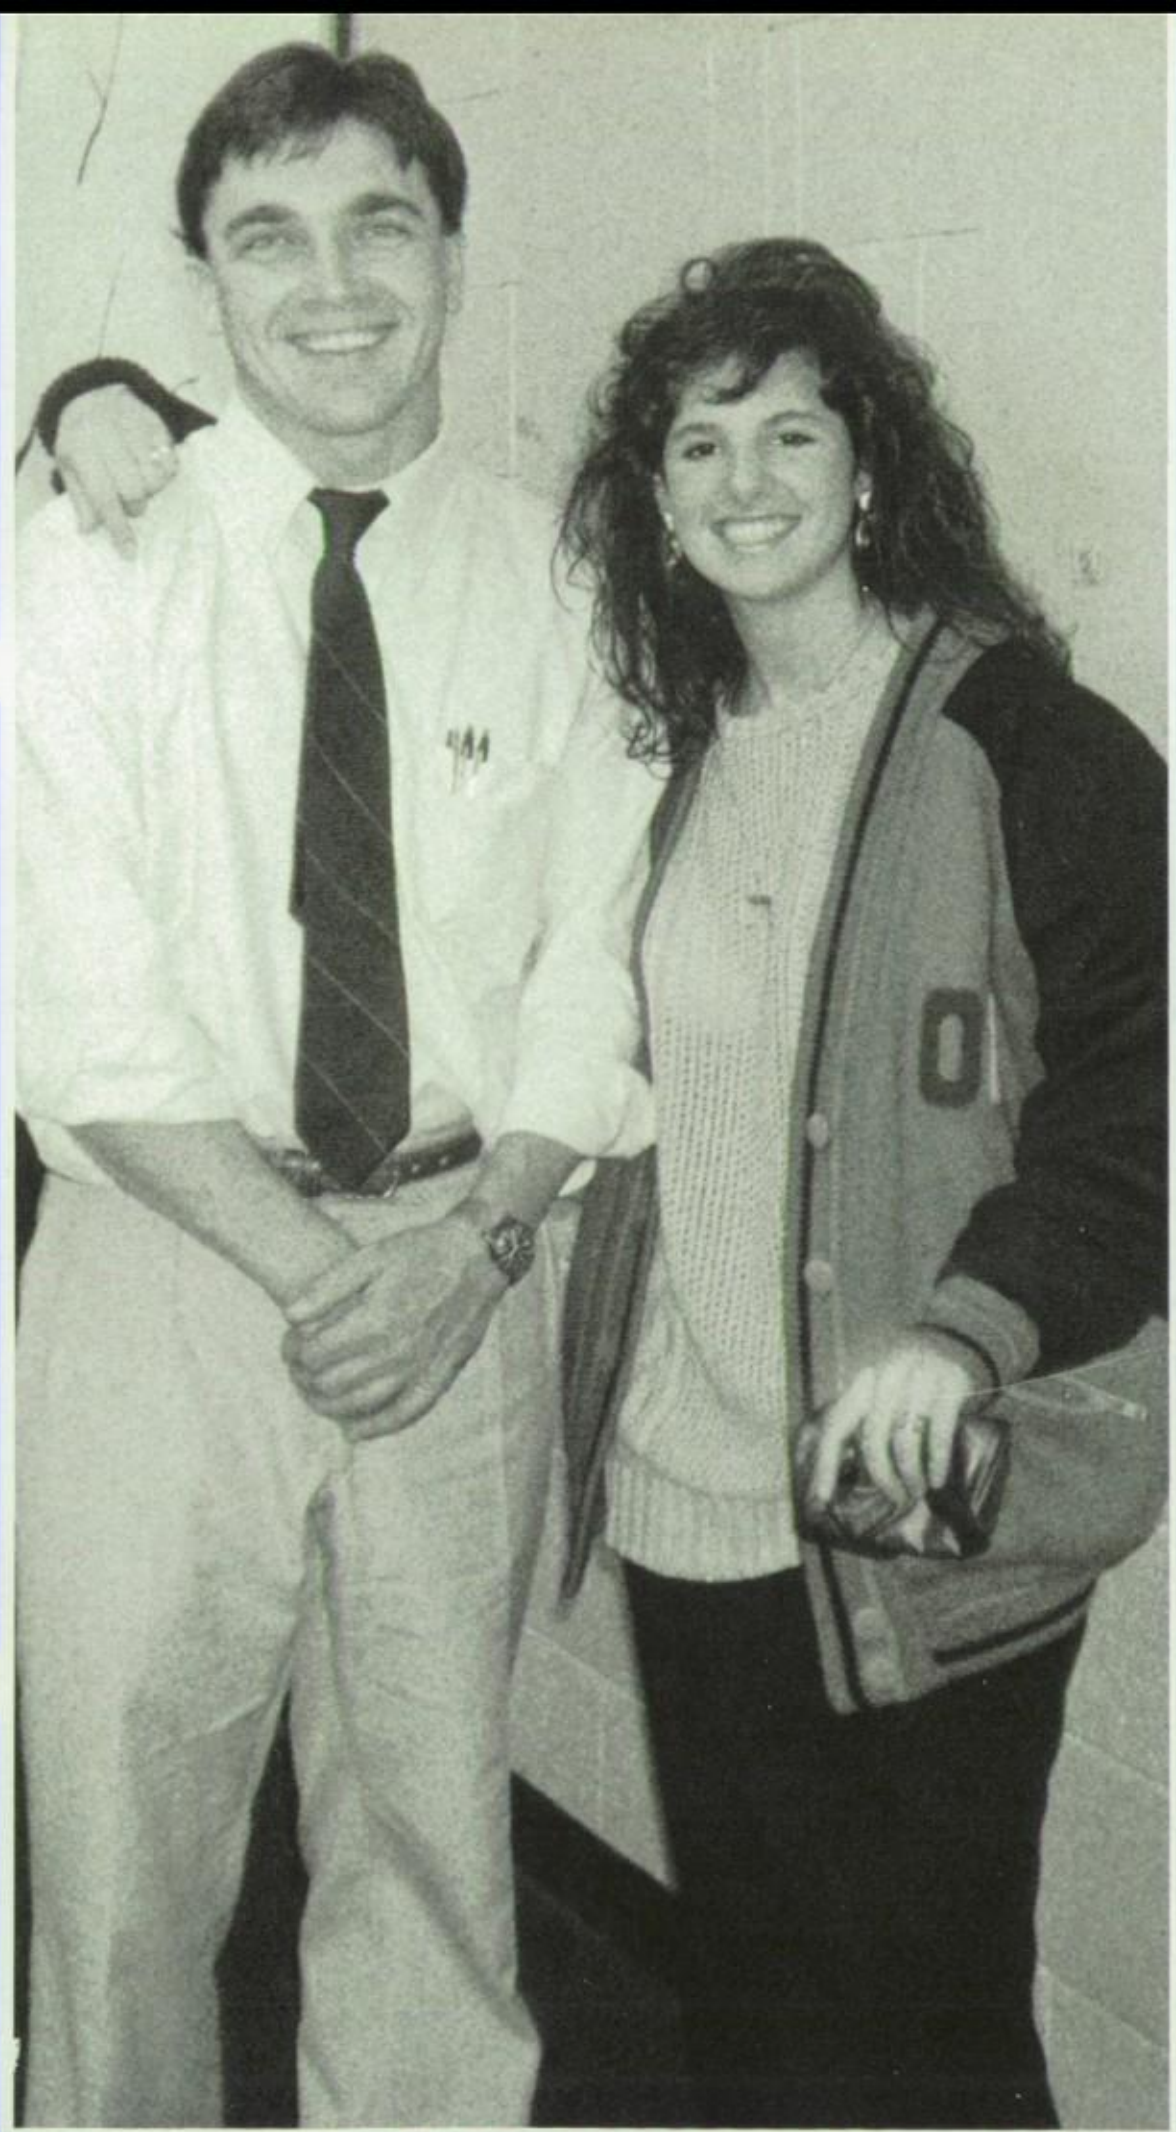

Clockwise from top: Larry Carter helps out, as shin guards fall once again to prevent a soccer injury. John O'Connor brings down the runner, and a temporary neck injury as Captain Andy Huie moves in behind. Glen Scheffer, Detroit Country Day School Trainer.

FACULTY AND STAFF

Touching and shaping lives in so many ways, the faculty of Detroit Country Day are an integral part of the learning experience here. With the addition of a new campus came adjustments and additions to staff, administrators, and faculty. "Say hello" to the many settings and departments that guide and maintain our school . . .

The Selection of a New Headmaster

The 1986-1987 school year brought about many sweeping changes in administration. Receiving most attention was the leave of Dr. Schlegel after 21 years of leadership as Headmaster. During the 1985-1986 school year, a series of committees were formed in order to select Dr. Schlegel's successor. After interviewing prospective candidates, each committee gave their recommendation to the Board of Trustees. As the committees consisted of diverse components of faculty, students, and administration, the final decision reflected the general consensus of the school. This process resulted in the selection of then - Assistant Headmaster Jerry Hansen to take the helm. His familiarity with the school and his new perspective has brought about numerous positive changes in Country Day.

Keeping Up With Alumni

The Department of External Affairs handles all alumni affairs along with all non-student publications.

External Affairs has 1400 alumni students on file with such information as address and occupation. They send out many publications throughout the year: 2 issues of the alumni BeeHive Magazine, four letters and this year external affairs initiated a new publication. They now publish several newsletters which tell what is going on around campus.

They also handle all fund raising efforts. Last year they raised 29,000 dollars from the alumni giving.

The Library Is Growing

This year the library increased the number of its books to 13,000. The Library gets 70 magazines a month.

Two years ago the library purchased a computer to handle all the outgoing and incoming books.

The A.V. department this year purchased 2 new VCR's making the total 10, all with their own monitors. The A.V. department was well used this year. Mr. Paul Laminated 2000 feet of paper per week and has 500 VCR tapes on many different subjects.

Mary Ann deVogel — A Non-Unionist at Heart

Mary Ann deVogel is the newest addition to the Art Department this year. After having taught Mr. Brault's children at Shrine High School, she learned of the open position at Country Day and applied for the job as an art teacher. Her first four years of teaching were at two out-of-state unionized schools. Ms. deVogel found that the union environment was not conducive to quality teaching, so she made the switch to independent, non-unionized schools. She believes in the individuality of the person, so she welcomes the opportunity to teach in smaller classrooms, such as found here. Ms. deVogel loves art because "... it is not like an academic course where you have to be serious and force the student to excel — an artist can relax and have fun!"

Music Program Up-Tempo

Music has always been emphasized at Country Day. The vocal and instrumental programs are well developed and long-standing favorites with the students. Under the tutelage of Mr. Oliphant, Mrs. Gower, and Mrs. Coleman, Country Day has gained recognition for its musical talents. One of the highlights of the program are the musicals. Not only are they entertaining and well done, but they feature both singers and instrumentalists. The score is performed by the band, while Mrs. Gower's students sing their hearts out! The other aspects of Country Day's musical tradition are the Pep Band, the Jazz Band, the orchestra, the chorus, and the elite vocal ensemble, Jackets and Jills. Middle and Upper school combined for February concerts, each faction contributing to a prestigious school production.

Country Day and Night

Mr. Brad Gilman, a member of the Upper School English Department, has this year accomplished what had been thought impossible: juggling no less than five jobs, yet never without a cheery smile. Among his responsibilities are Upper School Dean, Student Council Advisor, Varsity Men's and Women's Tennis Coach, as well as two English Classes. Although all of these responsibilities are extensive, Mr. Gilman will always find time to listen to students. For this very reason he can often be seen lending a comforting ear, or shoulder, to a sobbing student. His most endearing quality is his light-heartedness amidst the Country Day bustle. Sometimes not leaving until late evening, he is nevertheless back the next morning, smiling and ready to begin a new day. Balancing a hectic schedule, working late, but all done without complaint: Mr. Gilman truly lives the life of Country Day and night.

A Historian's View: Country Day 1914-1985

Mr. Don Corwin, head of the History Department is currently working on a book for private circulation amongst alumni, teachers, and interested students, entailing the history of Country Day from 1914 to 1985. He started working on the project in August of 1985, and hopes to have the book out by 1989, the 75 year anniversary of the school.

Mr. Corwin hopes to document the school through different campuses and head masters, while trying to pull in outside events for historical reference. Through his researching, Mr. Corwin said the most interesting fact he discovered was the large amount of building done on the 13 Mi. campus during the "Schlegel Era."

Mr. Corwin got his information from documents in the basement, photos, and interviews, the most valuable of which an interview with founding headmaster F. Alden Shaw. Corwin said: "Country Day has adapted to reality, but has held onto Shaw's values."

Overseas Programs Abound

The Country Day Language Department sponsors a myriad of activities, among them the foreign exchange program. The 1985-1986 school year saw Alan Rivera and Mark Wisnieski each spend the year abroad; Alan in Belgium and Mark in Sweden. Alexandra Rose experienced Bordeaux, France for one month during the summer of 1986. The school year 1986-1987 brought with it two exchange students from Sweden: Kajsa Ferding and Klara Jelinek. The overseas experience is one highly valuable as it brings an understanding of another culture. The Country Day Language Department would grant every student this opportunity if they could — one needs only to express an interest. The experience is not limited to students, however, as Joseph Hansen, M/S Language Chairman is vying for a Fullbright Scholarship. If obtained, he too will spend a year overseas.

Some people know exactly what they want very early. Betsy Moss's occupational aspirations began at Country Day when, as a student, she helped Mrs. Dodge with the younger children. Betsy knew she wanted more than anything else to be an educator, to "share in the camaraderie between teachers and students." Ms. Moss, a 1979 graduate, attended Country Day from seventh to twelfth grade before getting her bachelors from the University of Michigan. She is currently working for her masters at Oakland University. Despite the discouragement Ms. Moss received from professors, she went into education, fortunately for Country Day. Betsy Moss held onto the dream which began at, and has led her to, Country Day. She was a substitute teacher here for two years, and now teaches math and computer science in M/S.

Mrs. Johnson Takes Top Honors

In 1985 Mrs. Mary Johnson was nominated by the Detroit-region National Chemical Society for recognition as an outstanding teacher of chemistry. Mrs. Johnson was asked to submit information about herself, including club involvements, award winning students under her counsel, and classroom approach. As a result, she received the 1985 Regional Chemistry Teacher of the Year award along with eight other teachers in eight other regions of America. Her name was then placed in a pool of eligibility where it would remain for three years to compete for the National Conant Award. This award, in honor of John B. Conant, President of Harvard during the twenties, is presented to one teacher nationally who has demonstrated an exceptional teaching capacity in the area of chemistry. Mrs. Johnson is the 1987 recipient of the Conant Award, and Country Day is honored to be the home of a teacher of such outstanding merit.

Tough Tuffnell

Joanne Tuffnell, an addition to our secretarial staff, has changed the attendance policy for the stricter. The new policy is based on infractions and detentions. An infraction results in a detention, which consists of ninety minutes supervised study hall. Ten tardies also result in detentions. These new detentions have been the bane of students, some serving detentions for five or more consecutive days.

Mrs. Tuffnell devotes herself full time to recording tardies and any absences during the day. One major change in the attendance policy is the taking of attendance block by block, a policy which has resulted in a tidal wave of tardies. Mrs. Tuffnell's hope is to help students to become more punctual in later years. Mrs. Tuffnell has enjoyed getting to know some of the students, yet wryly observes that "I'm surprised I don't have a dent in my car!"

COUNTRY

LOWER SCHOOL

Country Day's Lower School encompasses Pre and Junior Kindergartens, Kindergarten, First, and Second grades. The challenging curriculum is designed not only to teach, but to nurture and develop younger Country Day students.

The Pre-K class centers around a reading and math readiness program. Junior K is for 4-year-old and young 5-year-olds, too old for preschool. Kindergarten lends a formal reading class and math focuses on logic and reasoning skills. First grade, a more difficult continuum of Kindergarten is permeated in all aspects by writing. Second graders are prepared to move on to the Junior School. French and ballet are special features. Mrs. Fisher, a 2nd grade teacher, best captures Lower School:
"To Teach is to touch a life forever!"

The Junior School

For the first time, Country Day has a fourth school, designed for third, fourth, and fifth graders. The Junior School, which is intended to bridge the gap between the second and sixth grades, is located on the Village Campus, and is in the capable hands of Mr. Joseph D'Angelo.

The curriculum is not changed, and continues to include excellent music and art programs among other subjects. By putting the third to fifth grade age groups together, more specialized attention can be given to the students in this transitional age group.

Specialists Meet Challenge

The specialists at the Lower and Junior Schools are of a special breed. The environment of Country Day places a great demand on time, a commodity found in short supply. Many of the Lower-Junior specialists have met the challenge of commuting between two campuses, while continuing the high quality of education expected by the school. Mrs. Burk, the reading specialist; Mrs. Collins, the music instructor; Mrs. Kotlyar, the beginning strings instructor; Mrs. Molnar, the French specialist; and Mrs. Nagle, the school nurse all must juggle the responsibility of two jobs at two schools — a difficult task. Yet they all feel enjoyment with their involvement. In the words of Mrs. Collins, "I'm glad to be at DCDS-both campuses I'm involved with are fine schools AND the children love music!"

Proud and Dedicated Friends!

The moment one enters Country Day, one cannot help but say "Hello" to the pride and dedication of those involved there. The school is united as students, young and old, stand together with the helpful encouragement of the faculty and administration. This dedication encompasses academics, athletics, and activities as well as extending socially to support among friends.

Warm relationships at Country Day exist between the students, faculty and administration. Each day, one is able to say "Hello" to reliable support from one's peers. Friendships remain strong and solid throughout the years at Country Day and far into the future.

LUNCH BUDDIES Christina Swartz and Zubin Amarsi share a smile over lunch.

NEVER "GOODBYE" Veronica Kalas and Ariane Kemper vow to keep their friendship strong while in college.

STRONG AND SOLID One of the many examples of strong and solid peer support and affection among Country Day's schools.

Devotion As Students

The students develop these relationships through their commitments to their classes, their sports teams and their clubs. They are dedicated students and athletes as well as encouraging friends. As a Country Day student, one greets many requirements. These requirements introduce the students to a sense of pride and self-achievement and encourage further involvement.

With the help of the faculty, students become dedicated to profit through their hard work and hours of endeavor. The academic programs provide a challenging learning environment where dedication and initiative flourish. This helps the students say "Hello" to competitive colleges and exciting opportunities in the future.

Parents, students, friends and alumni prove their dedication as fans at the Country Day activities. The sporting events and other activities are backed by strong fan support throughout the year. The alumni get a chance to say "Hello" to the faces of the past as the students and friends of the school can enjoy cheering on the various teams and being in one another's company.

BONJOUR Lower Schoolers expand their cultural horizons in an interesting French class.

“See You Again Soon”; Never GOODBYE!

One does not fear moving on to college as friends do not say “Goodbye” instead they say “See you again soon”. Graduation may physically cause students to move away, start a new part of their life and say “farewell” but they continue to revisit those who they cared for long after their diploma is received.

THROUGH RAIN, SLEET OR SNOW Kathy Williams shows her dedication as she cheers our team on despite the rain.

UP, UP AND AWAY Rob Conway’s enthusiasm soars through his support at one of Country Day’s many functions.

COMMUNITY

The community is an important part of Country Day. We, as a school community, are able to say "Hello" to opportunities in the world around us through senior projects, field trips, and volunteer work. These opportunities are opened to us because we are a part of the Country Day family located in the busy North-western suburban area of the city of Detroit. . .

What business does Fruehauf have in common with Leonardo?

FRUEHAUF
CORPORATION

Da Vinci was much more than an artist. His varied interests gave a reawakening world new perspectives in mathematics, optics, engineering, anatomy, geology, zoology and more.

While we're not about to claim the genius of the Ultimate Renaissance Man, we would like to point out that the expertise of Fruehauf, its divisions and subsidiaries is also quite diverse.

For example, we're the world's largest manufacturer of automobile wheels. We also make precision aircraft components. Our container handling devices load and unload ships. And, our east coast drydocks keep some of the largest oceangoing vessels in seaworthy trim.

In addition, Fruehauf produces special components for the defense industry, advanced composite materials for military and civilian markets, and turbine blades for aircraft engines and power generation turbines.

So, the next time you see the Fruehauf name on a truck trailer, just remember that it's also part of a lot of other products in your community that never see a highway.

WHAT OTHER GIFT LASTS FOREVER?

Born out of fire and ice more than a hundred million years ago, diamonds are the hardest substance known to man. Every diamond is rare, but a diamond this large is not only rare, it becomes even more precious with the passage of time.

Just think of the emotional and lasting value of giving a diamond this extraordinary to the woman you love.

The diamond solitaire. Show the world how much you cherish her with the one gift she'll cherish forever, and never forget.
